CARP FEBRUARY NEWSLETTER

Kicking Off the New Semester

“CARP members must be able to launch a whirlwind of activities on university campuses. Young, studious men and women, their passion filled with vitality, must explode to excavate deep valleys of love based on the values of heavenly law. By so doing, they will pave the way that can reach the world.”

Father Moon, the founder of CARP, shared these words in 1982. Now 41 years later, CARP is continuing to live up to these words, launching a whirlwind of activities as the new semester starts. Many chapters participated in their school's club fair, giving them a chance to introduce CARP to the broader student body. Many chapters have also started regular club meetings, CARP Talks, and other programs. Through all of their efforts, they are bringing hope to their schools and to our nation.

This month, our nation witnessed incredible revival taking place at Asbury University, in Wilmore, KY. Students, faculty, and guests joined in continuous, unbroken praise and worship for nearly two weeks straight. It was an incredible outpouring of God's spirit, with Gen Z students at the center of it all. And the experience transcended all denominations and faiths. We have hope that spiritual renewal is coming to the youth of our nation.

On February 23, several CARP chapters participated in the national Collegiate Day of Prayer, when God-loving people around the country prayed for our schools and our young people. “As the students go, so goes our nation.” CARP is committed to bringing the love of God and spirit of brotherhood that embraces all races, religions, and people, and to bringing the peace of heaven to earth. As young people stand up for God, we find hope for America, and for peace in our world!

Many CARP chapters around the country kicked off their semester by participating in their school's club fair. By tabling during club fair, CARP leaders are able to introduce their club to their fellow students and get more people involved in CARP activities. They were very successful this year! With the spring semester underway, many CARP chapters have begun their regular club meetings, often called "CARP Talks." CARP Talks are the bread and butter for CARP chapters, where they gather together as students and discuss a meaningful topic connected to CARP's Core Principles. Sometimes the format features a talk or testimony from a student, sometimes it focuses on a reading and discussion. Either way, CARP Talks are a great space for new students to connect to the CARP community, and to gain some insights that can help them lead a more meaningful life. Check out some highlights from chapters' CARP Talks in this semester so far:
