October 1, 2020

The 11 Days of Action is a social media campaign organized by the NGO Working Group on Girls (WGG). Starting on October 1 of each year, the campaign engages the international community in a global conversation on girls for 11 days and culminates with an event commemorating the UN International Day of the Girl on October 11. Each day of the campaign has its own theme and is sponsored by a different organization.

For the second year in a row, WFWPI will be leading the conversation for October 6 on the theme of education of girls and we invite you to engage in this conversation with us!

How You Can Get Involved In This Campaign:

Each day provides an opportunity for you to join a conversation on social media platforms over a new theme. All conversations will take place on the official WGG Day of the Girl social media platforms, which you can access here: Instagram, Twitter or Facebook.

To get specific instructions on how each day's conversation will take place, please click here.

For WFWPI's day, October 6, on education of girls, our main conversation will take place on the WGG Day of the Girl Twitter channel, from 11am - 12pm EST. Over the course of that hour, the moderator of the conversation will be posting a series of 7 questions that our office developed and submitted to them.
