With the upcoming Cranes Club Conference taking place in Madrid in two weeks, we look into what exactly the Cranes Club is and how members can get involved in its activities.

The Cranes Club originated when Rev. Hak Ja Han Moon brought together hundreds of professionals with a Unificationist background at the South Point Hotel, Las Vegas, on 20th December 2014. Her intention in founding the Cranes Club was to answer fundamental questions related to second-generation members in the movement: Where are all the second-generation who grew up in the movement? How are they doing? Do they realize the potential they have to bring about peace?

The Cranes Club vision statement: To create a space for professionals of Unificationist background to network and share their expertise to better serve their communities and the greater society.

A few months later after the founding of the Cranes Club, Rev. Hak Ja Han Moon gave a talk at the Cranes Club Kick-off in Europe where she said:

"I want you to help me. Please, develop your talents and expertise. Protect your purity. Grow up healthy and beautiful. Become the beautiful fruit of our Unification culture."

The main aims of the Cranes Club:

Network – Connecting Cranes Club members together, creating a space for local Unificationists to get connected and develop projects, through events and online platforms.

Mentor – Connecting mentors with mentees in need of professional guidance.

Support – To support grassroots initiatives – using our connections and resources to solve problems in our internal and wider community.

In addition to Europe, Cranes Club also has branches in the U.S, South Korea and Japan.

The Cranes Club invites like-minded professionals to network, learn and relax at the Cranes Club Europe Annual Conference 2019. The program will include speeches on life and career guidance, various breakout sessions, networking opportunities and entertainment.

Speakers for the 2019 Conference include Yves Champollion, founder of Wordfast, Miguel Calvis, Director at the Tongil Group and Geros Kunkel.

Time: Friday 3rd May – Sunday 5th May.

Where: Espacio Ronda, Ronda De Segovia 50, 28005 Madrid.

Price: Cranes Club members: €85

Standard fee: €100

The price covers the conference fee and meals.
