Keith Best - Congratulatory Remarks

Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon, co-founder of UPF, spoke at the United Nations in Vienna last Monday to commemorate the 70 years since the end of World War II. She was accompanied by the Little Angels in a conference that considered the divisions that remain, unresolved, on the Korean peninsula.

Dr. Sun Jin Moon's speech will seek to encourage the audience to make a difference to the society around them by applying the principles that are fundamental to the Unification Movement and that were repeatedly emphasised by Rev and Mrs. Moon, to put God first in our life and serve humanity while uniting mind and body/word and deed in the process.

She will emphasise that she does not feel qualified herself to be in this position but is only accepting her roles to bring comfort to her mother who has to face many challenges alone. She will ask, quoting her father, 'Who here has united mind and body perfectly?'. Then say, 'None of us, me included, can claim perfect mind and body unity. My mother has accompanied my father for 52 years in a schedule that everyone has found challenging and exhausting after only a few days. To maintain this while having 14 children is real mind body unity!'

Dr. Sun Jin Moon oversees a wide range of philanthropic, humanitarian, civil society and business initiatives. She is Chair of the Pacific Rim Education Foundation and the Seil Tour Company, and serves on the Board of Directors of The Washington Times Foundation and the Yongpyong Ski Resort in Pyongchang,
