

Looking for God

Hermine Schellen
January 11, 2015

Where would you say the best place is to find God? To get to know Him closely?

No doubt there are many places or ways to find God. To get to know a glimpse of Him, his Heart, His Benevolence. Or as the bible puts it "in all the things that He has made".

There are many more examples that could be named. And of course our True Parents are a living example of God's Heart. So what's the ultimate answer?

However, to get to know God most intimately, He is giving us a spouse.

The more we get to know our spouse's inner most heart, characteristic's, nature or talent, the more we can discover God's innermost heart and characteristic. As it says: "God created man and woman in His image and likeness." Hence God's incredible characteristics are embedded within our spouse's innermost being. The more harmoniously and intimately we can interact with our spouse, the more we can draw nearer to God, until we can actually feel His "Breath", His touch and feel total ones with God. Then His heart beat becomes our heart beat, for eternity.

Aju