There was also a film screening ("Karate Kid"), a written test, and a belt promotion.

In his opening statement, Master Seok Jun-ho declared that Tong-Il Moo-Do is not a martial art of repression or war but rather a martial art of self-control and peace. He added that it is a unique martial art that teaches highly complex techniques rather than lethal ones.

Participants expressed that Tong-Il Moo-Do is an excellent martial art practiced by people of various cultures and religions. They noted that it also facilitates the teaching of the Divine Principle and the revelation of the identity of the Heavenly Parent and True Parents. This seminar contributed to establishing a strong foundation for Tong-Il Moo-Do in Finland and Europe. Young participants committed to further training to create a true unity between their mind and body, to receive the Blessing in marriage, and to become true sons and daughters of God and True Parents.

Tong-Il Moo-Do is a martial art that was developed 40 years ago based on the philosophy and ideology (Unification Principle) of the Unification Church for the peaceful reunification of South and North Korea, the unification of all martial arts, the unity of mind and body, and the perfection of character.

The educational philosophy of Tong-Il Moo-Do is "Love for God (愛天), Love for Humanity (愛人), Love for the country (愛國)." Tong-Il Moo-Do promotes self-control by systematizing all movements and techniques from various martial arts, with circular movement as the subject and linear movement as the object. It is a martial art aligned with the vision of an ideal world of peace.
