

Summer HARP Workshop “Let’s be the hope, United, let’s build up roads”

Madrid, Spain, 5. - 16. July 2014

Seven days of the workshop were centered on teaching the Divine Principle, we had the opportunity to have Jesús Gonzalez as one of the main lecturers. Other lecturers that helped to give the content of the DP were Mario Magaz, Miguel Calvis and some youths. As sometimes happens for some people it was a bit difficult to attend the lectures or understand everything since many details have to be given and some of them historical in order to understand the divine principle, but in the end it was well received by the participants.

We had the chance to have a 1st gen couple helping us as "Workshop parents", Hector y Dulce from Barcelona, and also Chatiboot from Andorra was helping us for cooking and I think it's positive to receive help from more experienced people. As sometimes in the workshop the staff can be overwhelmed by all the responsibilities they have. Like taking care of everyone, organizing the activities and ensuring that everything goes smoothly. In the WS we also touched topics like prayer and purity. Team building activities were also part of the program, some of them were more in a competitive way and some of them were more internal.

Like usually, we did daily Hoon Dok Hae and sports activities. The motto of the workshop was "Let's be the Hope, United let's build up roads," giving a message about how young people are the ones who have to pick up the reins, and that we have plenty of potential to achieve that, but to be able to achieve that hope that we talk about, we need work and effort.

After the workshop, a 3 day fundraising condition was done voluntarily in Madrid, which started on the 16th and finished on the 18th 15 participants from the ws participated in this activity to financially support HARP activities.
