

CARP and FFWPU Nepal's 2-Day Transformative Divine Principle Seminar

Santosh Paudel
May 27, 2017

The joint venture of CARP, Pure Love and FFWPU Nepal has successfully organized 2-Day Transformative Divine Principle Seminar on May 26 and 27, 2017, in Birendra Bazar in Charnath Ganeshman Municipality of Dhanusha District, Nepal.

More than 60 participants from diverse sectors have joined including local politicians, academic leaders, teachers, social volunteers and students attended.

FFWPU Nepal president, Rev. Santosh Kumar Paudel and National Lecturer, Mr. Kashi Nath Khanal gave 8 presentations such as Principle of Creation, Fall of Man, Conflict Resolution, Culture of Service to recover from social vice and Founders' Life course.

Participants were encouraged to become volunteers to bring changes in society from their rigid culture. One of the social leader who handling many local organization said, "I want to organize this type of seminar all the communities of these district."

Some student's participants are preparing for 5 day Divine Principle seminar and Organized Pure Love lecture seminar in their schools.

This joint program are continuously mobilizing into different district of Nepal to educate young citizens and to become a public minded who can help in our advocacy to live as one global family eradicating boundaries from races, skin color and nationality and to create the bridge of love to one another.

