

Santo Amaro, Brazil Church's 1-Day Workshop for Children Aged 4 to 13 Years

Koichi Sasaki
January 22, 2018

This weekend, on January 22, 2018, Santo Amaro's church held a 1-day workshop for children aged 4 to 6, 7 to 10 and 11 to 13 years, with the motto: "My God is never wrong". There were 54 children excited to spend the day with their brothers and sisters.

Why we used this motto? In Brazil unfortunately the gender ideology movement is becoming big and big and at school the teachers are telling the children that they can be what they want, if you are a boy you can be a girl and if you are a girl you can be a boy. They are confusing the mind of the children to believe that God can fail and believe in a lie.

All the lectures were focused on showing God's ideal and what he had planned for us. We explained about how the gender ideology movement are planning to destroy a family, the family that God desired, by telling children that you weren't born a boy or girl, you can be what you want.

So, the Children learned to say no to the gender ideology movement because they are sons and daughters of God, they are precious, and they know that God is never wrong!

After all lectures, it was time for games. Now the kids were ready for competition and at the end we had a winning team. To celebrate the workshop, we had cake and each kid also wrote what they did during the day.

We thank all our lecturers, staffs and also the parents that believed in our team to do a good job!!! Say no to gender ideology! Our God is never wrong!

