What color are my clothes today?
They're yellow. Do you know why?

In Belvedere and East Garden,
the cold winter had past,

and there was a flower informing us about the arrival of spring.

It was a daffodil!

It came through the frozen Earth

and it bloom into the most beautiful shade of yellow.
I loved those flowers.

This is why before you elder members whom I cannot stop loving, I felt I should dress like this.

I was determined.

We have one objective.

To restore nations to God!

National restoration means that people should know who True Parents are.

Now we will move forward in unity,
as one organization

doing everything possible to establish a unified Heavenly Korea, which is under the direct dominion of our Heavenly Parent.

You should not miss this opportunity.
There is your final chance.

In this final moment, would all of you set aside your possessions, your ideologies, and personal thoughts and become pure,
like the snow, like pure gold,

and through True Parents, you will be able radiate light for eternity.

In these final moments, everyone's efforts count. Isn't that true?

To restore this country,
to restore it completely, please cast aside all things which are a hindrance.

Once again I would like to ask you to advance with all your strength towards the goal.
