There are times when I feel sleepy when I sit still. However, conscience does not allow young people to work and sleep comfortably alone. I can't do that. It's that I can never do that.

But when I'm too tired, I sometimes beg God for forgiveness and close my eyes for a while, but I don't sleep as I want.

No matter how tired you are, you don't just faint on the spot. If I achieve my desired goal and fall down, I will fall down, but I will not fall down before then.

I still live with that standard.

Therefore, experience or life in a good place is not absolute. Find a new one...We need to find a new one.

Older people may be tired, but if they are opposed to what is customary so far, God will join them. It is that God does it together. (30-145)
