International Summit Council for Peace (ISCP) Assembly

Date: Feb, 4-5, 2020 | Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Hall 5B | Hosted by: Universal Peace Federation

The International Summit Council for Peace (ISCP) is an international organization where current and former heads of state from across the world come together to address issues such as territorial disputes, religious and racial conflicts, climate change, violence and poverty, with the goal of contributing significantly to the interdependence and prosperity of nations.

The ISCP General Assembly is the first global assembly to be held since its inauguration in February 2019 during “World Summit 2019.” With 100 current and former heads of state from all around the world participating, this year’s general assembly aims to introduce the Asia-Pacific Union and discuss lasting peace on the Korean Peninsula as we enter the new era of the Pacific civilization.

The International Summit Council for Peace (ISCP) will thus contribute greatly to the improvement of living conditions and ultimately to lasting peace by solving the difficulties prevalent in the international community and guiding the consciousness of humanity in the right direction through excellent administrative theory based on the wisdom and experience of current and former heads of state.

International Association of Parliamentarians for Peace (IAPP) Assembly

Date: Feb, 4-5, 2020 | Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Hall 4 | Hosted by: Universal Peace Federation

The International Association of Parliamentarians for Peace (IAPP) was launched in February 2016 at the National Assembly of the Republic of Korea in the presence of 150 parliamentarians from 41 countries who gathered to discuss various challenges arising in the global community. Since then, some 6,000 current and former parliamentarians have joined in membership throughout 120 nations, with a view to taking an active role in their regions.

In February 2019 South Korea, the 2019 IAPP General Assembly took place under the theme of “Peace, Security and Human Development,” calling for the international community’s interest and active participation in the establishment of a peaceful regime on the Korean Peninsula—the momentum for which was created through the inter-Korean summit and the U.S.-North Korea summit. In particular, the assembly adopted the IAPP Declaration, which supports the North-South joint bid to host the 2032 Summer Olympics, the hosting of 2019 Peace Road event in Pyeongyang, North Korea, and the reunification of Korea under God’s dominion.

The upcoming IAPP General Assembly will spawn initiatives to realize peace in Northeast Asia by supporting the South Korean government towards a new century of peace and prosperity as well as the peaceful reunification of the Korean Peninsula through the establishment of a peace zone in the DMZ—a symbol of the division between the two Koreas.

Interreligious Association for Peace and Development (IAPD) Assembly

Date: Feb, 4–5, 2020 | Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Grand Ballroom
 Hosted by: Universal Peace Federation, Korea Religions Association

The Interreligious Association for Peace and Development (IAPD) was founded in 2017 in the presence of 500 religious leaders from 20 religious traditions across 70 nations. It seeks to inspire an interreligious peace movement toward the ideal of “one human family under God.” To this end, IAPD will propose initiatives by which religious people can pursue the mutual well-being of mankind and advocate universal religious principles that emphasize the common ground of the great religious faiths.

During the 2019 IAPD General Assembly, religious people from many nations marked the 100th anniversary of the March 1st Independence Movement in Korea, which was a peaceful uprising against Japanese rule. There was also discussion of how peace and unification on the Korean Peninsula might be achieved. The assembled religious leaders acknowledged that peace on the Korean Peninsula would be a stepping stone to the realization of world peace.

The general assembly will adopt “The Interreligious Association’s Declaration of Peace,” by which a thousand religious leaders will seek to establish an interreligious and interdenominational religious peace movement, express their hope for 100 years of prosperity for the Republic of Korea and support the coming of peace on the Korean Peninsula that spreads throughout the world.

Session 1: International Conference on the Unity of the Sciences (ICUS) and Unification Thought Institute (UTI) Conference

Date: Feb, 4–5, 2020
Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Room 301
Hosted by: Hyojeong Academy Foundation,
HyoJeong International Conference on the Unity of the Sciences (ICUS),
Unification Thought Institute (UTI)

HyoJeong International Conference on the Unity of the Sciences (ICUS) was founded for the purpose of exchanging knowledge, providing a forum for the harmonizing of scientific disciplines, and identifying God-centered absolute values. It has provided a forum for academic discussions to address the most difficult problems facing humankind. Since the first conference was held in November 1972 under the theme of “Moral Orientation of the Sciences,” ICUS was held 22 times in Korea, Japan, the United States and Britain until the year 2000. In recent years, the conference has been revived and has discussed the protection of the global environment and how to reverse damage to the natural world for the sake of future generations.

The Unification Thought Institute is an academic institution that studies Rev. Sun Myung Moon’s Unification Thought in depth. Since its establishment on August 7, 1972, it has been studying alternatives to settle the confusion in modern society through the perspective of Unification Thought. In addition, it is engaged in various activities such as compiling academic journals and holding academic conferences to achieve the unification of academic values among academic institutions.

Under the theme of “Self-examination and Vision for the Unification of Sciences,” the upcoming Hyojeong International Conference on the Unity of the Sciences and the Unification Thought Institute Conference will have Nobel laureates and other scholars present their research papers. In particular, meaningful research will be presented for the sake of the “integration of scientific knowledge.” These will address the importance and role of the International Peace Highway and the Korea-Japan Undersea Tunnel, and present research on science and spirituality, and on torsion field theory.

Session 2: CAUSA and Professors World Peace Academy (PWPA) Conference

Date: Feb, 4–5, 2020
Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Room 304
Hosted by: Hyojeong Academy Foundation,
The Professors World Peace Academy

The Confederation of the Associations for the Unification of the Societies of the Americas (CAUSA) was established in 1980, with the support of former heads of state, in order to realize world peace through the unification and cooperation of North and South America. In the face of the deepening communist infiltration of South America, South American leaders, religious figures and politicians studied Unification Thought in order to publicize the danger of communism and urge the awakening of politicians in the United States. As a result, CAUSA played a role in stopping the spread of communism in South America.

Since its inauguration in 1973, the Professors World Peace Academy (PWPA) has held various academic conferences and congresses to bring together scholars and professors from all over the world to take a leading role in realizing world peace.

Under the theme of “Vision of World Peace” CAUSA and PWPA will present 10 papers during their two-day conference, including the significance of Rev. Moon’s declaration of the end of communism from a sociological standpoint, Rev. Moon’s contribution to the end of the Cold War, the vision of world peace and the role of national security, and the vision of world peace from economic, political and social perspectives.

Session 3: God Conference

Date: Feb, 4-5, 2020
Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Room 305
Hosted by: Hyojeong Academic Foundation

The God Conference provides a forum for representatives of each religion, top theologians and religious scholars to discuss the universality of the religions. Conflict and discord among the various religions and intolerance toward believers of other faiths was never the will of our absolute God. Therefore, the God Conference has tried to communicate in both theory and practice that the will of God lies in the practice of love.

Various papers, such as “God and the World of Peace” and “A New Understanding of God,” have been used in seminary education courses, thus promoting religious unity and bolstering the interreligious peace movement.

Under the theme of “Discussing God and God as the Parent of Humanity,” this time the God Conference brings together eight papers on the theme of God being the parent of humankind. These include perspectives on the Hindu understanding of God, the concept of God in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, and the social responsibility of religion.

Session 4: World Peace University Presidents’ Congress (WUPC)

Date: Feb, 4-5, 2020
Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Room 307

1st God & Science Conference

Date: Feb, 1–3, 2020
Venue: Mayfield Hotel
Hosted by: Hyo Jeong International Foundation for the Unity of the Sciences (HJIFUS)

Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon believes that to solve problems on the global level, God-centered absolute values based on religion, science and the unification of ideas should establish themselves in the academic world and in the awareness of all people. Hence the inception of the God & Science Conference.

Since the time of industrialization and the development of scientific technology, the limitations of science have begun to reveal themselves through environmental pollution, climate change, food shortages, and reckless resource depletion. To overcome this, we must gain a new understanding, from God’s point of view, of the resources we depend on our environment to provide. It is also necessary to re-center scientific history on God and present a new environmental values system.

To explore solutions to environmental issues mentioned above centering on God, scientists in areas related to the environment will convene for the First God & Science Conference. The theme for this conference is “Finding New Ways to Resolve Environmental Problems” upon which six environmental experts from Korea and abroad will present their research theses on topics including, “A Changing Path within the History of the Sciences,” “Diverse Scientific Approaches to Restore the Environment,” and “The Application of Advanced Science in the Solution of Environmental Issues.”

The Segye Times in Korea, The Washington Times in the United States, and Sekkai Nippo in Japan were founded for the sake of the recovery of a moral world, the expansion of the system of free democracy, and the realization of world peace. During recent decades, through various conferences such as the World Media Conference, and conferences for peace on the Korean Peninsula, they have sought to promote sound values and promote the role of moral media for the sake of freedom and human rights.

Ever since the First World Media Conference in 1978, conferences have been held regularly until today to discuss the responsibility and role of our media and to establish truthful media coverage. In particular, the World Media Conference held in Moscow, Soviet Union in 1990 contributed to easing the international Cold War. The dramatic private meeting between Dr. Sun Myung Moon and President Mikhail Gorbachev arguably opened a new chapter in Korea-Soviet relations.

This year's International Media Conference will discuss topics on "The Role and Mission of Media for Peace on the Korean Peninsula," "Media Innovation and the Task at Hand," and "The Role of World Media in Building a Peaceful World of Interdependence, Mutual Prosperity, and Universal Values." The conference will also initiate a cooperative network for peace on the Korean peninsula. On the last day of the conference, there will be the adoption of the "Resolution of the Media to Support the Peaceful Reunification and Prosperity of the Korean Peninsula" along with the inauguration of the International Media Association for Peace (IMAP).

The International Association of Youth and Students for Peace was founded in 2017 to fulfill Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon's vision to raise the next generation of global leaders who would build a world of peace. In over a hundred countries around the world youth and students are actively taking part in key activities presented by the UN under its Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) such as relief and service projects, youth pure love movements, family restoration movements, and character education.

The assembly of the International Association of Youth and Students for Peace commemorates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon. More than five thousand young people from all over the world will reignite the fire to achieve genuine peace and a longing for a peaceful reunification on the Korean peninsula under the theme, "The Role of Young People in Creating a World of Interdependence, Mutual Prosperity, and Universal Values."

The main program will include guest speakers who are specialists in youth movements, the "Vision Declaration" of our youth and students' aspirations and hopes, and the Sunhak Global Scholarship Award Ceremony. Participants will notably adopt the "Resolution of Heavenly Youth Advancing to the Next Millennium Based on a 100-Year Legacy" which agrees with the vision Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon have proposed for the realization of lasting peace.

And God Shall Wipe Away All Tears From Their Eyes Mother of Peace

It is my hope that, by bringing down the walls between races, religions and nations, we will create a world in which poverty, starvation, conflict and pain are no more.

Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon leads an interreligious and international movement for peace. This calling has drawn her to love every corner of the world. From childhood, she had a heartfelt yearning to realize this dream of God. That path led to her Holy Wedding with Rev. Sun Myung Moon. Called by God, they hosted history-making revivals and conferences across Asia, Europe, the Americas and Africa. She then took the stage on her own as a woman leader teaching of the family and peace at thousands of venues. More powerful than the greatest movie, her life has been a noble and touching drama of a village girl called to serve God's purposes as the Mother of Peace, shedding blood, sweat and tears for her 7.7 billion children. Her story is one of love and devotion, of a woman who has sacrificed her life amid adversity and hardship for the redemption of humankind.

The Inauguration of Mother Foundation was linked with the publication of a memoir by Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon. Having lived as the “Mother of Peace,” “Mother of Love,” and the “Mother of Blessings,” Dr. Moon is devoted to creating a peaceful world in which all people live as one family irrespective of religious, racial or national differences.

Dr. Moon's autobiography, Mother of Peace, is the story of her life, together with that of her husband, Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon, dedicated to the cause of world peace. The autobiography covers the time from when Hak Ja Han was a young child and embraced the desire to realize Heavenly Parent's dream, to her first encounter and subsequent Holy Wedding with Sun Myung Moon, to the thousands of projects and events across Asia, Europe, the Americas and Africa, and the many speaking tours to explain the core of the Principle to the world's people.

The foundation will continuously sponsor Dr. Moon's peace work in the fields of religion, politics, economics, culture, education and the arts. It will support the work for peace that strives to realize the ideal of “one human family under Heavenly Parent” that her husband and she have advocated. Through activities designed to develop interdependence, mutual prosperity, and universal values, its ultimate goal is to instill the principles for true happiness in all humankind.

WCLC was inaugurated on December 28, 2019 at the Prudential Center in New Jersey, USA with over 30,000 people in attendance. The American Clergy Leadership Conference (ACLC) and the Korean Clergy Leadership Conference (KCLC) played central roles in organizing the event. WCLC was founded based on Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon's vision that "Christian leaders must take the lead in realizing the ideal of one human family under God."

The WCLC Assembly, which commemorates Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon's Centenary, will feature presentations by globally prominent Christian theologians and leaders. The thirteen founding representatives, elected during last year's Inauguration of WCLC, will become the pillars of the organization and they will make time to discuss the direction WCLC is to take. Furthermore, the Interreligious Association for Peace and Development (IAPD) will join WCLC for a harmonious grand finale.

WCLC will transcend denominations and doctrine, and foster cooperation based solely on love and faith so that the ideal of "one human family under the Heavenly Parent" can be achieved in all corners of the globe based on freedom, faith, harmony, and prosperity.

2020 Sunhak Peace Prize Award Ceremony

4th Sunhak Peace Prize

Date: Feb, 5, 2020
Venue: Ilsan KINTEX Exhibition 1 Hall 4
Organized by: Sunhak Peace Prize Foundation

Throughout their lives, Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon have inspired an interracial, interreligious and transnational movement to realize a “peaceful world of interdependence, mutual prosperity, and universally shared values.” The Sunhak Peace Prize was founded to pass on Dr. and Mrs. Moon’s vision to future generations so that they can build upon it and serve humankind through their own work.

The Sunhak Peace Prize values respect for human rights, conflict resolution, and environmental preservation. It awards individuals or groups that have greatly contributed to awakening respect and love for humankind, inspires hope of loving harmony to heal all areas of conflict where peace has been destroyed, and hope for a world in which humankind and the ecosystem beautifully coexist.

The laureates of the Fourth Sunhak Peace Prize are Senegalese President Macky Sall and former chairman of the Lutheran World Federation Bishop Dr. Munib A. Younan.

President Macky Sall is widely recognized for reducing his own presidential term as a model for Africa, where long-term incumbency is more usual. He is also recognized for influencing neighboring nations toward maturing their democracy after initiating an economic revival through transparent policy making.

Bishop Dr. Munib Younan was a refugee from Palestine. In 1976 he was ordained as a pastor in the Lutheran Church and for more than forty years he has promoted harmony in the Middle East among Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. He is highly regarded, especially for his contribution as a leader in peaceful resolution in the Israel-Palestine conflict.

A special addition to this year’s award ceremony is the Founders’ Award. Ban Ki-moon is the chair of the National Climate Change Association and former Secretary-General of the United Nations. He has been selected for his contributions during his term as UN secretary-general, devotedly leading the UN toward a more sustainable human world by addressing economic, climate change, terrorism, and refugee issues among others.

More than 30,000 brides and grooms will gather from around the world for this spectacular festival to vow to build joyous families, healthy societies, and a world of freedom, peace, unity and happiness.

Universal Peace Federation

Founders Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon

Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon have devoted their entire lives to giving true love for others by going to the most difficult places on earth to help create a global village of peace and happiness. They have presented solutions to difficult issues stained with our international community's agony and tears—war, terrorism, hunger, poverty, climate change, and environmental problems. They have carried out a movement for peace under the motto “Interdependence, Mutual Prosperity, and Universal Values” which transcends individual nations, religions and worldviews. In a world full of conflict and war, their long-term solution has always been to build bridges across religious, racial and national boundaries.

During the 1950s and 1960s, with the misery of the Korean War barely behind him, Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon foresaw an opportunity and dispatched young students to four hundred locations around Korea. These students influenced the enlightenment of farmers, and began campaigns for poverty eradication and farming modernization which later spurred the start of the Saemaul [New Village] Movement, a movement that accelerated Korea's development. In the 1970s, South Korea's people were poor and their living standards low. Rev. Moon thought about how to bring more wealth to his country and founded the Tongil Heavy Industries, ultimately bringing advanced precision machinery technology from Germany. Tongil Heavy Industries' excellent technical skills were key to the development of Korea's engineering industries including the auto industry and the military industry. The company played a crucial role in Korea's industrialization.

Dr. Moon felt from early on that peace on the Korean Peninsula would lead to peace in the world. He therefore founded the International Federation for Victory Over Communism (IFVOC) and the Citizens' Federation for the Unification of North and South Korea to develop victory-over-communism activities nationwide. The “Victory over Communism” movement influenced the fall of communism and Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev's visits to Korea during the early 1990s. In early December 1991, Dr. Moon had a private meeting with North Korean leader Kim Il Sung. The gates to peace on the peninsula were opened through their discussions of possible summit meetings between North and South Korean leaders, North-South economic cooperation, reunions of divided families, and a denuclearization agreement on the Korean peninsula. Later that month, the governments of North Korea and South Korea adopted the Inter-Korean Basic Agreement and the Joint Declaration of the Denuclearization on the Korean Peninsula.

When the entire world reeled in shock from the 9.11 terrorist attacks in the United States, Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon feared that a religious war might result. He asked religious leaders from Judaism, Christianity, and Islam to gather for a march for peace in the significant city of Jerusalem. On this day, twenty thousand religious leaders and followers joined together across religious and denominational divides to end religious animosity and old conflicts. They sought to revive the brotherhood of faiths that had been affected by 9.11, to create an environment of reconciliation through harmony and unity for the sake of peace in the Middle East. Even today, members of the American Clergy Leadership Conference are continuing the interreligious peace movement in the name of God wherever war or terrorism is found.

The hopes and dreams of the peace-loving Dr. and Mrs. Moon have never changed to this day. Their hope is to build a peaceful world empty of pain, conflict, and hostility, in which all people live in happiness as one family. Moreover, this will and philosophy is being passed down through the Universal Peace Federation (UPF). Every year current and former government and religious leaders and specialists in every field engage in dialogue in search of a solution to the world's most pressing problems. They seek for a path to everlasting peace through emphasizing methods such as restoring spiritual values, realization of moral principles, manifestation of responsible leadership, and the importance of good governance.

Today, our search for a path toward peace continues. UPF is connected with far-sighted projects including the International Peace Highway and Peace Road Project, and the construction of a Korea-Japan Undersea Tunnel and a bridge or tunnel across the Bering Strait. These would symbolically connect the world as one. There is also a proposal for a Fifth UN Office to be built in Korea and for a Global Peace Park to be built in the Demilitarized Zone, for the sake of peace on the Korean peninsula, a proposal for the “establishment of an interfaith council at the UN,” and the developing World Summit and the International Association of Parliamentarians for Peace assemblies. In alignment with Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon's hopes, UPF not only engages in dialogue and discussion for the realization of a global village of peace, but also initiates specific action.

In commemoration of the centenary of Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon, who lived as a peace-loving global citizen, UPF will host World Summit 2020. Over five thousand leaders and specialists from every field will gather in the Republic of Korea from around the world to shed a new light on the achievements and peace vision of Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon and Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon who have dedicated their lives for the sake of world peace. We hope to discuss, seek, and build solidarity on the topic of “Realizing the Unification of the Korean Peninsula and World Peace through Interdependence, Mutual Prosperity, and Universally Shared Values.”
