

God's Hope for America Bus Tour - Martinsburg WV Holy Ground

Michael Balcomb

July 12, 2014

Rested, we made our way to Monroe Park in Richmond Virginia for the Holy Ground event. We were greeted by local Unificationists, their guests and a handful of curious Christians prepared to witness to us. Several of us were approached by these friendly few, and found ourselves in deep dialogue with them as everyone else gathered at the Holy Ground location and began to pray.

We learned this Richmond Holy Ground is used by a group of local Christians as their witnessing ground. Clearly they felt this spot was theirs. We didn't feel unwelcome, but it did feel like we were seen as visitors on this precious ground that Father Moon sanctified before their efforts were even conceived.

We had admit our efforts were obviously not anything to speak of if we could only be seen as visitors to Holy Ground that we should have made our efforts of outreach on.

It was within this environment that the group of 50 Unificationists said our prayers and completed our Holy Ground event and then shared our dinner with these unexpected self acclaimed hosts and prayed for each other. It is encouraging to know that we found in our dialogue more in common than not.

There was a great write up in the Martinsburg Journal by John McVey.