

Searching for volunteer Witnessing and Education Coordinators in each District

Michael Balcomb

April 28, 2017

Based on direction from True Mother, the National Witnessing and Education Department worked with the District Pastors to find excited and capable people to fill the new volunteer Witnessing and Education Coordinator roles in each District. True Mother's primary concern has been encouraging Tribal Messiahship. The Witnessing and Education Coordinators have the opportunity to help foster the Tribal Messiah culture in their communities by managing communications, aiding witnessing opportunities, supporting Tribal Messiahs, and developing their own Tribal Messiahship in the process.

So far nine districts have had volunteers step up to take on this role. Over the past three months, these volunteers have worked to build consistent communication channels and develop a more unified understanding of Witnessing and Education efforts across North America.

The main project of the past three months has been the National Survey. The Witnessing and Education coordinators took on the responsibility of helping design the survey and encouraged their communities to fill it out. With over 300 entries, the survey has provided valuable data that is already helping to inform our District and National focus.

If your District still has an opening and you feel called to step up for this position, please get in touch with your local pastor. Here are the current District Witnessing and Education Coordinators:
