Finally an open conversation about several issues that are going on. I am blessed and committed to have a very honest relationship with my wife but we have recently been talking to couples About intimacy and sex. People struggle with it and there is hardly any real conversation so I'm really happy about this program. Also we are very diverse group: 1st gen/2nd gen, blessed single that is a very good base for the future Thanks a lot for your courage.

Thanks a lot for coming and taking care of our community. For bringing new hope and life to us. I am amazed by your spirit, honesty and by your love, effort and investment you have for blessed families. This is down to earth and practical way of helping blessed families. That's why I like it.

I was at GTGY in 2017 so when I heard about this event I immediately knew I will come. Trying to put it in words it's an amazing thing to talk about sexuality in such a setting centered on our beliefs. As a young person I am super interested in this whole topic concerning sexuality naturally. But this need is not addressed in a healthy way, because the people you here talking about sex are the wrong ones. I hope people that follow our values don't say so much but the desire to discuss these matters don't disappear. High Noon is the link that was missing. You create an environment where we can talk about heal thy sexuality. It feels liberating.

I'm really grateful for this event. I've never spoken with my parents about sex. I also didn't really know how to build up an open conversation with my own children about it. Our common participation is a base now to approach this topic more naturally. Thank you again for this. This will also help to develop a relationship with my husband which is more healthy natural honest. I also under estimated the damage porn can make, thank you for your honest brave testimonies. Thanks for the Wolfenberger's beautiful example as a couple. My realization is I hope for open conversations. I am grateful for True parents teaching. I am really sorry for not realizing it and not understanding it deeply before.

Initially I was reluctant in participating in the seminar because I am not watching porn or masturbating. In the end it was such a great decision to come. Having children still in a very young age 8 and six who soon will be in this age where they will be exposed to porn and hyper sexuality. I could take home some great advice on how to educate or better prepare them for what will come. Thank you for your sincerity and openness! It is so good to see that finally there are people in our community who care about this. High Noon is in a sense a sexual revolution in a heavenly way! God bless you and your work!

I appreciated a lot the honesty with which the testimonies were given. Also the lectures from Andrew Love were very interesting because of some facts and numbers he described as well as the resources he gave. Even though the program was very compact and intense I didn't want to miss even one thing that was said. Thank you for your testimonies and your initiative

I am really grateful that I could come today because I've never been to a workshop that we talked about pornography and masturbation this much. Also my parents never gave me the talk so it was really interesting and nice to hear people speaking about it and to be more specific. I have been really confused about this topic so today I have really learned a lot and also how to get help if you're struggling.

I could learn how important it is to have a healthy view towards sexuality and not be ashamed by it and that is so important to have more understanding for each other. And to learn how to help others who are still struggling with porn or masturbation or any other struggle connected to sexuality.

I found this workshop very inspiring, and also useful. I appreciate the fact that these are very practical things we can apply to our lives and not even just with sex related issues. I've taken away practical steps to change various habits in my life as well as ways in which to support others with anything they're dealing with. I could change my perspective of sex as well. Instead of it being a shameful awkward subject I could see it as a beautiful holy thing. I could really see so much value in it and how I look forward to an amazing future with my spouse. Actually these talks and sharing's gave me so much hope for my future but also for every BC I know. Because of this workshop I could make new determination to become the person I want to become for my future family.

Talking about the blessing and purity made me have a new point of view about it. I see it more amazing. I also could have a clear vision of who I want to become and what I have to do personally. I wanted to do everything by myself but it wasn't really helpful. And now I realized the importance of sharing and reporting to someone. The subjects we talked about were very interesting and important. I have a better understanding of why I need to keep my purity and why it is so important. Many people don't know those reasons and that's why they took this topic not seriously enough. Also now I'm determined to live a life without shadows, with no secrets or lies. I've heard good things about High Noon and I could agree. I'll just explain that HighNoon explains perfectly why purity is so important, how they care about this and how many of my questions were answered. I appreciate your honesty. You really live without shadows. I can feel more comfortable and understood.
