Important Notice: NO PHISHING
A number of members report having received a suspicious-looking email this week, allegedly from our National Directors, asking for "discreet help" with a "confidential matter."
Warning: This email is not genuine. It is a Phishing Scam and extreme caution is necessary.

Some members may have even taken the next step suggested in the email which is to reply, or by clicking on a provided link to see what kind of "help" is being requested. They then find themselves being asked to purchase an Amazon Gift card. This then requires them to enter bank and other personal details – all of which could be used for fraud and theft.

If you have received such a message, please could you let us know by forwarding it to operations@ffwpu.org.uk. If you took any action that involved parting with your personal details, you should notify your bank and the police.

To reiterate, neither our National Directors nor anyone else in FFWPU will ever ask you for help in this way. This is a variation on a Phishing scam commonly targeting organizations. There are many others in circulation at the moment, including text messages allegedly from the Post Office or another delivery service requiring a modest payment of £2 to release a package. There is no package, and what they want is not the £2 but access to your financial details. Other approaches use phone calls designed to scare you into parting with personal information.

Interfaith Prayer for Peace

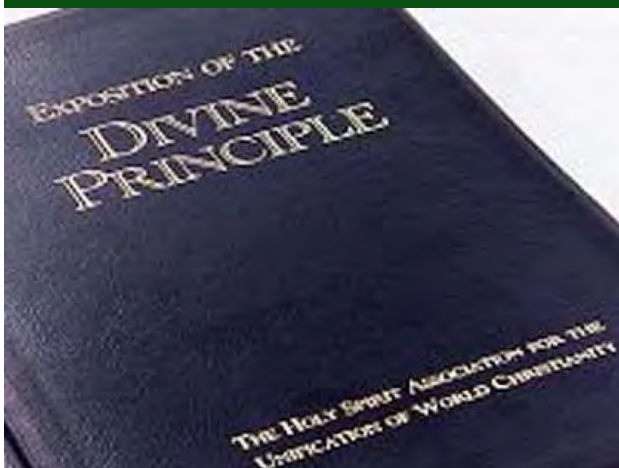

This evening at 7pm, we wholeheartedly invite you to take part in a special online prayer for peace. Our simple program, jointly held by FFWPU and UPF, will include prayers interspersed with readings from holy books, along with moments for personal prayer and reflection.
