

FFWPU UK: Nominations For The Grace Miller Award 2022 Are Now Open

Michael Balcomb
May 10, 2022

The nominations are now open for the Grace Miller Award 2022 in order to recognise the young people in our community who live exemplary lives of faith.

The Grace Miller Award celebrates an exceptional young member of the FFWPU community for their hard work and accomplishments in their community over the previous year.

- Nominees should be aged between 16-25
- Nominees should have demonstrated an exemplary life of faith
- Nominees should have made an impact in their local FFWPU community or in their neighbourhood (e.g. at school/university)

The Background:

At the age of 56, Grace Miller joined the Unification Movement and dedicated the rest of her years towards living a life with God and for the sake of others. She is remembered most for her motherly heart and her appreciation for 2nd Generation members.

In 2001, Grace's son - Tim Miller - created the 'Grace Miller Award' as a way of giving recognition to young Unificationists and Blessed Children, and to honour Grace's memory.

Do you know an exceptional young member deserving of this year's award? Nominate them using the form below for all their hard work over the period since June 2019. Or simply, click here.
