

Our local London couples in Korea

We want to say a big congratulations to all our local London and UK couples who took part in the cosmic marriage blessing ceremony in Korea yesterday.

This is an amazing sight when we consider the decline of marriage in our country. Children today have a 50/50 chance of their parents still being together when they are 15, and I can't find the Times article right now, but I believe it also said that 10% of children are born into families where their parents are already living at separate addresses.

i pray for each and every couple that their life together can blossom, and that they can nurture their marriage through every season of their life together.

Here are some pictures of their special moments that they shared with many other young couples:

Holy Water ceremony

A serious moment being recorded

Blessing vows being read out by Mrs. Hak Ja Han Moon, True mother.

A wave to all the couples

Celebrating together

Time for confetti

Intimacy in a crowd
