

CARP USA: Students need your help to thrive - Donate on Giving Tuesday

Jinil Fleischman
November 23, 2020

Support CARP this GIVINGTUESDAY

This year has been particularly challenging for our students and chapters. Even in the face of multiple lockdowns and online classes, our students never gave up on CARP's mission and have continued with CARP activities to stand for principled lifestyles and leadership on their virtual campuses.

Just this month, Reimi (pictured) and the CARP Bay Area team hosted a Peace Starts with Me event online with two guest speakers to share about how to create peace through good communication, relationships, and families. They had over 50 participants attend this event.

Following CARP founder Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon's example, Reimi and the team are standing up to the division and conflict we face in our society. It is because of their determination and bravery that students from their campuses can have constructive conversations that matter.

"It's amazing to hear how during a time of crisis and division Mother Moon's Rally of Hope could bring people of different backgrounds together to speak about peace. Following her footsteps, CARP brought together local change makers. We talked about healing division in our own lives and understanding the incredible influence each person has on their community. It opened my eyes to our interconnectedness and the potential to help others in our every day." - Reimi

It's not easy to stand for the principled perspective on college campuses, especially today. But, with a little bit of training and encouragement, and with your help, more students like Reimi will be equipped to transform the culture on college campuses.

Would you help student leaders like Reimi by donating to CARP?

DONATE HERE

Learn more about CARP on our website: [\[carplife.org\]](http://carplife.org)

Empower Students to Lead on Campus

Donate

Help Students THRIVE on Campus...

Students are navigating in uncertain and divisive times. They are trying to grow where there is confusion and misunderstanding on all sides. But, in CARP and the communities created in CARP chapters, they find the clarity they need. Mia, a CARP leader, found her voice and the passion to lead through CARP and the principles we stand for, like “Live for the Sake of Others.”

Your donation sponsors CARP chapter support to empower students to BE BOLD, in an often "gray," relativistic world. Your donations provide tools and trainings to help students to articulate their principles in life, like Mia did, so they can make a positive impact any place they go: at school, at home, with their families, at work, etc. Your investment in young people is an investment in the future.

Help students become principled leaders on college campuses. Make a difference to students by donating today.

Donate

We cannot receive donations from residents of Florida or District of Columbia due to charitable solicitation registration requirements. We apologize for any inconvenience.

Donate to
National Collegiate Association for the Research of Principles

$ 0.00
USD

Make this a monthly donation

Donate with PayPal

Donate with a Debit or Credit Card

Cancel and return to National Collegiate Association for the Research of Principles

We'll use cookies to improve and customize your experience if you continue to browse. Is it OK if we also use cookies to show you personalized ads? Learn more and manage your cookies

Yes, Accept Cookies