

The Logic of North Korea's Leaders' Personal Survival - Tuesday, Mar 21, 2023

Larry Moffitt
March 20, 2023

North Korea: Logic of Survival

Tuesday, March 21, 2 – 3 PM EST (New York Time)

North Korea is often described as an “irrational”, even a “mad” place. It is not true. Actually, its leaders are great masters of survival, they have survived against all odds.

In order to see why North Korean policy is logical, we have to keep in mind the decision-makers’ goals. And this goal has nothing to do with economic growth. The main strategic goal of late Kim Jong Il was simple: he wanted to die a natural death while still in power. He succeeded in 2011. The main strategic goal of Kim Jong Un is the same: to live to a ripe old age, and die a natural death while still in power. This is not an easy goal but so far he has been successful.

PROF. ANDREI LANKOV
Kookmin University,
Seoul, Korea

BRADLEY BABSON
Former World Bank
official

GERARD WILLIS
President and CEO of
HJ Magnolia U.S.
Holdings

Sponsored by the International Association for Peace and Economic Development of Universal Peace Federation

LIVE STREAM US.UPE.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration @UPEUSA @UPEUSA

North Korea: the Logic of Survival Webinar Tuesday, March 21, 2023 from 2 to 3 PM EST

North Korea is often described as an “irrational,” even a “mad” place. It is not true. Actually, its leaders are great masters of survival. They have survived against all odds. In order to see why North Korean policy is logical, we have to keep in mind the decision-makers’ goals. And this goal has nothing to do with economic growth. The main strategic goal of the late Kim Jong-il was simple: he wanted to die a natural death while still in power. He succeeded in 2011. The main goal of Kim Jong-un is the same: to live to a ripe old age, and die a natural death while still in power. This is not an easy thing to do, but so far he has been successful. Join Professor Andrei Lankov of Kookmin University in Seoul, Korea; Bradley Babson, a former official of the World Bank and Gerard Willis, President and CEO of HJ Magnolia U.S. Holdings in a discussion moderated by Roger Wetherall, U.S. Coordinator of UPF's International Association for Peace and Economic Development.

Register here to attend: us-upf-org.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZApC0-spj4uE9S4pTRWvvt9hmS3QWhH-trv

Tuesday, March 21, 2023 from 2 to 3 PM EST

See flier attached

North Korea: Logic of Survival

Tuesday, March 21, 2 – 3 PM EST (New York Time)

North Korea is often described as an “irrational”, even a “mad” place. It is not true. Actually, its leaders are great masters of survival, they have survived against all odds.

In order to see why North Korean policy is logical, we have to keep in mind the decision-makers’ goals. And this goal has nothing to do with economic growth. The main strategic goal of late Kim Jong Il was simple: he wanted to die a natural death while still in power. He succeeded in 2011. The main strategic goal of Kim Jong Un is the same: to live to a ripe old age, and die a natural death while still in power. This is not an easy goal but so far he has been successful.

PROF.
ANDREI LANKOV
Kookmin University,
Seoul, Korea

BRADLEY BABSON
Retired World Bank
official

GERARD WILLIS
President and CEO of
HJ Magnolia US
Holdings

Sponsored by the International Association for Peace and Economic Development of Universal Peace Federation

LIVE STREAM

US.UPF.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration

@UPFUSA

@UPFUSA