PRESENTS

THE WASHINGTON BRIEF

Is Kim Jong Un Preparing for War?

GUEST PANELIST
Mr. Robert Manning
Distinguished Fellow, Stimson Center Reimagining Grand Strategy program and Global Foresight Hub

Ambassador Joseph DeTrani
Security Issues commentator, former Special Envoy for negotiations with North Korea

Dr. Alexandre Mansourov
Professor, Center for Security Studies, Georgetown University

Dr. Michael Jenkins
President, The Washington Times Foundation

We've all grown used to bluster and graphic threat talk in Korean Peninsula geopolitics. But a decision to go to war is strategic, with careful planning behind closed doors. Analysts have always assumed the DPRK's Kim Jong-un would never pull the trigger on an all-out war because he knows his country would not survive. But what if North Korea's and the U.S.-Korea-Japan alliance's perceptions of reality are completely different? What if our assumptions about how Kim Jong-un thinks, are wrong?

Join guest panelist Mr. Robert Manning, Distinguished Fellow, Stimson Center's Reimagining Grand Strategy program and Global Foresight Hub; Amb. Joe DeTrani, former special envoy to the six-party talks; and Dr. Alexandre Mansourov, professor at the Center for Security Studies at Georgetown University for a compelling discussion.

But what if North Korea's and the U.S.-Korea-Japan alliance's perceptions of reality are completely different? What if our assumptions about how Kim Jong-un thinks, are very wrong?

Join guest panelist Robert Manning, Senior Fellow, Scowcroft Center for Strategy and Security and its Foresight, Strategy and Risks Initiative at the Atlantic Council, along with moderator Amb. Joseph DeTrani, former special envoy to the six-party talks and Dr. Alexandre Mansourov, professor at the Center for Security Studies at Georgetown University as they examine the way forward.
