Haven't registered yet? Don't miss your chance to join us for the Global Women's Peace Network speaker series, Women's Leadership in Reconciliation and Peacemaking, on "The Next Generation."

As we are celebrating Women's History Month 2021 we welcome you to join us tomorrow, Friday, March 26 at 2PM EDT.

Hear from two young women leaders of the next generation, as they address women's role in reconciliation and peacemaking from their own unique backgrounds of expertise and experience. We also added a breakout session (new feature) for discussion and networking among participants.

Elizabeth Yang will share her insights on "Leadership from the Inside Out," diving into key aspects of being a leader through outsmarting the work-life balance, developing emotional intelligence, and using active listening and interpretation to foster peace.

HanaLyn Colvin will share her perspective on "The Power of Art for Peace," addressing how art can be a powerful tool for expression and influence, with the ability to create positive change and empowerment.

This event will feature a special calligraphy performance from Jiyoung Park. We also will be hearing a commentary on The Mother of Peace memoir from a young woman leader.

We look forward to you joining us!
