Welcoming Remarks:

Dr. Julia Moon is the President of the Women's Federation for World Peace International. An internationally renowned ballerina, she is also the chairperson of the Universal Culture Foundation, coordinating the operations of the Universal Art Center, the Universal Ballet Academy, the Kirov Academy of Ballet in Washington, D.C., and the Julia Company, aside from the Universal Ballet Company.

Speaker:

Dr. Yang-Ho Hong is a Distinguished Research Fellow of the Institution North Korean Studies, and the North Korea Social Research Center President at the Database Center for North Korean Human Rights. He also served as Chairman of the Gaejeong Industrial District Foundation, and President of The Tongil Shinmun.

Dr. Hong will address the nature of inter-Korean interaction and cooperation, inter-Korean women interactions, the significance of women leadership for reconciliation and peace on the Korean Peninsula.

Speaker:

Amanda Mortwedt Oh is a human rights attorney at the Committee for Human Rights in North Korea (HRNK), a bipartisan research organization based in Washington, D.C. She is the desk officer for a series of satellite imagery reports on North Korean prisons published by HRNK. Her research focuses on North Korea and international human rights law. Amanda has interviewed over 50 North Korean escapees in South Korea to document human rights abuses committed in North Korean detention and advocate for accountability for these crimes against humanity.

Mrs. Oh will address the situation of human rights in North Korea and the approaches we can take to solve these issues.

Speaker:

Rev. Belina Wimbish-Haile is the Founder and CEO of Belina Ministries Int'l and BeYOUtyful Solutions. She is an author, licensed cosmetologist, realtor, IT professional, as well as Vice President and regular speaker of the International Association of Women (formerly NAPW) for the Bowie Chapter. In 2020, Pastor Belina was invited to pray for world peace and was honored to present in 2021 on the reunification of Korea from a Religious Leader perspective for the Universal Peace Federation led by Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon.

She will address the disparities on the Korean Peninsula and the perspective of reconciliation from a mother's heart.

Special Message:

Dr. Lan Young Moon is a Professor at SunHak Universal Peace Graduate University. She has visited North Korea 19 times for the reconciliation and peaceful reunification of two Koreas and conducted the '1% Love Share Project' for the relief aid to support women and children worldwide including North Korea.

Moderator:

Angelika Selle is the President of WFWP USA. She is an educator, motivational speaker, writer and Ambassador for Peace. Since 2010 she has been serving as president of WFWP USA. Since this appointment, Mrs. Selle has been focusing on grass roots development and the next generation. Her passion is to empower women and men of all ages, races and religions in peacebuilding based on Leadership of the Heart.

Dear Women Leaders, Women of Peace and Mothers,

Greetings! As this month marks 71 years since the start of the Korean War, we welcome you to join us at our upcoming virtual Global Women's Peace Network speaker series, Women's Leadership in Reconciliation and Peacemaking, on "The Case of North and South Korea." This special event is our first joint co-sponsored webinar with WFWP Korea in support of a peaceful unification between North and South Korea.

Focusing on moving forward, speakers will be addressing humanitarian concerns, how to reconcile ideological differences, and how women can play a role pertaining to the circumstances of the Korean Peninsula. Register by clicking here for this event to be held on Monday, June 21, at 8 PM EDT!

Send Your Love to North Korean Children

From now until “The Case of North and South Korea” Global Women’s Peace Network forum on June 21, Women’s Federation for World Peace USA will be hosting a 1% Love Share fundraising campaign to support North Korean children and defectors.

Donations from this year’s Love Share Project will help sponsor two after school programs for North Korean defectors, with educational components contributed by WFWP Korea. A portion of the funds will also be sent to NK Human Rights International Association, which helps North Korean defectors who are escaping via third countries.

Our goal is to raise $4,000 by this upcoming forum. We thank you for helping to provide an uplifting education and smooth transition for North Korean children and defectors.
