Introducing Mrs. Sarah Baumgarten, our second speaker for the upcoming Global Women's Peace Network series on *Women's Leadership in Reconciliation and Peacemaking!

During next week's forum on Catalysts for Positive Change - Arts and Culture, she will be sharing insights on "Why Create Music?". She will share her experiences as a performer and teacher with the healing power of music and how it brings people together and builds connections, which is especially important during the time of the pandemic.

Sarah Baumgarten is a performer, teacher, and music director. She earned her M.M. in Voice Performance and Pedagogy from the Peabody Institute, B.M. in Voice Performance from Penn State University, and is currently a musical theatre student at the Circle in the Square Theatre School in New York City, where she also freelances and teaches voice and piano.

Sarah has performed at The Kimmel Center, Meyerhoff Symphony Hall, Opera America, the Library of Congress, The Jewish Museum of Maryland and World Café Live. She has been featured with CoOPERative, On Site Opera, Annapolis Opera, OperaWorks, Minas, Garden State Opera and Delaware Valley Opera Company. Favorite roles include Gretel (Hansel and Gretel); Musetta (La Bohème); Monica (The Medium); and Lucy (The Telephone). As a concert performer Sarah has produced and performed her solo and collaborative concerts: No One is Alone, Jews to my Ears, and Finding Home to many appreciative audiences.
