Dear Women and Mothers of Peace,

Greetings and Happy November!

We look forward to our upcoming Interfaith Women's Prayer Circle this coming Saturday, November 6, 2021 at 1 pm EDT, where we will share our insights on what it truly means to both soften our hearts and stand firm on the ground in the face of hardship, as an effort to bring about true healing and peace within and to the world.

During the Prayer Circle session, we also welcome anyone who would like to share a brief testimony for two minutes as to "HOW YOU OVERCAME A CHALLENGE THIS WEEK."

Please, read the quote below, and be ready to share your insights and reflections as well as share this invitation with other women and mothers of prayer!

Looking forward to hearing you on the call!

With love and gratitude,
Angelika Selle and Sahara Cardenas

Mother of Peace: A Memoir

By Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon, page 265

"I shed sweat and tears, trying to open hearts and connect people as one family. I pioneered a path no woman has ever walked, and embraced the world's peoples in the most precipitous places. I quietly practiced true love for human salvation and world peace in situations from which anyone else would have run away. My forgiveness and embrace have moved enemies to tears."
