Dear WFWP USA Friends and Women Leaders,

Happy International Women's Day!

Today marks the celebration of women, their history, their invaluable contributions and accomplishments, their stories, supporting their issues and charities, and so much more!

It is time to appreciate and acknowledge all the women in your life and express gratitude for their strength, grace and love, as well as bringing creative ideas and peaceful solutions for their families, communities and the planet during this time of change. We see you, we hear you, and we thank you for your service.

Celebrating you, dear sisters, mothers, daughters, grandmothers and our maternal ancestors for paving the way to a better future.

Lastly, we invite you to check out how WFWP USA has been empowering women to live by the logic of love for the past 30 years at www.wfwp.us.

In gratitude and celebration,
WFWP USA team
