Author, Founder of AK and the Experts

Aimmee Kodachian is the author of Tears of Hope, her life story of the obstacles she faced while living through the Lebanese civil war for 13 years. She was only 12 when her family lost everything and became homeless. Due to her severe dyslexia and the war, she was forced to leave school during fourth grade, lost her dream of becoming a teacher, and was left with no opportunities or hope. Aimmee was coaxed into marriage only three days after her 14th birthday. When she was still a teenager, she became a single mom and was left with no education, skills, or money. Her daughter became her "why," and that kept her going day after day, despite the tragic loss of many family members and having to deal with the prevailing Lebanese culture's belief system.

In 1988, Aimmee took the opportunity to come to the United States and start a new life for her and her daughter. After years of persistence and determination, Aimmee found a way to live out her dreams. Though she did not become a teacher, she started an online academy and became an author, a powerful transformational keynote speaker, a contributing author to Life Choices: Navigating Difficult Paths, a regular columnist for Choices magazine, and a producer/director of three TV Internet shows on the WCOBM TV Network: Aimmee Kodachian and the Experts, World of Book Reviews, and Stephanie's Movie Reviews. Today Aimmee is helping many people live their dreams!
