

Sacramento Valley UPF: Importance of Marriage for World Peace

Charles de Watteville
August 23, 2016

Universal Peace Federation (UPF) held a lively community breakfast at the Sacramento Valley Family Church (SVFC) under the theme “Importance of Marriage for World Peace.”

Lowell and America Callahan from Wheatland, California were invited as guest speakers. They shared about their family and the experience of recently being recognized as Parents of the Year by The Washington Times.

Three additional presentations were given briefly by Charles de Watteville on the value of marriage, the challenges of marriage today, and the significance of True Parents’ Interfaith Marriage Blessing and Re-Dedication Ceremonies for bringing a spiritual change to the modern world’s attitudes about marriage.

The presentations were separated by two discussions, the first on the value of marriage and the second on ways to address the decline of marriage in America.

Six guests and nine SVFC members participated and look forward to future events.
