America Came Together

Monday's Peace Starts With Me Rally a 'wave of hope'

The recent Peace Starts With Me: Come Together Children virtual rally held September 21 ignited waves of hope online in a time of uncertainty, flooding multiple social platforms with a global call for unity and peace.

The virtual rally, broadcasted on the International Day of Peace established by the United Nations in 1981, is a timely reminder for all humanity to commit to peace above all differences and contribute to building a global culture of peace.

“The earth is suffering due to the ignorance of humanity and we worry about the future of our beloved children,” said Mother of Peace Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon in her rally message. “The politicians and the leaders of the world need to know Heaven’s providence; they need to honor God. Only then can they truly fulfill their duty to serve their people and their nation...We will surely succeed if we work with God. There is no time to delay.”
