NEW YORK, Nov. 6, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- The most celebrated peace rally in the U.S., "Peace Starts With Me," is coming to Newark! Featuring a 2,000-voice choir, an orchestra and Grammy award winning talent. The Peace Starts With Me rallies gather thousands of people from a wide variety of national, racial, and religious backgrounds to stand united for peace.

The Peace Starts With Me rallies, co-sponsored by Family Federation for World Peace and Unification (FFWPU) and the American Clergy Leadership Conference (ACLC), have been an enormous success since its inception in 2017 at Madison Square Garden featuring Hezekiah Walker. The second stop on the tour was Nassau Coliseum in Long Island, New York with Grammy award-winner Yolanda Adams and Citizen Way. The third stop was in Los Angeles at the City of Refuge megachurch, home of Bishop Noel Jones, and in June the Peace Starts with Me Rally took MGM Grand in Las Vegas by storm. At every Rally the thousands in attendance were treated to a keynote address by the Mother of Peace, Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon.

The last stop for 2019 is Saturday, December 28th at 3:00pm at the Prudential Center in Newark, NJ. This rally for peace is a free event and all are welcome. This event has inspired clergy from around the world to join in.

The December 28th event will star Grammy award-winning Gospel star Hezekiah Walker and the 2,000 Voices for Peace Choir, made up of local singers from across the Tri-State Area under the direction of Emmy award-winning producer A. Curtis Farrow. The entertainment will be rounded out by Gospel sensations Kim Burrell, Joann Rosario, an Orchestra and much more. There will be an inspirational message by Bishop Noel Jones followed by the keynote speaker, the Mother of Peace, Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon.
