The Hope for Humanity Comes from Mothers

“History is calling for reconciliation, compassion, love, service and sacrifice. Today’s problems cannot be solved by the logic of power. ... Our present problems can only be solved by the logic of love.”

Dr. Hak Jan Han Moon
Founder, WFWP International

Global Women's Peace Network

Purpose: A network of women leaders and organisations dedicated to solving pressing social issues and securing an environment for human development. It seeks to ensure mutual prosperity and lasting peace through feminine peace leadership rooted in a culture of care, responsibility and education in family values.

New style of leadership: Leaders in our 'flattening world' need a different set of skills; requiring aptitude in emotional intelligence, reconciliation, mediation and forgiveness.

GWPN inaugural assembly: the founders of WFWPI, Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon and her husband Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon called for a new era of women's leadership in peace building. The assembly highlighted the need for a body of NGO leaders, whose collective wisdom and judgment can complement the deliberations of the United Nations; which as a body of government representatives is overwhelmingly male. GWPN is a project of WFWP international.

Her Story: Inspiring Inclusion

Her Story symbolised the passing of wisdom and encouragement from older to younger generations and the sharing of stories about overcoming adversities commemorating International Women's Day within the framework of GWPN initiatives.

The event resonated with the overarching theme of this year's International Women's Day, 'Inspiring Inclusion'.

Against the backdrop of personal narratives, three esteemed guest speakers illuminated the concept of inclusion through the lens of their own life journeys.

WFWP Mission and Vision

WFWP Chapters adhere to the principle that women working together, taking initiative, and empowering one another across traditional lines of race, culture and religion to create healthy families are resolving the complex problems of our societies and world.

Ultimately 'solutions' come as true partnerships between men and women and are established in all levels of society. The beginning point is within society's most elemental level - the family.

Vision: Women working together to realise one global family rooted in a culture of sustainable peace.

Mission: Empowering women as peace builders and leaders in the family to transform the community, nation and world. Through education, advocacy, partnership, reconciliation and humanitarian service, WFWP International aims to create an environment of peace and wellbeing for future generations and people of all races, cultures and religious creeds.

John Galokaniki: Pasifika Scholarship Recipient

I am currently enrolled in a two-year, diploma degree at the Solomon Islands National University (SINU), majoring in History and New Testament Study.

As I embark on this transformative experience, I am mindful of the responsibility and privilege that comes with this opportunity. WFP's support has eased the financial burden of pursuing higher education and ignited my passion to contribute meaningfully to the education sector in the Solomon Islands community.

My passion for teaching is linked to a sense of responsibility towards the children in the Solomon Islands ...
