

God Leads Jin Myung Nam to the Unification Church

December 6, 2013

Translator: Lymhwa Kim

After hearing God's voice telling her to visit the Unification Church, a middle-aged Christian woman visited the Cheon Bok Gung Church in Seoul and realized her calling.

Mrs. Jin Myung Nam (52) is a Christian woman who faithfully followed God's instruction to visit the Unification Church. She currently lives in Youngdeungpo District and has wonderful husband and daughter. She is part of the Sanjeonghyeon church.

Prior to her visit, Mrs. Nam didn't know much about the Unification Church, but she heard a rumor that it was a cult, so she wasn't interested in it.

Mrs. Nam always strived to live a life of value and truth, but she felt that she didn't fully know what that truth was or how to live it and suffered instead from a sense of guilt over the notion that she was acting against God's desire. Thus, she started fasting and made prayer conditions several times to ask God what a life of truth is. She prayed desperately. She even prayed that "living without knowing what truth is and how to live it is a meaningless existence," and asked God to "bring me to spirit world if you are not going to answer me."

While she was desperately praying she heard a voice from spirit world say: "Go find and visit the Unification Church." This same request was also repeated in her dream. "Go find and visit the Unification Church." At first she was doubtful, but because the message recurred with the same clarity, she decided to search for the Unification Church and finally visited the Cheon Bok Gung Church.

On Dec. 1, 2013, Rev. Chang Su Yang, pastor of the Cheon Bok Gung Church, greeted a new congregant at the lobby. He knew Mrs. Nam was a new member so he asked his wife to show the new guest around. Mrs. Nam participated in the morning worship service and shared lunch with the rest of the congregation. Afterwards, she participated in the 1:30 p.m. new member's worship service. She felt that she was blessed with a new kind of grace. The afternoon program began with the hymn "Song of the Garden." Although the song is not a regular Christian hymn, it brought her to tears.

As a result of her experience, Mrs. Nam has pledged to herself to participate in the Divine Principle lectures every Sunday afternoon.