

UPF and IAPP Côte d'Ivoire names Amadou Soumahoro Ambassador of Peace

Marius Bouguhe
November 7, 2019

UPF and IAPP Côte d'Ivoire organized an event to award the President of the National Assembly of Côte d'Ivoire, Hon. Amadou Soumahoro, with the Ambassador for Peace certificate on November 07, 2019, in the Palace of the National Assembly, in the presence of several personalities of the country and diplomats from foreign countries.

The ceremony was a great success and laid a good foundation for the expected organization of a continental summit of UPF Côte d'Ivoire.

Reflection

Hon. LIKANE Jean (President, IAPP Côte d'Ivoire): "Our country needs this kind of activity to really educate parliamentarians as it should be. I'm glad to be part of this ceremony. The future will be better for our country ..."

Exc. AKA Sayé Lazare (President, UPF Côte d'Ivoire): "The work of the Universal Peace Federation is exceptional. We have the absolute duty of work to make a better life for our beloved people ..."

Imam Dramé Moussa (Religious Guide): "I am simply very happy and impressed by the teaching heard this afternoon. Deputies have a very important role to play for the political and social stability of our country. By making them ambassadors for peace, we are creating conditions for true peace ..."

Hon. Amadou Soumahoro (President of the National Assembly): "I congratulate the organizers for all the work you have done and especially the messages we heard. Peace is priceless. Together, we must make strong foundation and reach out to others. I pledge to honor this award, in accordance with the Principles of Peace"