World Peace and Unification Sanctuary - USA

Dear,

First, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to many FFWPU and GPF brothers and sisters who spent countless hours praying, researching, spending personal funds and working to distribute the Presidential voter scorecards in Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Florida, several Midwestern states, Arizona, Nevada, and others. I'm sure True Father was happy to see Family Fed, GPF and Unification Sanctuary brothers and sisters working together to save America at this time when there is a coordinated attack on its survival as a constitutional republic. It reminded me of the time many of us worked together to try to salvage the Nixon presidency in 1973 and to elect Ronald Reagan in 1980. So, THANK YOU to all the brothers and sisters who prayed and shed their blood, sweat and tears during these past 3 months. I feel only deep love and respect for each one of you.

I have been keeping my mouth shut about a number of issues, but because of the urgency of this time feel I must now speak out honestly about a "big elephant in the room," the neutral stance of the organization formerly called to do God's will, the Family Federation for World Peace and Unification. In its November 2 article, "Ballots for God," (familyfed.org/news-story/ballots-for-god-69164/) it portrays the Democrat candidate for President, Joe Biden, as waging a "battle for the soul of the nation," saying "this has remained a core tenet of his campaign." It quotes him talking about "a calling toward justice, healing, hope -- not hate. To speak the good news, and followed by some good deeds."

Wow, such beautiful words from the leader of a political party who may become our next president. But what is the reality of that party? Promotion of taxpayer-funded abortion not only until birth, but also infanticide AFTER birth if the abortion should fail. A party that wants to enforce transgender education of children in our public schools starting in Kindergarten. A party that minimizes the destruction of urban neighborhoods and burning and looting of minority businesses by "peaceful protesters." A party that wants our schools to teach children that America is "systemically racist," ie. founded for an evil purpose from its inception.

How do such agendas align with True Father's teachings about the founding of America as a nation founded to secure religious freedom and to support that same liberty for peoples all over the world? A nation that paid a heavy price to end slavery and more recently, segregation, and which now welcomes people of all races who seek to come here as long as they respect our laws?

Does anyone at the Family Federation headquarters read The Washington Times? Do flowery speeches masking a hateful, leftist agenda deceive all of its leaders? A 60 second search would reveal the true reality of the Party of "justice, healing and hope -- not hate." (see list of links below)

I can't stop thinking about what True Father did in 1973 when he asked brothers and sisters to fast and pray for the Trump-like figure of Richard Nixon, the most despised figure in America. Father knew that if Nixon were impeached or driven out of office MILLIONS would die in Southeast Asia. And millions DID DIE after he was driven out of office.

Virtue-signaling churches for "peace" and the mainstream media hated Father for doing that. When Father mobilized church members to support the election of the dangerous "cowboy" Ronald Reagan in 1980, the die was cast to drive him out of our nation with the threat of imprisonment related to charges of tax evasion. They didn't count on Father's righteous and sacrificial willingness to go to prison in Danbury.

Now True Father's youngest son, Hyung Jin Nim, is standing up publicly to defend the Nixon-like figure, Donald J. Trump. A brash businessman who hardly ever measures his words, his record of accomplishment is nevertheless significant. I'm not just referring to his strengthening of America's economy and its military against very real foreign threats, or the recent peace treaties between Israel and several Arab states, but also his defense of religious freedom, removal of government transgender and racial education mandates, prosecutions of human traffickers, etc., all while under relentless attacks from mainstream media, censoring Big Tech, Intelligence agencies saturated with leftist operatives and a weaponized Democrat House of Representatives that accused him of things that their OWN party had actually been doing (ie. collaborating with the governments of Russia, the Ukraine and Communist China).

Make no mistake, the attacks on Donald Trump are NOT just an attack on him. They are an attack on OUR freedoms of speech and self-defense, OUR Judeo-Christian beliefs about marriage and family, on OUR right to choose and keep a duly elected President, and on America's ability to defend freedom throughout the world.

Despite the "grandfatherly" and "peace-loving" image peddled by the media, Joe Biden and the Democrats' 2020 platform and agenda are little different from that of the Communist Party USA, and their victory would consolidate Chinese Communist/Islamist influence in the U.S. and their control of many parts of the world, likely including the East Asian nations in which many church members were born.

I don't have room here to offer details of these assertions, but please take a look at just a few of the links below. The bottom line is -- through election fraud the Democrat Party is in the process of stealing the U.S. Presidency.

At this moment in history, what will Unificationists who knew True Father do? Will I do the easy thing and think that sharing pious words and virtue signaling are really doing God's Will? Or we will stand at this time in defense of fair, honest elections and the survival of our constitutional republic? I think I know what True Father would do.

If you understand that this is really about a clash of worldviews, between Judeo-Christian civilization and those who want to impose an ideological control of our speech and our lives, then please WORK TOGETHER with us to defend freedom! This is not a time to be silent or neutral! We must not allow our nation to be hijacked by individuals ideologically aligned with the hate-filled dialectic of Marx and Lenin.

We have little to gain by seeking photo ops with those seeking to destroy our nation. Let's work together to defend our nation so that it can defend those seeking freedom around the world. That is a key part of "God's hope for America," is it not?

Ballots for God

As millions of Americans head to the election polls tomorrow, November 3, incumbent President Donald Trump and Democratic opponent Joe Biden are rallying their supporters around the country. In particular, President Trump, a nondenominational Christian, is galvanizing the nation's faith community to secure a second term in office.

There is no doubt faith has heavily shaped America's political history. And yet, in 2020, bringing God into the nation's highest levels of governance has become fraught with challenges, from domestic affairs like healthcare to foreign policy and the global COVID-19 pandemic.

Both presidential candidates have said their faith informs their values, which in turn molds their politics.

"Throughout our nation's history, Americans have consistently turned to God for guidance at pivotal moments," said President Trump in a statement on May 2, 2019, the National Day of Prayer.

"Our nation acknowledges that religious liberty is a natural right, given to us by our creator, not a courtesy that the government extends to us," he said. "Our nation's honored tradition of prayer has sustained us and strengthened our trust that God will continue to watch over and accompany us through the best of times and the darkest hours."

Former vice president Joe Biden, a Catholic, launching his own candidacy by referring to his campaign as a "battle for the soul of the nation." This has remained a core tenet of his campaign and, if elected, Biden would become the second Catholic president in U.S. history.

In a speech on September 14, Biden described America today as "a nation in the wilderness” before referencing scripture.

“All of you remind me of how scripture describes a calling born out of the wilderness,” said Biden. “A calling to serve, not to be served. A calling toward justice, healing, hope —not hate. To speak the good news, and followed by some good deeds. It’s not just enough to speak the good news, but good deeds.”

Pastor Paula White-Cain, spiritual advisor to President Trump, gave a special address on August 9 at the Universal Peace Federation (UPF) Rally of Hope where she spoke of the crucial need to align with God at this time, supporting the international peacebuilding efforts of Dr. Hak Ja Han Moon, Mother of Peace and co-founder of UPF and Family Federation for World Peace and Unification (FFWPU).

“Our current world situation with COVID-19 is a great trial,” said Pastor White-Cain. “But if we turn to God we will overcome and prosper.”

“May we bear with one another and make allowances out of love, which comes from God,” she said. “[And] may we commit, according to the power of God that works in us, to unite in spirit sympathizing with one another, loving each other as brethren, as family, compassionate and courteous, tender-hearted, and humble-minded.”

Faith and prayer, deeply interwoven in the fabric of America, have long been the safeguard of this country and its leadership, especially regarding the presidency.

The founding fathers proclaimed religious liberty in the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution, which guarantees freedoms concerning religion, expression, assembly, and the right to petition. And, in 1774, the Continental Congress asked the colonies to pray for wisdom about forming what would become the United States.

Nearly two centuries later, in 1952, President Harry S. Truman proclaimed the first National Day of Prayer.

America’s power has always been in her people and leadership centered on God. With our nation’s rich history of faith, let America remember the power of prayer and the greatness of our creator as we cast our ballots for God.

I agree with Cheryl. I have voted my conscience, and by the exercise of my reason. And it’s worth remembering how Lincoln responded when asked whether God was on the side of the Union. “Sir, my concern is not whether God is on our side; my greatest concern is to be on God’s side, for God is always right.”
