A Moabite proves herself worthy

February 28, 2021

All right folks; let's go to the book of Ruth today; Ruth chapter 2. Before we take any comments, let's just get into the Word okay! Let's just get into the Word before the Spirit comes down!

Ruth 2:1-11

1 And Naomi had a kinsman of her husband's, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of Elimelech; and his name was Boaz. 2 And Ruth the Moabite said unto Naomi, Let me now go to the field, and glean ears of corn after him in whose sight I shall find grace. And she said unto her, Go, my daughter. 3 And she went, and came, and gleaned in the field after the reapers: and her hap was to light on a part of the field belonging unto Boaz, who was of the kindred of Elimelech.

4 And, behold, Boaz came from Bethlehem, and said unto the reapers, The LORD be with you. And they answered him, The LORD bless thee. 5 Then said Boaz unto his servant that was set over the reapers, Whose damsel is this? 6 And the servant that was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Moabite damsel that came back with Naomi out of the country of Moab:

7 And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves: so she came, and hath continued even from the morning until now, that she tarried a little in the house.

8 Then said Boaz unto Ruth, Hearest thou not, my daughter? Go not to glean in another field, neither go from hence, but abide here fast by my maidens: 9 Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reap, and go thou after them: have I not charged the young men that they shall not touch thee? and when thou art athirst, go unto the vessels, and drink of that which the young men have drawn.

10 Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take knowledge of me, seeing I am a stranger? 11 And Boaz answered and said unto her, It hath fully been shewed me, all that thou hast done unto thy mother in law since the death of thine husband: and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy nativity, and art come unto a people which thou knewest not heretofore.

So, we're now in the middle of the book, and just to give some context: The whole family of Ruth and Naomi, they are encountering a famine and they've now moved from Jerusalem to Moab which was an enemy land of Israel; it was an enemy land of Israel, and they're going to enemy territory. Famines everywhere, as they're trying to survive! Ruth is married into Naomi's family. The father has died and the sons have died and now there are only widows, Ruth, and Orpha and Naomi, her daughters – in-law, and they are now in Moab trying to survive.

This is where this whole situation enters in with Boaz. And as everybody knows, Boaz eventually ends up taking Ruth as a wife, and fulfilling what they call the family redeemer, and basically is able to take care of their family and bring a lineage to their line. Their line eventually ends up with Ruth, King David, and then further on: Jesus; through of course a Moabite woman! Rehab is the same, right, not from Moab but from a pagan lineage, but God again used that to then bring the lineage of Jesus! Very interesting!

So, from the Moab woman who was an outsider... You see even in that verse that we read over, she calls herself a stranger. She calls herself a stranger, because you're not supposed to take on the strange women. That's always been a key part of the Scripture, especially in the Old Testament, to be careful of strange women because they have cultural practices. They may have come from satanic societies where killing your baby through abortion- at that time is post -birth abortion, through the fires of Baal- is normalized. Transgenderism, pedophilia, sex trafficking through temple prostitution, all these things are normalized.

Satan's invasion through culture

For young people who grew up in those cultures, it's like growing up in L.A., or something like that. They're saying, "Well, what's wrong with that? There's nothing wrong with that!" It's like growing up in some kind of crazy liberal area! They just think it's normal.

So the people of God were always warned, "Be careful! Do not get tempted by the women!" Because those women will bring in their cultural gods and idols, and this is of course what happened with King Saul, and this is what happened with a lot of the kings in Israel. The beauty of the women enticed them to take on those women and wives, and then what happened? The cultural practices of Satanism poured in through there culturally, and then started infecting and destroying the kingdom of Israel.

This is very important too, because Satan can invade in many ways, but also he can invade through culture; that's why the Left and political Satanism want control and monopolies on culture, on journalism, media, Hollywood, whatever the case may be -anything that's transmitting culture. Because it's through that that they can start infecting strong communities such as Christianity. Christianity builds strong communities.

We had a great interview with Jeff Nyquist! Did everybody see that on the King's Report? Beautiful! (Applause) Epoch Times reporter and good friend of ours; expert on China, etc! He was talking about that as well. That Christianity in the beginning phases grew very quickly; it grew in the urban areas very fast as well, and it started building strong marriages and strong families. Whereas Communism may start in urban areas and reach out to the "proletariat," but it builds nothing; it tears down the family, it tears down strong marriage. In the end, it gets to this transgenderism nonsense, where you have male and female as not even a biological thing anymore, and where women's sport is being devastated- and all that kind of stuff.

But the point is: Satan can attack us culturally too. That's why even when I'm training the young people in Jiu-Jitsu, I told them in advance that, "Look, in the fighting world in any of these martial arts' dojos that deal with real fighting communities, there are people that are people like for example 10th Planet known for promoting weed." They're a big dojo, they're a big fighting club in the Jiu-Jitsu and MMA field; they have UFC champions coming out of that club.

But I told them in advance that, you know, just because you practice Jiu-Jitsu or MMA, or whatever, it doesn't mean that your values are the same. The majority of the participants in fighting arts tend to be more conservative, because we have to work very hard. You get brutalized; you get beat up constantly when you train. So you learn the value of: you have to earn it, and you have to work for it; you don't get it for free! You don't get those Commie values.

So, most of the people, just like in the military, or something like that, are more conservative - leaning, especially in terms of their work ethic and work view. They may not know a lot about politics, but many lean more conservative. However there are those in the community that are, I wouldn't say radical activists but anyway they're more left- leaning, and of course they may be promoting things like weed or drugs to enhance performance, to enhance your fighting ability- all this kind of stuff.

And the young people here then they say, "Okay, that gave me a reason to smoke weed!" I'm not saying Eddie Bravo is bad or anything like that. He is a tremendous, tremendous Jiu-Jitsu fighter, one of the few who tap Rochion Gracie in a Jiu-Jitsu No-Gi competition; he's a tremendous innovator in the field. And the 10th Planet guys are murderers. They're really deadly guys in terms of Jiu-Jitsu, very, very, high level; but culturally he's a big promoter of weed and things like that.

No war on drugs

And again in the Kingdom - even in the Kingdom Constitution as you see - it is illegal for the government which cannot grow beyond 10 % of GDP, to do a war on drugs or a war on poverty or a war on this and that against non-state actors; okay, it's illegal. Because we know what those end up in, in reality, when a government goes for a war on drugs. It's not really fighting drugs; it is starting to monopolize the sale of drugs. That's what happens; so that's what happens when governments call for a war on drugs!

But as a Christian community we are against drugs; we don't want our kids involved in drugs, alcohol, that kind of stuff. We want our kids to stay away from that, and train. And that's why training is good; through hard training you learn that discipline.

But the point is: At the same time, what we don't want as a Kingdom culture is some centralized body declaring a war on drugs, pretending like they're fighting drugs, but in fact what's happening? The drug usage increases; the drug-related crimes increase. And of course very sad, but people who've been to Afghanistan saw - the pictures have been leaked etc - that our powers are now in Afghanistan controlling the poppy seeds' production, which is about an 80 billion dollar heroin trade that the CIA and FBI want for power and money. They want to capture that market which is tons of money, okay!

That's why in the Cheon Il Guk Constitution it is prohibited for the government to grow beyond 10% of GDP, and departments of education, energy, department of environmental protection, all those are illegal. They cannot develop any of those things; those are all unconstitutional and they're all illegal. It is explicit in the Constitution. And of course the war on drugs, the war on poverty, these kinds of things are also illegal, because in the end we know that it exacerbates crimes and also drug - related deaths.

In the case with Portugal - and Forbes Magazine did an article on this, I believe in 2008 - where they decriminalize the use of narcotics, what does it do? It takes away the ability for the drug dealers, which are really the government, from monopolizing and having what's called the "black market prices." Just think about the Prohibition in America, when you could not buy alcohol. And of course we don't advocate alcohol; Father trained us from a young age, "Don't drink alcohol! It can lead to many sexual problems!"

But even though as a community many of us don't even touch alcohol, we are against prohibition. Because the state is in the archangel position, in the Luciferian position, we don't want the archangel position to have dominant monopoly on that issue.

Just think about the Prohibition when America banned alcohol! Then you have the gangs, they just make some wine or some liquor in their basements, okay. Now they're selling a bottle of wine or vodka, whatever they're selling; they're selling that for 500 dollars, right, because now there's a monopoly. Nobody can sell it. You can't walk into CVS, you can't walk into some place, and buy a bottle of wine; it's prohibited. So that creates black market prices, right; only the gangsters are going to make it illegally, and then they're going to sell it at high prices. That's what we call "black market prices".

That happens with narcotics as well; it happens in the exact same way. So we are strongly against narcotics! We don't tell any of our kids that this is smart or good; it's dangerous! It can screw up and muck up your life big time! Amen! Big time! Just like alcohol can muck up your life and become your god instead of God!

But at the same time, the war on drugs is illegal in the Kingdom Constitution. Because again when you look at the study with Portugal, as they decriminalize narcotics, what do they find? All the top health czars in America were saying, "Oh! You're going to have huge spikes in drug addiction! You're going to have huge spikes in drug-related crimes!" What happened? The opposite happened over a ten-year period; it happened over a ten- year period!

Normal shops can sell narcotics. They have warning labels. People usually don't want to do things to die, usually, so they'll have to gauge their own risk. And what do they find in Portugal over a ten-year study? Narcotics- related drug crime down; almost disappeared! And of course, narcotics addictions, down! The people who were addicted they're still addicted, but it didn't skyrocket like the US war-on- drug people were saying. That being said, again not an endorsement for drugs! Drugs, bad, bad, bad, bad! Stay away from drugs, kids! Bad, bad, bad, bad, bad! Stay away; keep your training up! Stay away from drugs, alcohol, booze, tobacco! Any of those addictive things can get you in bad problems, right; they can lead up to stuff.

But the point is: What's worse is when organized crime bodies try to monopolize those trades by using government, and of course we've seen that in the modern period. Dr. Williams wrote a huge book on that. How the CIA is running the drug trade, how they were targeting the Black community in particular in the 60s, through blues and jazz clubs, to pedal cocaine, heroin, meth etc, and to ravage the Black community to basically kill off the Black families in conjunction with the welfare state, etc. He's written a whole book on that; ten times New York Times bestselling author, and of course friend of ours. If you want to look into that, just check out his book on that issue.

The point is: The government is in the archangelic Luciferian position. Remember, God made Lucifer too. God made Lucifer because he was supposed to serve God and then serve Adam and Eve. God had intended for Adam and Eve to be in the position of king and priest over His kingdom. But in the end Lucifer stole that, and through what? Temptation through sexual sin! Culturally, that's how they try to suck you in, right; they suck you in with sexual sin, and then build you into a demonic force instead of a godly force. That's with addiction to porno -boys got to be very careful with that- it starts with just girls, then it goes to boys, and it goes to children; always that progression. Transgenderism, same issue! It always, always leads in that form.

So that's why it's very important that we understand the cultural attacks that Lucifer can make on the people of God as well.

Israelites & foreign women

That's what we're having with Boaz and Moabites in general; it's not a common practice to allow these women to come into the fold. This is a very interesting case because in the Book of Ruth, they're not constantly mentioning God; it's showing how God is moving through the inner workings of the daily episodes and daily work of His people, in effecting His divine providence.

So it's interesting, because as you saw, Ruth herself knows already the Law of Israel; that you're not supposed to take on these strange wives. We were studying that in Ezra just a couple of days ago, where after the Babylonian Captivity, when they were reestablishing the Temple in Israel, and they were reestablishing the community, they had to kick out the wives. Because a lot of these guys had illegally, against the Law of Israel, taken on these foreign wives- second and third wives, concubines etc- and of course brought that culture in.

So God said, “No! We got to get rid of those wives; no strange wives! I'm going to set up my Temple, and I'm going to set up my community once again. Because you've been slaves about in Babylon and now you think Babylon is good!”

They're making parents sell their daughters to temple prostitution at the age of 11 and 12, and it's normalized; the culture allows that. It's normal that you send your daughter to be raped at a Babylonian temple by strange men; that's considered normal practice! Just like in some of the leftist areas, killing your baby is celebrated; becoming a murderer of children is celebrated! This is unfathomable for people who have common sense and have a conscience!

But you understand, if you grew up in these places, you don't know; you've grown up in this stuff. You just think, “That's okay! Yeah! It's a woman's right: whatever, you know!” You've never even thought beyond that one step like, “Oh! This is a life! If it's a life and it has human rights, it can't be snuffed out, or can't be punished for crimes that it didn't commit!” You won't even take that step! You won't even take that step! It's just like, “Oh yeah! Yeah! It's a woman's rights, okay; whatever! I'm just trying to get laid here, or whatever.” You understand what I'm saying? That's that kind of culture.

Israelites as a Covenant people

So that's like the cultural context of Moab, and in this whole episode with Ruth, God shows through this a couple things:

This whole book is celebrated especially in the week of Shavuot. In the Hebrew festival, you have the Feast of Tabernacles; big one. You have Passover which celebrates the Exodus from Egypt and freedom from the pharaoh and from the centralized political Satanism of Egypt, and then of course you have Shavuot which is the Feast of Weeks. The Feast of Weeks is celebrating what? The receiving of the Torah or the Laws of Moses! So, celebrating the receiving of the Word of God, and when the Israelites became a Covenant people with God.

They're not just another tribe walking around with Bedouin things and wrapping their heads up, you know like sand people or something like that. No! They're now a Covenant peoples; Covenant peoples with God. Sand peoples are like in Star Wars right; it's not like a racist slur against Arab people or anything like that! No! No! In Star Wars, they call “sand people” people who live in the desert and rap themselves up. Even though I'm not a big Star Wars fan- I never was too big into it- but I know about sand men, all right.

The point is: In this whole episode we're now talking about the Feast of Weeks, and The Book of Ruth is celebrated as the beginning of Israel; not just freedom from Egypt, but the beginning of Israel as a Covenant peoples. Covenant peoples! That's very important! Covenant peoples! That's different from other tribes or lineages that are running around the earth, okay.

A Covenant people are a people that are selected by God, and they have a group responsibility to uphold God's way. So now, they're moving from just being Bedouins or traveling, wandering people into becoming Covenant people; which is like being married. The covenant of marriage is also another covenant. It's like being married to God, and no divorce - even though Israel does try to divorce God many times, collectively!

The point is: That starting point of the Covenant is also the Week of Feasts or Shavuot where the Book of Ruth is front and center. Because this shows the transition from a woman who is Moabite - she can't be included in - but through the work of God she ends up becoming Boaz's wife. He happened to be the second closest relative to her. The first guy who was closest relative to her and Naomi, he said, "Nah! I don't want them, because I'm not going to get their land, or whatever; they don't have anything. I don't want to take on that wife!"

Boaz the redeemer

So, Boaz whom the Bible talks about as "a man with noble character" ends up taking her on as a wife, and of course then redeeming Naomi's family. That's what's called in the Jewish context, a family redeemer; somebody like Boaz who ended up through marriage, saving part of his family. Are you with me folks?

Now in the New Testament context, same thing! Christ is called the Redeemer and the Bridegroom! Are you with me, folks? So Christ also as redeemer, Jesus as redeemer, like Boaz - Boaz is a not the messiah or anything - but the point is: in that image, Jesus now as the real redeemer, comes, and then what? He redeems us from that stranger land! We are strangers all of us, strangers to God in the world of sin, in the world of Satan; strangers unto God, and God rescues us.

Not because we earned it, but it's because of His love, His mercy, His grace, His heart of love that He reaches out and saves us!

And in the end, God also wants to have that relationship with the apex of His creation that is humanity, so He can give and receive love, and interact and have real relationship with His own children. So God in the New Testament sense is also through Christ, Redeemer and Bridegroom. And just like Boaz has become the bridegroom to the bride Ruth, then the Body of Christ in general becomes "the bride to Jesus."

Desexualized societal relationships

But again it's not like how the Catholics say, where even the men are like the bride. Because men, we don't get married to men! Amen! That's against God! And last time we checked, Jesus was a man, okay. So this of course creates a lot of confusion in the churches that teach "bride" is everybody; the whole church is a bride; and thus even priests, "you're married to Jesus!" The problem with that of course is that the priests start sexualizing Jesus; literally. Well they start saying, "I'm married to Jesus," and then homo-eroticism may erupt, and then look at what happened with the sexual scandals, the pedophilia in the Catholic Church; that is many times primary targeting young boys.

So again, men developing our identity in Christ we have to be sons of God; in the Body of Christ, but we are not identifying ourselves as brides. Amen! We identify ourselves as sons of God. He is our Father; non-sexual relationship, right. The Left always wants to sexualize every relationship, so as to poison and destroy children's future marriages, because Satan knows that's where it will flourish and be strong and be productive and basically create godly S.W.A.T. teams against him. So he wants to kill that early; nip it down in the bud early.

But the point is: The Left is trying to sexualize all relationships. What God says about the covenant of marriage is, "Sexuality is for that covenant of marriage, and when you are married under God's covenant, then enjoy; beautiful with your spouse, glory! But anything out of that, every other relationship is desexualized!" You understand? That's why, even socioeconomically, it creates a productive society.

When people are married they're not only stable, but they're also sociologically more stable, and economically, because they're not wild beasts running around trying to mate all the time. They have in their heart and mind desexualized all the relationships that they have on a normal basis in society, and that sexual relationship is preserved specifically for marriage. Now, their co-workers; no! These are desexualized relationships! You know what I'm saying? Training partners; desexualized relationships! Friends at the gym; desexualized relationships! You see?

All those things create clarity socially and economically, and allow people to be much more productive. That's why societies that have strong family units, we know they're more productive. They create more economic wealth; they create more entrepreneurship. It doesn't mean they're all perfect, okay. Don't get it twisted, young people! That doesn't mean all families are perfect; they still got problems. But there are a lot of additional sociological benefits to the whole society, when a higher percentage of people are in strong long-term marriage covenant relationships. Amen!

Make Daddy happy

So, in the same way here on the New Testament level, Jesus is almost like the Boaz figure redeeming his people, who once what? Were strangers like Ruth! See, they were strangers to God. They didn't know Him, they hated Him; they rebelled against God. Anybody who's saved, we all rebelled against God. We all hated God, we all wanted to turn away; we all enjoyed in sin etc. And God calls us away from that because of love and grace, and redeems us so that we can be in right standing. We now go before the court and He's paid the fine of the tickets that we've received.

So now we're able to go free, not because we earned it. It's because Jesus paid the fines. He paid the fines and now we can go free, and we are, "Oh whoa! I don't have to go to prison for that? Now I can..." No! No! No! If somebody paid that fine for you and you go and urinate on them, that's not a sign of gratitude is it? No!

If somebody freed you like that; let's say you committed some crime and somehow that person paid your fine, and got you out. You would feel a tremendous load of gratitude towards that person, right.

You would feel, "Man! I don't even know this guy; he didn't have to do that! He didn't have to bail me out; he didn't even know who I am! Why did he do that?" And you would want to know. If this really happened in your life, think about it; it's something of tremendous value, "Wow! I don't want to ravage this person; I want to be thankful! I want to pay him back somehow; I want to serve him some way," or whatever! You would feel that natural desire to reciprocate that undeserved love, to return it.

And that's where Christian righteousness comes from! That's why people in Christ do good things! Not because we think by doing good things we're going to be saved; we're saved by Christ. It's not by doing good things that we think we're going to be saved; it's doing good things to what? Say thank You to God and bring Him joy! That's very simple! We try to do good things because it just makes him happy! The man who paid our fines, got us out of capital punishment- whatever the case may be, right. We're so grateful, so, "Praise God! Thank You so much!" And that's why you'll see in the Christian world, the habit of when good things happen, or bad things happen, "Thank you Jesus! Thank You God!"

That's a very important thing, because we're turning any situation around for the glory of God! Amen! Anything that can be bad, anything that is storming our life, whatever the case may be, we're saying, "You know what? I'm aware of that now, and thank you Jesus! Thank You God! I'm going to start fighting out of this. I'm going to do my 5%! I'm going to fight with You. I've received Your power and I've received Your grace; I've received forgiveness and I've received the Holy Spirit etc, and now I want to live for You!"

Not because by doing good works I'm going to impress people, or I'm going to get salvation or some reward or some award! Like in the Leftist schools, everybody gets an award! Uh, uh! Not that kind of stuff; not for those reasons. You know what? I'm doing the good stuff because I want to make Him happy!

That's it; that's it! It's simple! I want to make Him happy! That's it, that's it! I want to make my Daddy happy! That's it; it's that simple!" (Applause) Okay! That's simple, simple; simple and hopefully pure! Okay, amen!

Covenant son of God

So that's like in the New Testament realm, you see Jesus playing that redeemer figure, that bridegroom figure, and of course marrying so to speak. The Bible does talk about the Body of Christ or believers generally as bride, but then males we are not in a position of a woman bride to Jesus. Don't homo-eroticize Jesus or that relationship! That's a problem if you see that as a marriage relationship; that's the exclusive relationship for sexuality.

So a lot of pastors, even in the evangelical churches, they have problems with homosexual stuff behind the scenes, because they keep on thinking that they are a bride to Jesus, "I'm a bride; I'm married to Jesus!" Imagine telling yourself you're married to a man a hundred times a day! You know what I'm saying! You can get messed up; you can get messed up. You can get messed up in your head, okay! Are you with me, folks?

So generally speaking, the Body of Christ is like in the object position or the brides, but specifically men, we are in the position of son, son to the Father. There is none of that craziness there. It's our Daddy, we want to please Him, we want to give Him joy; we want to make Him proud. Amen! We want to make Him proud!

That's why in the 3-Day Ceremony or even in the Blessing ceremony in the Completed Testament Age, we're not only saved in Christ; we are not only redeemed by Christ. But now it's almost like going back full circle, but not only through the lineage of Israel; for the strangers who are saved in Christ, what does the Blessing of marriage do to our lineage? It now coronates our lineage; so then each one of our tribes becomes like a mini Israel. That's why colloquially we call our families "kingdoms." God says, "You will rule the nations," not to be grandiose or megalomaniac, or anything like that.

But the point is to have that sense of responsibility over our tribe as well; leading them in the pathway towards God as a king as a priest etc. And that's what the Blessing makes so very clear. When we receive the Blessing at the Completed Testament Age, under True Parents' authority, then the positions are clear.

The man is not a bride to Christ; the man is a son of God, being redeemed. He is more in the archangel position in the beginning, because he comes from Satan's side, and then through the covenant of marriage comes back. Remember that word "Covenant?" That's the whole week of Shavuot; it's celebrating that Covenant, it's like a marriage covenant.

Now the man through the marriage ceremony becomes Covenant son with God!

Save the whole bloodline

That doesn't just stop here; because in the New Testament level, it stops at our individual faith. Our faith is individual and our salvation is individual. But just like for the people of Israel, God's will is for the whole bloodline to be saved. Amen!

In that bloodline everybody has individual responsibility; that's true, that never will go away. Everybody does have to make an individual decision to believe in Christ; even our children. The role of being a good priest in a home as well as a father - and of course a wife as a queen and evangelist- is to educate our children and help them accept Christ too. So they don't become like secular Jews who don't accept Jehovah God but who call themselves "Jews," but really are in Satan's kingdom. Are you with me, folks?

So there's a sense of responsibility when we receive the Blessing, because now our line- just like we would be King David or King Saul- our line is under God's authority. It doesn't mean everybody doesn't have responsibility; everybody still got to come to faith right, and we got to realize our foundation of substance as well.

But the point is: When we get blessed, now our lines are coming into Covenant relationship with God as a nation. It's not common in the west that you would see your family name as a line; we usually tend to just see ourselves as individuals. But in the biblical world everything is timed with lineage and genealogy, and even two of the Gospels go into very great detail about Jesus' genealogy; it's a big deal.. It's a big deal to God! To a normal secular man maybe not, but to God, it's a big deal whose line is in His camp. Are you with me? It's a big deal, because He's fighting a war against Satan.

So you can see in this Boaz and Ruth story, the reaching out of God to the stranger that is Ruth, and then bringing her in into a Covenant relationship with Him as Redeemer and as Bridegroom. Of course that applies to us as well. When we come into Covenant relationship with Christ, we come from the archangelic realm, we leave that realm and we become a son of God, co-heir, a king and a priest. That's why the marriage ceremony has coronation, has crowns involved; because it's not only two people in love just deciding to cohabitate.

We're talking about entire lines. Just think of yourself! Basically when you get blessed, you have to be like King David, and you have one wife, not ten thousand. You're standing before God in that Covenant line as King David would - ideally speaking, if he didn't fall into the traps of all those women- and have the queen, and that line that's produced would be in a strong Covenant relationship with God! Amen! Does that help a little bit?

So, Ruth is kind of showing this picture.

Caring for widows & orphans

This is interesting because this is also like when Father was doing the whole Las Vegas providence and starting ministries in Las Vegas for the gamblers and the prostitutes, everybody was going, "Oh my gosh! This is nuts! That's the worst place! Why are we going to Sin City? You know, we have beautiful properties, retreats, and Father has a huge foundation around the world; why, why, why, why, why, why, at this stage we have to go to freaking Sin City and try to save the gamblers and the prostitutes?" It drove a lot of people crazy!

But the point is: The outcasts, the strangers are those who are like Ruth. The strangers, the people who live in a strange land, it doesn't mean that the culture that they come from is good. No! It's evil, satanic, and is wicked. God hates it! But He still loves the soul of that person. He wants that person to come, be saved, become a son of God, and eventually become a king and a priest, to lead a holy army in God's Covenant for the protection of His Kingdom and for His will.

In the same way, God's heart reaches out towards that widow and orphan. Remember Ruth is also a widow, right- her husband has died- and an orphan. So in this particular story of Ruth, Boaz is following the laws in Deuteronomy, and he says, "Okay, on the edges of the field, any of the barley grain that has fallen down, you can collect it; you can take it." They were farmers, and at the time, farming was very difficult; even modern day farming is difficult. Anybody who's done farming, you all know it's difficult; it's not easy. But you had to share that edge of your property line at least, with the barley grains that fell, for whom? Widows and orphans! Now the widows are female, they're especially female, but orphans can be both; they can be boy or girl.

So, God's love extends. Even from Deuteronomy- you're talking about early, early Old Testament period- all the way through Christian history, caring for widows and orphans was very important; raising them up to eventually what? Not only to become sons and daughters of God, but to become king and priest.

Watch out, young people!

That's why it's so important that the young people when they're of teenage age, they learn the arts of self- defense, and even before that, they have a general notion of self- defense. Because they have to defend themselves first, and they have to defend their family; community, neighborhood etc, comes as an extension off of that, and kingdom in the end.

But the point is that young people have to understand as well that the church ministry, this is not for a group of just perfect people. Amen! Everybody's working through sin, problems, and faltering – all these kinds of things! A church is more like a hospital, where people who are sick need healing, need to have a direction, need to get back on track, and need to get rejuvenated etc, come to hear and to feed on God's Word. God uses metaphors of hearing the Word as “drinking from the Living Water” right, “eating of the Bread of Life”. These are things that bring nourishment and healing.

So churches are not places where perfect people gather, but imperfect people, sinful people saved by grace, brought into the bloodline of God, brought into kingship and priesthood; not because we are perfect, not because we deserve it, not because we wanted it, but because God wants to use us to effect His will. Amen!

So, in the same way, we must educate our children that their responsibility is to defend themselves; their responsibility is to defend their future, their marriage, defend their bodies etc. This is very important that the parents teach this early to the kids. And in the martial arts program and the self- defense programs when they hit about 11 years, they can start training and understand then more viscerally and physically how to become defenders and defend against opponents etc

But before that too, parents as the priests of the home, we have to be talking with our kids. Understand that the average age of watching porno now is seven to eight years old. When you were growing up with Playboy and Penthouse magazines, it was 14- 16. No! Now kids have the black- eye box. They have direct access, and their cousins, their friends and everybody else, and predators online are sending them junk. Then, they're opening up and they're getting sucked into what? Luciferian sexuality! And then they can get addicted.

We've talked to you about all these dangers - especially Dr. Richard Panzer has been teaching on that, as an expert with abstinence training - how it changes the mind, the brain and the hormonal function, from just seeking dopamine highs to adrenaline highs. That's the same thing that happens with drugs: you need a bigger hit to get the same high. You all heard of this, right; even though you guys don't do drugs, I know.

But the point is: You need a bigger hit to get the same high, and it now changes from getting dopamine to getting addicted to adrenaline. So now that person is seeking adrenaline, the race hormone, as opposed to dopamine which is a pleasure hormone. He's seeking adrenaline and now he'll do whatever; he'll break all the boundaries to get a huge hit on whatever. He'll kill, murder - whatever the case may be- to get that adrenaline high.

That's the same with porno! And on the women's side that's dramas; it's also the same genre. It's not actual pornography, but it is a type of pornography; same psychological effect on women, enticing you through fake romance and Luciferian romance. Notice that the dramas, if you watch them and break them down in terms of story line, they always involve love triangles. Does everybody understand? You know that, right, about dramas; whether you look at Korean drama, or western dramas. I'm talking about the soap operas! In the west you call them "soap operas," right; in Korea we call them "dramas".

This thing is directly targeted towards women and your desire for romance. Pornography is targeted towards men's desire for sexual interaction. But dramas are targeted towards women; same spirit, same psychology. It teaches you about the love triangle, to be excited about love triangles, and that it's an exciting thing and an exciting way of life; and it's forbidden and foreboding, and it's amazing. And you'll see the protagonists moving through those love triangles, and they finally come to their final love, and it always ends up in a happy way, which is a lie. It always ends up in a terrible way in the real world! But just like pornography, it lures you in; using your desire for romance which you should have with your husband. Amen!

Spousal training day

That's why by the way, husbands make sure you get your training on with your wife; make sure you make at least one day a week! It doesn't matter how busy you are. One day a week, take your queen out. You have your day; have a beautiful meal, lunch - whatever it is. Winter camping if she's up to it; if she'll include that inside the day! Hey, go for it! Most ladies won't, okay; I'm just being honest with you. Take her to a good place, and then remember, we have to create an attitude of gratitude in our family. That's a great training and very important training that you must continue to do. This you're five percent; you got to do it, right! We have to do it in our marriages. So we are constantly dating our queen! We're excited about our relationship with our queen! Amen! Men!

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord Almighty! And that's important!

And then on that day it's not just, "Hey! Eat good food etc!" That's part of it, good, good. But remember, repeat the blessings of gratitude.

Just like when Isaac gave the blessing to Jacob, he didn't say, "Son! You know that I've given you the blessings!" No! No! He said he gave him the verbal blessings, "May your lineage and your descendants be prosperous, etc!" He gave the actual blessings through his mouth. Same way! We give the blessing as the priest of our home, to our wife, okay; we give blessings upon her too.

So on your spousal training day, make sure whatever it is -Red Robin, McDonald's- it doesn't matter what it is, as long as you're getting that face-to-face time and you're investing in your queen; investing in her, pouring into her, telling her why you're grateful God has given you her. Now I'm not saying go overboard and gush, gush, gush, because that may turn out negative.

But the point is: Don't appear weak or anything! You're still man, okay, "I worship you! I worship you!" Don't worship her! That's idolatry; you can't worship your queen. But you can express gratitude. Amen! Yeah! Okay! Don't worship, don't worship; don't worship! That's reserved for God.

But you can give gratitude, three things of gratitude and vice versa. Then she can say three things why she's grateful for having a king and a priest like you. Very important! That encourages both. That reminds us that we're on the same path together, that we have the same purpose in God's dispensation; that we want to effectuate His will together. Amen!

That is power, and you got to make that investment. It's like putting into your bank account. You got to put into your bank account on a regular basis, otherwise it's going to be banco - that means zero-real quick and can go negative. So we don't want that. Why? Because you are the front line, folks! This is what people don't understand; the Body of Christ many times doesn't understand this. That's why Father is talking about the Blessing as being central; it's the front line! Satan wants to attack that! You understand?

Deconstruction of the family

Any Communist doctrine, any, and we know Communism is the actual ideological framework system that can use masses to effectuate real Satanism. That's why Father called it "political Satanism". Every single centralized government doctrine is built upon the deconstruction of familial ties and relationships; you understand it? Because any allegiances that we may have to one another's family have to be deconstructed, and then reasserted to the state!

Plato talked about it 500 years before Christ; Aristotle didn't agree with it, but Plato talked about it. People don't know Plato was a Commie, and a lot of his views are Commies. It's sad that our higher education has a platonic pedagogy.

The point is: In any centralized body that is trying to effectuate political Satanism on a people, on a nation, you must deconstruct family allegiances; you must undermine them, you must separate them and then reassert them towards the state. So, if you look at Confucianism for example -it's an eastern example- same thing! It uses familial language to confuse people, to say that your dad is like the emperor of your house, and in the same way as you practice emperor worship to your dad, you have to do the same thing to the real emperor, which of course is a political Satanist pyramid. It's an Egyptian- pharaoh type of political Satanist view!

Now in the Kingdom, the citizens have to become kings and priests together with Christ in a decentralized way and that's why the citizens also have the rights of kings and kingship, and that's why armament is important, because every kingdom has arms.

But the point is: That whole dynamic of strong family is critical. We may pooh-pooh that. No! No! Tactically that's humongous! That is the battleground where Satan wants to tear down, because if we break down that societal unit, that's like separating the Green Berets S.W.A.T. teams or whatever, the Special Forces teams. Then he's able to get in there and separate them and create confusion, division; male versus female, husband versus wife.

You know feminism is designed to do that. It creates resentment and anger in the wife and calling marriage the "slavery bed," etc -all this kind of thing; when really if you take feminism you're going to be enslaved by radical feminist women who are going to be your slave masters. You're not going to have a husband that will protect you and that will form a strong societal unit. So they have to break that down; they have to break that down. But in God's Kingdom we have to build that up. Amen!

Invest in your spouse

So, training involves that as well. Training disciplines us: physical training, harder training, outdoor training and bush craft survival training, or martial arts training; that all strengthens our inner spirit, inner perseverance and our tolerance for pain and thing like that.

But at the same time we must also pay attention to our spousal relationship; once we get blessed we have to be investing in that relationship because in the end, it is tactically the place that Satan wants to crack open and destroy. Amen! So with our kings and queens, our relationships have to be good and strong; tight. We have to be pouring into them; at least on a weekly basis we need that face time.

Amen!

The Queen needs face time! Men we can bond by doing things shoulder to shoulder right, fixing a Harley together or going out and playing basketball, or whatever the case may be. You know what I'm saying? We can do stuff like shoulder to shoulder and bond. If girls are bonding shoulder to shoulder usually they're fighting about something. It's face to face! The face to face is what's important. Face- to- face bonding time is critical for women. There are studies on eye movement and how they have 27 times more eye movement in terms of looking and reading at the face; I mean there are all these kinds of studies on that! So we need to have that face-to-face time with our spouse.

And know many guys are thinking, "Well, in our intimate relationships, I'm looking at her, right!" No! No! No! Not for her okay; for her that's not face-to-face time! The face-to-face time is a time for recommitting, and she can see you again, and know that you are involved and investing in her etc. So that spousal date-training day, and taking that seriously is absolutely critical. Those who take it seriously and do it consistently on a weekly basis, you will be blessed; God's going to bless you. That doesn't make you perfect, but God is going to bless you. Amen! If you hear it and you don't do it, I mean...! Again it's our five percent responsibility whether we do it or not, right. But just make sure you invest; that's a very, very important principle in our marriages because that's the center.

Of course, Boaz in the story of Ruth he understands that once he marries her, he's going to invest in her and build her up. Christ too as a Redeemer once he saves his people, and as a Bridegroom he's going to invest in his bride, and he's going to raise them up. Amen! It's not like Christ saves us and then he says, "Okay, go your way now and don't bother me no more!" Right? He keeps on relating with us; he keeps on investing in us on our walk of faith.

In the same way, as the priest of our home we have to make sure we are investing in our partner; our queen who's helping us evangelize and teach the children godly ways, and the people in our kingdom godly ways. That's your partner in crime; in good crime, against Satan and Satan's kingdom. Amen!

Sose, and "outcast communities"

So the Book of Ruth has a lot of these elements embedded within it. That's why even with the Rod of Iron Riders, we'll be developing out that ministry further, and we're making networks and friendships into the different motorcycle groups, and groups like that.

Of course when we go down to Florida next week, please pray for us in establishing a holy site. Please pray for the President, and for any of the sites that we may see there, in terms of potential bases or camp campgrounds etc, as in Texas. Please pray for that as well! And of course for any of the meetings; we have very important meetings scheduled there, that we will be having; so please pray for those meetings as well okay.

They involve different "outcast communities," but they're not. I mean you all have seen Sose's video on Demon's Row; he just did a video talking about the Pagans' national president. Pagans is a large MC 1% Diamond club in this area; they kind of rule this tri-state area. And they arrested the national president of the club. It probably was a set up, but the point is: they got him under illegal weapons' charges! He was carrying a 45; uh, every American should be carrying a 45, or at least a nine mill! Come on!

But the point is: They got him to go to Jersey or something like that. So now they got the president of that big club in custody for federal crime! Why? Because they're clamping down on any groups, any groups that allow for Alpha Males to be males, and to gather together and be organized. They're clamping down on every group!. So that's of course coming down the pike, but we understand that. It doesn't mean that any of these groups is perfect, etc; no group is perfect. Every group is made up of lots of moving parts, lots of moving people.

But the point is: It's time for all these groups - and that's what Sose was saying and he's absolutely right on it - it's time for all these groups that have beefs with one another to put that to the side. They may have histories with one another, where they're kind of like at war with one another; but they got to put that to the side. That's the message he's always putting out, "You got to put this aside, folks! We have to come together, or we'll die hanging separate!" Amen!

So it's a very important message that our brother- in-Christ associate is putting out, and God bless him! You guys, follow him online please, if you don't already. You know we've been on his program many times and they do live church. Biker clubs do live church on Sunday. It's not like officially a church; it's just kind of where they get together, and he has an open church forum. He's been talking with me on how to get us involved, so we can be part of that. We're still in talks with them.

But anyway, the point is: Please pray for Sose as well, because he's giving a strong unifying message. He is a Diamond 1 %er. He's got inroads into all the major clubs, and whenever we travel anywhere I give him a call; then with any clubs that we may run into, he'll just make sure that we're good wherever we go. It's an amazing thing!

But people like him are critical. He's preaching a unifying message. He's saying, "Look! All these beefs that we had in the past, put them aside for now, okay. Let them go, because now you have a real enemy!" The Socialist and Communists hold all branches of power, in a nightmare scenario which we talked about the last thirty years, but it never really got actualized. This is the nightmare scenario where actual open Socialists and Communists control the major branches of power in the US. And we know what happens with that historically!

So he's preaching a unifying message that is saying, "We got to put the beefs aside and we got to stand as one, because they come for one group they're coming for all groups!" Just like in Australia or someplace in Europe, you can't even ride in a stack more than three people otherwise you get pulled over by the cops; unfortunately that system has become Nazi cops.

They are coming after groups!

We want police to be accountable to the People; that's why America has a sheriff's model. So the Kingdom Constitution has a sheriff's model, and centralized police is illegal in the Kingdom Constitution. Amen! It's illegal! Centralized police are illegal; federalized police are illegal, and federal military is illegal as well.

So the point is: Unfortunately once Socialists, Communists, political Satanists take the reins of power, they utilize centralized enforcement agencies to effect bad things on the people; just like they did in Germany. Hitler legally came to power, and he legally took control of the SS, the police there, and then he legally went after the Jews! Yes, okay 80% didn't go along with it, but he just needed 10 to 20% of the people, and they could ravage that country to pay off the bankers; steal the Jews' assets and then pay off the bankers. Because Hitler had gone into debt through the war, etc.!

It's always, always the genocide orders that come from the Commies. It's the Repo man; it's the Grim Repo! He's coming knocking on your door because, "Where's my money? Now I'm going to genocide the Jews! I'm going to genocide the Armenians! I'm going to genocide the Koreans or the Chinese normal people, so that I can steal their assets and give them to the banks!" That's why governments have never gotten rid of genocide in the 20th century, and have murdered over 220 million people! By far; by far, the most dangerous force on the planet! Even though the common criminal is somewhat dangerous, centralized power is way more dangerous! Just statistically speaking, these are just the facts! This is probably considered hate speech and inciting violence, on YouTube, but it's just facts; that's all it is.

So the point is: Different communities are inevitably targeted; and of course Trump supporters are in, the libertarians are in there, and the normal Trump supporters are now being called in public a "domestic terrorist!" A "domestic terrorist", that's language that we usually kept for ISIS, "I actually want to cut your head off and eat your heart." We usually kept that language for those types of people! Now they're talking about it for the Trump supporter and the libertarian; the libertarian in terms of the patriot libertarian, usually tended to be very socially liberal.

But the point is: Even they are now included on domestic terrorist watch lists! This is now the dystopian reality that we are living in! I'm not trying to make anybody paranoid or scared or anything. All of you know all this.

But the point is: They're now coming after groups. The Pagans is a large group. With all the things that are going on, they want to target the Pagans, and get the national president who has leadership, and he has probably charisma; he's able to lead a whole bunch of tough guys. They want to get him on illegal weapons' charges, of which any one of us would be guilty under those laws, as having illegal weapons, a 45. A lot of us carry way more than that!

They want to criminalize the normal person, but basically under the Second Amendment, every American should be trained in firearms. Everybody should be a Rod of Iron king and a priest; at least in that cultural realm we should be defenders of our neighborhoods and our communities. Again, it's not saying that any of these groups are perfect.

The point is: They're being targeted! Are you with me, folks? Just because we talk about that group as an actual real world example, it doesn't mean they won't target us, or any other church that is based on freedom, or whatever the case may be. Of course they are going to do that! Because they see Christians; and especially if you're white, then you're a white bigoted, "white supremacist" Ku Klux Klan member; and "domestic terrorist" on top of that!

So they are trying to set the stage, and now going after groups that they have brainwashed the population to label as "outlaw groups". I mean a lot of these motorcycle clubs, what are they getting them on? They're getting them on illegal weapons' possession? You're in New Jersey and a 45 is illegal; that could have been any gun owner! But see how they use that language, to make it sound like you're an outlaw, and you're some kind of criminal?

The point is: These groups have to come together now, at least to be talking to one another and say, "Hey! We got beefs. Let's put them aside; we have to stand for America and stand for God and country!" One thing they really don't like about a lot of these Alpha Male organizations that are very, very, Alpha Male, is that women can't get in. You can't get in, and they're never going to change that. In MC Diamond clubs, women are not allowed in. It is what it is, okay! If you want to be in a women's club, go to a WC; but you're not going to get into an MC! There's nothing against women or anything, but you know, it's a man's club.

But it's time especially now, that these groups started coming together, because a lot of them are very patriotic actually; very, very, patriotic, very, very, patriotic people. Many of them combat Vets! Many of them very capable peoples; lawyers, doctors, all those folks are in there too, okay. So it's not just like some pre-made package that the media sells about a biker. No! No! There are lawyers, there are doctors; there are all sorts of people in there.

But the point is: It allows for males to be males, to be strong men and to be respected as strong men, and not training males to become weak men; because weak men allow what? Communism to come in; weak men allow Jihadis to come in, more radical dangerous ideological systems to come in.

So in the end that's why they hate also the Body of Christ Christian groups that understand that their allegiance is not to the state, but their fundamental allegiance is to God Almighty. Amen! And then also to our community, and to one another: the brothers and sisters, the fellowship, the brotherhood, the sisterhood, the lineage; all that is tied in.

So, in the time where they're now starting to slowly pick off on all these different groups that they've already labeled as "outlaw groups," or already put on government lists as "dangerous outlaw clubs" that are selling drugs, well who's the biggest drug peddler? Unfortunately it's the government; it's the CIA! This is the biggest peddler of drugs and they own the major heroin drug trade. This is a very sad reality; I mean nobody likes it. It's really sad reality, but it is what it is. So if we really want to go after the drug dealers actually they should all be arrested, shouldn't they? They should be the ones who are arrested. But of course since they're in power they don't arrest one another; that's kind of how it works in DC, right!

So they are going after the different groups that allow for patriotism to exist on some level; that allow for a male fellowship. And just like any invading army that must conquer and divide a nation which they've set their sights on destroying, you must create division between the Alpha Males. And then you must make them kill each other, and pretend to be a referee, and then pretend to be the savior and foster that division and fighting, and then act like you're the one swooping in, saving all civilization, "Look! We're catching them' we're going after them!"

No! No! Meanwhile they're the main criminal group which was clearly demonstrated in the fraudulent stealing of the presidential election before our very eyes! Unprecedented suicide -murder of America in front of our eyes! If you don't have the vote what have you got? What have you got? It's based on representative government! I mean, isn't it supposed to be? Colonial Americans were complaining to the British, "We don't have representative government! We're going to fight you!" Wasn't that kind of a big part of it?

So this kind of unbelievable criminality! But again that's why even semi-patriotic movements or groups, we have to be brotherhood and fellowshiping and strong together. Because, as the Founding Fathers said, "You either hang together or die hanging separately!" Stand together or hang separate! If we keep those beefs up, if we keep those gripes going, that's only a win for the Marxists, only a win for the international Communists, only a win for the political Satanists, to bring their real Chi-com system- which they've been testing on China and the poor people there to perfect it.

So they can have full censorship, full control of media information, full control of every aspect of your life, everything: surveillance cameras on every single street, recorders and things, and every single electronic device. I mean when we were talking about that seven years ago, people thought we were nuts! Remember this? People said, "Oh! They're paranoid; you people are paranoid!" No! No! It's real and it's now coming; it's already here!

So this is the time not for bitterness and infighting! It's the time to, "Hey! Let's put all aside! We stand together in brotherhood! We stand together to resist evil and what they're trying to bring, which is true evil!" Political Satanism, Communism, Socialism is a system fundamentally evil; based on immorality, theft, lasciviousness, sex trafficking, and of course murder. It is a system based on that; that is the fundamental pillars of it! Are you with me, folks?

So we have to resist that, as James chapter 4: 7 says, and some of our cool shirts out there say, "Resist the Devil! Resist the Devil! Resist the Devil, and he will? (Flee)!" Very, very important; very important!

Please, pray for our mission in Florida

So, we've got to be praying! Please pray for us when we go down to meet some of the biker groups etc, at the Daytona Bike Week, as we roll down through there; please pray for us because we're going to be on the streets. If you have Bibles, give them to us; we already have a couple of boxes of Bibles that we're going to be handing out with the Rod of Iron Riders. We have DVDs; Dr. Panzer is going to give us a whole bunch of DVDs on how to overcome sexual sin. So we're going to be there in a non-invasive way because I don't want to get shot in the face on the street - I'm just joking!

But the point is: We're going to be there praying for people. The Florida team is coming down too; the Florida Sanctuary folks are going to be down with us. We'll be praying, we'll be ministering - whatever we can do- just to stand in solidarity with them. Praying for safety, praying for the rides, whatever they're doing; but just being there for them. So if you have extra Bibles please leave them at the front desk; we will bring them down. If you have more DVDs, Dr. Panzer, send them our way!

The point is: We have to understand folks, again, how God brought in Ruth who was an outcast and an orphan. God is bringing people to Himself in this end times who have not been church-ed, who have not been part of a strong and stable community, who grew up many times in tremendous abuse, dysfunction etc, etc; the list goes on and on. But God wants them to be saved. Amen!

And they can be saved! But then of course after being saved, they need to walk; they need to walk in sanctification and that comes with training. Now training begins; now you got to start training, right; because all our sins and our bad habits don't go away. Our sins get washed away, but our bad habits... How many know about bad habits? (Raising hands) Amen! Okay, okay; okay! At least we've got an honest church, "Confess your sins to one another!" Praise God! That's what the Body of Christ is supposed to do!

But the point is: The habits stay with us. So after we're saved, now we got to get into the fighting arts, spiritually, and that's why the physical fighting arts help us too; defensive arts help us, because they build a mentality of the fighting warrior spirit. That's why please everybody join up for our Rod of Iron Patriot class, etc. Get your firearms training; get your martial arts training, etc, etc.

Get into the modality of the fighting spirit, because as Ephesians 6 says, "You got to put on that armor of the warrior: the helmet of salvation, to belt of truth, the breastplate of righteousness, the shield of faith, the sword of the spirit!" You know what I'm saying? "The feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace!" Okay! All that kind of good stuff! You got to put that on! That is the symbol of a fighter! It's not just like a coffee- drinking Starbucks fighter, fighting to save the world, and a social justice warrior!" No! You understand? That's real; you're fighting evil. You're fighting against evil; fighting real evil!

So that's what a spiritual battle is, the spiritual walk of life with Christ. He's the captain of the Holy Host; he's the captain of the army of God. You understand? Standing with Christ is standing in an army! Are you with me, folks? That's why we got to be warriors, and that's why the training is so important once we're saved and we are in Christ fold. Then we have to start training ourselves. Why? That helps us get rid of the bad habits; helps us to have brotherhood and fellowship with people who keep us accountable and check up on us. Are you with me, folks? And it allows us to continue to build our skill set, and have great, incredible adventures centered on God.

But the point is: We're growing and also we're developing new habits, new neural pathways, so to speak; new neural pathways that form and help us keep away from sin, and develop more godly habits that keep us running towards the Light of Christ. Amen! And to our salvation! (Applause) Oh! God is good! So please pray for us. We're going to be heading down this week, and if you have extra Bibles, please give them.

Pastor Sean's Prayer:

Father God, we thank You for this beautiful day that You've given to us! God, we thank You because Your heart of salvation is now pouring out across the world, even though there is so much tribulation that America is now facing; we face the most dangerous time of our history really, where we're seeing the vote being murdered in front of our eyes, where we've seen a totally illegal election. We see the usurpers have illegally taken power of all branches of government, and we're living in that; and now they're starting to move and starting to clamp down on all sorts of people and groups.

God, we are in very dangerous times! But we know that even in the midst of tribulation, as Your Word says, "There may be weeping through the night, but joy cometh in the morning." And we know that You are standing with us at this time. God, this is a time of great testing! So please fortify us! Give us the armor that we talked about right now: "The breastplate of righteousness, the helmet of salvation, the belt of truth, the shield of faith, the sword of the spirit!" Give us, "the feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace," so we can move with peace in the midst of war and we can move with a clear mind and clear strategy, clear pathway, clear vision and mission, purpose, objectives, as we move through the battleground!

Dear God, let all the beefs go to the side!

Let all the groups that have even a little semblance of patriotism and little semblance of respect for God -given human rights and values come together at this time; this critical time! Our Founding Fathers would say the same thing that, "We either hang together or hang separately!"

It is the time that the Chinese people faced under Mao!

It's the time that our North Korean brothers and sisters faced under the Kim regime!

It's the time that the Armenians faced under the Turks!

It's the time where all that similarity is now coming, and it's facing us and confronting us!

But we know Your hand is in this, God. We know that You are animating us for this contest of liberty, this incredible epic journey, and this incredible time to be alive with people and fellowship with brothers and sisters that we would never have met! It's because of Your grace; it's all because Your grace! And we are grateful!

We give You all the glory!

We give our thanks for our families, our spouse,

We give our thanks for our children,

We give our thanks for our parents,

We give our thanks for our grandparents,

We give our thanks for our brothers and sisters in Christ,

We give our thanks for the kingship lines.

We give our thanks for the royal priesthood that You've set up in each one of our families!

We thank You God, because through this difficult time of tribulation Your Kingdom is coming. That is guaranteed; Your Kingdom is surely coming! So we have great anticipation, great hope, even in the midst of preparedness and even in the midst of danger.

Let us always, always, see the light of Your Kingdom!

We thank You God for all the people that are here.

If there's anyone that is tied in sin and they want to be removed from that, they want to accept You as their Lord and Savior, we ask that, as they pray, as they ask You to become their Lord and Savior, that You would enter their heart, that You would fill them with the Holy Spirit, as they acknowledge their sin and repent of their sin and cast it aside for better days ahead in You. We pray that You would fill them with Your spirit, fill them with power, and then lead them to transform their life through actual effort, to start training, to becoming a patriot, to becoming a warrior for God both in the physical and in the spiritual!

We thank You for all the things that You're doing across the world. We pray that You may bless this Florida trip and mission; that all objectives would be fulfilled for Your glory!

We thank You, and give You all the praise and glory this day Thank You for the Scripture of Ruth today and for all the incredible things that You have taught us and continue to show! Thank You, God! Father, we give You all the praise, glory and honor with all the Kingship lines gathered here. In your precious name, we pray. Amen! Amen! Aju!

All right folks, let's all rise and give Him the glory!
