For God So Loved the World

June 26, 2022 - Japan

Good morning folks. Praise the Lord Almighty! We're hitting you from the mission field here in Chiba prefecture near Tokyo.

Great victories in America

What amazing victories God is giving us in America! Praise God Almighty!

Thank you all the micro and macro, for standing up for life and standing up for another Supreme Court decision that now gives concealed carry in public a total constitutional Supreme Court status. Such unbelievable victories at the Supreme Court level! Thank God for Justice Clarence Thomas and the Trump appointees; they did their job. Everybody in the whole body of Christ has been praying for them, especially to stop the baby slaughtering and return that power back to the states where thirteen trigger laws will ban abortion

<https://www.washingtonexaminer.com/policy/healthcare/13-states-abortion-trigger-bans>

Or at least put a Heart Bill in so that the kids can't be killed at heartbeat age.

<https://www.fox19.com/2022/06/24/ohios-heartbeat-bill-is-now-law/>

So just unbelievable cosmic-level transformation and change that is happening in America at this time!

Everybody here at the microcosm is praying; we're touring and everybody's been doing cheonseong and rally. So we thank and we honor everybody who's been in this fight; fighting for the right to life, fighting for the babies in the womb and of course fighting for the Second Amendment, and the Supreme Court showing that this is a constitutional right. You do not pass the threshold of your house and then all of a sudden you can't carry, like in New York or California. This is going to totally revamp the situation; it's now going to force the states to have to deal with "shall- issue" laws for the Second Amendment in New York City, California, Hawaii. Just unbelievable how much that's going to transform America!

Yes, massive victories on that front but again a massive loss: the “red flag” laws have passed in the Senate and will be passed through the House; the “red flag” laws are coming, folks! So there are upcoming battles; of course that has to go all the way to the Supreme Court. Clarence Thomas, a beautiful American hero, stood up for not only the right to life but also the Second Amendment and he'll probably do it again, and those Trump appointees will throw the “red flag” laws out. Let's pray for that. We are so happy and we're so thankful to God that these incredible things are happening.

We are here reporting to you from the mission field. We had an amazing Tokyo rally yesterday. We had disruptors from the Family Fed who were paid to come and try to distract, but only seven of them came; so weak, so pathetic! At the end we prayed for them, tried to even give them the water, but we had to escort them out because they were making a ruckus and shouting, but in a very weak way, very spiritually inept and no power.

Of course we talked about righteousness and why we must pursue righteousness and Christ; not the accolades of man etc. So it was a great Tokyo night; the Holy Spirit was moving so powerful. It is very calm and peaceful here in Japan especially with the Holy Spirit moving. So many great things were happening there, but we'll give you updates as we go along. We just wanted to give you a great shout out.

We'll be now going back to our originally scheduled video. (Which was recorded Friday June 24th)

So, good morning folks in PA, Tennessee, Texas and all around the world joining us this morning for Sunday service. God bless y'all and thank you for holding down all the different places around the world. We are here in Japan. A shout out to Mr. Baba who made me this beautiful staff!

Unbelievable folks! Again just as it happened in Seoul! I'm here in Tokyo, Japan; we're getting ready for the events coming up this Saturday and Sunday with hundreds of people gathering, and guess what? I'm doing my morning routine, morning push-ups and bam! I tear a trapezius, one of the upper back muscles. I tear it, so I've been on the acupuncture trying to heal this up, but again it happens right at the beginning almost as it did in Korea except that there it happened at the end. But I know that Father has a purpose for that and I will talk about that a little later.

Today we are in Mark chapter 9, in this beautiful bamboo forest. This is a property that was headed by the original Baptist missionaries here in Japan. As you know Christianity is very tiny in Japan; the Unification Church is probably one of the biggest denominations here, if not the biggest. Japan is a totally different landscape from Korea. In Korea the Gospel has spread to 33% of the whole population with millions of Christians saved by the blood of Christ. But not in Japan; Japan has an imperial family that is tied to Shintoism, so it's very -let's say- resistant to conversion. But again who knows? The Holy Ghost is moving very powerfully.

Mark 9:42-50“Offend Not the Little Ones”

42 And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

44 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

Praise the Lord Almighty! Folks we're in this beautiful bamboo grove with new shoots. This is a new bamboo from which they made me a nice little staff to help me out as I apparently tore my back. Just ridiculous! I never get injured like this. Doing one hundred push-ups is part of my daily routine, and every single day a hundred squads; daily routine, and boom! I tear it right when I get here.

Father's great lesson

So again I knew that it was Father's sign. Japan is very interesting because the religious landscape here is one of a lot of idol worship.

For example we were talking about the different daimyos and a different samurais here:

Toyotomi Hideyoshi <https://www.britannica.com/summary/Toyotomi-Hideyoshi> and Oda Nobunaga and these different samurais are very big daimyos. Oda Nobunaga actually had Christian influence and so did Toyotomi Hideyoshi's tea master who is the father of Urasenke tea tradition here in Japan; he was a Buddhist monk but he was actually heavily influenced by Christianity and Christian missionaries. Japan has a long historical tradition of Christians coming in and spreading the Gospel but of a lot of resistance because of their imperial heritage that's tied with Shinto religion and pagan worship. There's a lot of idol worship. For example those samurais and those daimyos, those generals, they're worshipped here. They have shrines and people go there and worship them which of course from a Christian perspective is not allowed; that is not appropriate.

Same thing! There is a tendency with anybody who is culturally Japanese to do the same with the Second King who represents True Father's hands and feet, and who is True Father's heir and successor chosen by him, not by me, and with the Third King. We come here and there is a high probability that people will try to worship us.

So Father is stripping me of all my power. He tore my back up so I can hardly move; I'm a cripple. Once I start moving around my back and my neck I can hardly get any movement in it, even though I feel a lot better now speaking to you all folks. So I lose all my power, lose all my strength, and I'm at the acupuncturist getting these big needles into the back. I got to go back again today to try to get this better before the tour starts kicking off and it gets really busy on the planes and the trains, and in the event centers; every single place we go to we're going to be moving, hours and hours driving and commuting so it's going to be a painful ride for me.

But I think I know why of course Father is doing that to me: to take away all my physical strength and to realize that any of the miracles that happen has nothing to do with me. I am just His hands and feet as He told me in Korea, "You're just my hands and feet. So just be my hands and feet and show up." That's all I have to do. And the Holy Spirit will move; the Holy Spirit will affect the miracles and the different gifts that He desires; not me.

So it's very important for the Three Kingships and every generation in the future to always remember that Christ-centeredness; that even though Christ has a physical lineage and a kinship line on the earth, that those are the hands and feet; those are the hands and feet that He will use. But we are to always give the glory to the Holy Spirit, to Christ himself; Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Amen!

It's such an important thing folks, and such a critical thing especially here in this nation which does very easily idol worship, creates shrines and places of bowing for all these different heroes of Japanese tradition. So it seems that it's Father's warning and Father's big lesson and that's something I'm going to be focusing on and teaching when I'm going throughout the country.

Whosoever shall offend one of these little ones!

Now let's get back to Mark Chapter 9 because this is the place where of course he says, "And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea." That those who harm and are after the children, these are the ones that must be taken out in terms of being separated from that society. And of course it's better for those who would harm one of the kids in Christ or in the part of the Kingdom "that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea." Capital punishment for those who are after children!

The Left is pushing for LGBTQ transgenderism, Drag Queen Story Hour; they're pushing for pedophilia and trying to legalize pedosexuality. Actual professors are coming out saying that it is a type of sexuality that we should be open to and we shouldn't stigmatize them and harm them- in terms of isolating people who are of that demonic persuasion etc. They are trying to normalize it and this is turning and backfiring against these very people. Why? Because the American public coming from a Christian tradition knows that this is the final draw. This is it!

Not only did they first say, "Oh what are you so worried about? We just want to get married. What are you so worried about? We just want to have mutual consensual relationships etc, etc..." But it's a slippery slope. All of a sudden now twenty years later it's no longer that they want to get married. No! They want Drag Queen Story Hours, and they want these people who are convicted pedophiles dressing up as clown women, totally confiscating the identity of women and wearing a costume in a parody of a woman, and making children gyrate and sit on top of them as they do sexual dances in sexual clothing. I mean this is what's happening in Texas' we showed you the videos a couple of weeks ago.

Cut it off!

Folks, this is all happening so quickly so unbelievably fast and of course it's something that ABSOLUTELY must be resisted. It is in the end this network of the political Satanist, of Communists all tied in with the bad sex of the fall of Lucifer; Lucifer being the first pedophile, the first sex trafficker and the first child GROOMER. So it's absolutely critical that America stands against these wicked demons, and of course that all the people of this world stand against this type of demonic culture which is totally antithesis to Christianity and totally antithesis to the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

It's such an incredibly intense time folks! Even here in the Scripture in Mark chapter 9 he says "if the hand offends thee, if the eye offends thee, if the foot offends thee, you've got to cut it off". That's dealing with of course with our personal life where we have to get rid of sin. We have to fight. The eyes should not just be into pleasure and hedonism and pornography and prostitution and adultery and sexual licentiousness and all these things. We have to cut that off metaphorically speaking; we have to attack it with strength; we have to stand against it with unyielding strength.

Why? Because it will prevent us from getting into the Kingdom. That type of sexual lust and hedonism which rich nations fall into all the time, that will STOP us from going into the Kingdom of God; that will STOP the manifestation of the Kingdom of God on earth, CIG, where freedom and responsibility, gifts given to us by God, are the core pillars of the society.

So it is absolutely critical to resist anything that is holding us; if it is in the way and stopping us we must make the critical decision at that point of whether or not we're going to hold on to that. If it is lust, either we are headed towards prostitution and sexual licentiousness or we're going to cut that culture out and decide, "No we're going to go towards the Kingdom of God. We're going to go towards freedom and responsibility. We're going to go towards an armed society where people can protect their values and not be run over by the state."

It must be absolutely resisted

As you know the Left loves guns more than ANYBODY; they love using the guns of the STATE to force YOU and me and our families and our children and grandchildren to accept all their demonic pleasures and sexual licentiousness et cetera. They LOVE guns; they love the POWER of the state using those guns with barrels pointed right at you, threatening you with every new law that is passed through Congress and through all the little circus courts that they create in order to bring about the totalitarianism that they desire, bring about the sexual licentiousness that they use to blackmail people and use to control people, and use to pleasure themselves and of course get off the hook. But they need the general population to become licentious and immoral so that they can get away with their crimes and the demonic lustful things that they want to get away with.

The point is: we have to say “no” to that culture. And thank God America is saying “no” to that culture. The LGBTQ are coming out harder, harder and harder with the transgenderism, trying to take over girls’ sports with biological men taking them over. They’re trying to do Drag Queen Story Hour with convicted pedophiles actually being caught at the libraries doing these shows, having children gyrate on time, and doing these sexual dances around children. Unbelievable! This is turning America against them; it's backfiring.

So it is a great thing that Americans are starting to wake up and realize that these people are not here just for a HARMLESS innocuous type of lifestyle. No! They're here to promote and evangelize. That's what we talked about before; it's like the church of Satan- not actually the legal organization but how the church of Satan operates. It's the same way. They have a praise team, they have Hollywood; they have praise songs that are always promoting adultery, promoting sexual licentiousness, promoting lesbian kissing in Buzz Lightyear, and all these kinds of ridiculous things. They have a Praise & Worship Team. They have an evangelism team through the media through the educational system with brainwashing children into becoming slaves of the state and trusting in government rather than God, and trusting in the ethics that are forced instead of the ethics that are given to us by God.

So it is such an unbelievable critical time, but it must be RESISTED; ABSOLUTELY must be resisted! It's that strong resistance folks, that is the power to stop these demonic forces from entering in, taking over, destroying and RAVAGING the Christian nature of our society and of course of the whole of Western civilization AND the modern world.

Fundamental Christian tradition

Because in the end the modern world is beholden and springing out from the Christian tradition; it is fundamental to it. All this freedom and this modernity that we enjoy in the modern world; all this reliance on the law which is the Logos, something that is representing the ethics of the highest thing that is God, and the unalienable rights given to us by God, the right of self-defense, the right of free speech, all these things that are given to us by God. And the actual proclamation and declaration that we are made in the image of God, that is the fundamental THESIS of where liberty and freedom and self-determination come from. It doesn't come from government, it comes from God.

These are all principles that we take for granted in the modern world, but these are principles that are FUNDAMENTAL to our system of jurisprudence, FUNDAMENTAL to our system of balancing of powers, and FUNDAMENTAL to our systems of self-defense and armed citizenry. All these kinds of things are FUNDAMENTAL.

It started from the Logos who became flesh and out of chaos created order THROUGH the WORD, through a structured organization of words that is motivated by LOVE, so that it MANIFESTS the Kingdom of God or the nature of God on the earth in a REAL way. That whole THESIS is the fundamental CRUX of what we take for granted in the Western world, in the modern world. Folks, it's such an absolutely critical thing and it starts FROM our belief in God; it starts FROM the ethics that we derive from God.

Meaning first

I saw this beautiful lecture with Jordan Peterson and a perceptual scientist. They were talking about the limits of cognitive science and where cognitive science and those who are creating AI and trying to produce artificial intelligence and consciousness etc, those people who are in that whole field were hitting a block.

The post-modernists in terms of literary criticism are saying that there's a multiplicity of ways to interpret any given thing or any Hamlet or the Bible. Empiricists or rationalists are generally atheists. Their idea of how we perceive things and how we perceive the world is that we perceive the world and see objects, and then on top of those objects we impute meaning; we impute, "Oh there's a bamboo, there's a camera, there are shoes; there's a sky and a canopy that is the heavens, etc." We use all this type of language or whatever to impute meaning onto these dead objects.

But through the actual studies of cognitive science, the actual studies of artificial intelligence, the actual studies of even the limits of postmodernism, people are realizing that in reality that is false. We do not just see objects and impute meaning to those objects; we don't just see patterns of reality and then impute meaning upon those patterns of reality.

For example there's a study done on kids who can crawl at about six to eight months of age and there's one table here and then there's a cliff and then there's a piece of glass and there's another table. So the kids now are crawling and they see this cliff - it's called "the visual cliff experiment" - and they stop at the cliff as if they knew they were going to fall down. Of course we know that at this age they're not able to make computations and this type of rational logical deductions and things like that.

So what is happening here is not that the child is really seeing an object or pattern of reality such as a 90 degree angle knowing that if he goes off of it he may fall because the force of gravity will pull him down and he'll be a pancake on the floor. No, no! The child is not able to compute that at his age or her age of six-month old, seven-month old, tiny little babies that can't even walk. The child is not able to compute that. Instead what do they see?

They see not the object and then impute meaning. No! They see MEANING first and then interpret the object! It's the opposite of what the post-modernists believed. Cognitive scientists now realize that it's the OPPOSITE of what the 19th century Foucault and Sartre and all these post-modernists believed. These people were atheists and of course they were pedophiles as well so that's another thing to understand about a lot of the post-modern thinkers; they were PRO sexual licentiousness, they were using atheism as a means of demonic sexual licentiousness.

But the point is: the view that we see objects and then we see meaning is false. The actual studies show No! It's the opposite. The kids when they're crawling and see that cliff, they actually see a meaning first they see a falling off PLACE. That's what they see first and then they're able to impute on a 90 degree cliff, force of gravity all those things; they're able to put patterns of reality and connect them to those things even though they don't understand them. But they see MEANING first.

We too folks, we see meaning first. For example in terms of an apple, if there's an apple we see the apple and we don't just see an object in which we impute the word "apple" to. No! In fact we see the Platonic functioning element of it; that is to say that the apple functions at its highest peak form for what? To be good to eat and good for our survival. So the apple is good, it's not rotten, it's sweet; it's able to give us nutrients and calories et cetera. So it has its Platonic functionality.

But at the same time the apple itself has an ethic, what is called an "ethic of aiming," that is to say: "Why is it that you believe that apple is good so that you can eat it?" Why? Because eating it lets us live and living well. Do you want to continue on living? Why do you want to do that? Because living has a purpose and if living has a purpose then the decisions you make are important.

So in other words when you see an apple you don't first see an object and then impute meaning onto it. No! Instead all of that meaning that we just talked about -in terms of seeing the apple- is there; as soon as you see the apple you are reading meaning into the object instead of vice versa, object and then meaning.

This is what's such so fascinating about it: you realize that it's actually the opposite of what these atheists were claiming, and that MEANING and understanding the world through narratives and stories, this is the way we actually operate and behave in the world of real consequences; not just of literary criticism, but where there are actual consequences in the real world. For example if you don't aim properly with a car as you're driving, you can literally die; there's an actual consequence for not aiming correctly.

Imitate and reach higher

The point is: this is showing that we as human beings have to reach HIGHER. As a people we have to find purpose and meaning in life that we have to be able to reach. That's why this cognitive science would talk about things like for example looking up into the sky and experiencing that sense of awe and what's called a piloerection or the hair standing in the back of the head and chills down your spine. This type of religious experience that people get even though they're not religious, when they look up into this infinitude of space- at least the closest thing they'll ever experience of infinity - and by some way of that they feel this incredible awe. They feel this desire to want to PRAISE it in a sense that, "Wow! It's so amazing," and in the sense that "I want to IMITATE in some way, that is to say I want to have my mind or my heart be VAST like that."

Or in terms of imitation as a little boy sees a huge giant warrior pass by and he feels this incredible terror and fear of the danger and the capability of aggression that this big beast of a man can use to defend his family and his nation etc, and so the child is in AWE of that incredible capability for aggression. But at the same time he wants to IMITATE; he wants to BE like that person.

And is that not the same in the religious sense that when we're praising God we are putting a focal point upon the point of worship that is Christ and the tragedy of the SUFFERING that he has endured? However it's not the end of the story: through the suffering

*there is triumph,

*there is resurrection,

*there is power

*there's this Holy Spirit

*there's a spreading of the Gospel and *there's a changing and transformation of the entire world and even time itself gets reset.

So isn't that all included into this incredible praise and worship where the focal point is Christ, the highest thing imaginable, the highest virtue imaginable? Thus we focus on that and we PRAISE Him in the sense that we feel this incredible AWE but at the same time we feel this incredible desire to imitate and to lift up so that

WE TOO can somehow be like Christ,

WE TOO can resemble the goodness which He resembles and

WE TOO can be a part of His providence.

May the harvest be plentiful!

Folks, that is so incredible! And of course that is what we're feeling when we're here in Japan and Korea. The Holy Spirit is pouring out, so many things are happening and of course as you see this video on Sunday -we're filming on Friday -we will already be done with Tokyo and we'll be moving on to the next place.

So please pray for us. Pray that the Holy Spirit moves in the hearts and minds of men. Pray that the Holy Spirit brings a sense of awe and also a sense of:

I want to be with the Holy Spirit and imitate the nature of Christ.

Let Christ live through me and I want to be able to spread the Gospel.

Why? Because it is out of that CHAOS that GOD through Christ, the Word, with the impetus of LOVE comes to save humanity.

-The flock that has been going to hell is now coming back on the pathway towards heaven.

-Those who are thirsty can now drink of the eternal waters of the wellspring of salvation; "those waters from which you shall never thirst again" (John 4:14)

-Those who are blind can see,

-Those who are deaf can hear;

-Those who are in death or on the pathway of death can live and receive the gift of eternal life. All these incredible things folks HAPPEN with the move of the Holy Spirit.

Even in the modern world cognitive science is showing the POWER of those things and that as human beings in the end we do see meaning, we do see story and that's why God has become flesh. He doesn't become this ineffable kind of thing; this is inanimate thing that we can't relate to. No!

He comes into reality,

He comes into the story,

He comes into the existence of humanity,

He comes and makes himself humble and

He stands amongst us in this incredible story even though we're not worthy and even though we're imperfect; even though we're full of flaws and we're jealous and we're sinful and all these things!

But GOD comes down to US and He LIFTS us through HIS love and grace and power and teaches us about mercy and grace and justice in that pursuing of the fatherly characteristics of mercy and justice; the ability to forgive but at the same time pursue justice and pass judgment saying, "You're not enough there, you can get better. So I want you to get BETTER."

That fatherly spirit is absolutely critical and this is what we're encountering both in Japan and Korea as the fall of the Han mother has led SO many people to Satan and so many people to HELL. They've been feeling it the last 10 years but now they're starting to come back because the Holy Ghost is moving powerfully. He's calling back His sheep and they know the voice of the shepherd.

Folks, please pray for us as we are now on this tour and we're moving like a bamboo windmill through this incredible place. Pray for us and pray that the HARVEST may be great, and the workers may be plenty and may be working together with God's providence and that the Holy Spirit may SET a new fire in this land of Japan, and that all the people that know Christ may come BACK to His authority, come BACK to standing with His Kingship, and for themselves to be coronated as kings and priests, queens and evangelists in the Kingdom of God!

God bless you, folks! God bless, Godspeed, and may His Kingdom come!

Let's worship Him today! Praise God!
