Miércoles 12 de mayo
18.30 horas, por Zoom

Argentina -- On May 12, 2021, UPF-Argentina recognized and appointed 13 new Ambassadors for Peace (1) in our monthly meeting, with more than 100 connections on Zoom (2). Representatives and individuals from different areas were recognized for their values and good practices, and this was shared in the media (3).

The program, brilliantly moderated by Ambassadors for Peace Luba Opeka and Mario Cáceres, began with an introductory video on UPF's mission and work (4). "Together we will be stronger, and together we will achieve more results for God and humankind," expressed Simao Ferabolli, secretary general of UPF-South America, in a brief message shared in the beginning, where he especially greeted new and active Ambassadors for Peace. He appreciated "this great global network of Ambassadors," for their work building a "peace culture" to "finally witness the Kingdom of Heaven established on Earth. This was Jesus' wish for more than 2,000 years," which is currently being carried out by "Father and Mother Moon."

Carlos Varga, director of UPF-Argentina, briefly expounded on the first UPF Peace Principle: "We are one global family with the same Creator," starting with reflecting on the mission of the Ambassadors for Peace. "Can we say that, among the thousands and millions of elements existing in the universe, everything has occurred randomly" he asked. "The ecosystem is a great design, a great piece," he answered. "The universe and human life are not casual; they are at least causative," he continued, quoting Romans 1:20. "All that exists on earth, including human beings, is interconnected and is part of a great piece," he expressed. In the end, he talked about the duality of positivity and negativity in all creation, which allows its existence and perpetuity. Humans are the "exalted work of God (...) the masterpiece," manifested in "the union between men and women."

The recognized people were:

Julio Rodolfo Aro: President of the No Me Olvides Foundation, which promoted the recognition of Argentinian fallen soldiers in the Malvinas War along with the British Captain Geoffrey Cardozo.
