

A PERSONAL INVITATION

September 16, 2009

Dear Senator _____,

I write with deep abiding respect and love for America and its leaders, who truly hold the key to moving the world toward lasting peace. Senator _____, due to your vital leadership role during these challenging times, I personally and most cordially invite you and your spouse to be our guests at a very special forum. Mrs. Moon and I are hosting this event for select government, academic, business and religious leaders. Please know that this is the first and last time that we will host such a meeting.

This significant conference in Washington, DC, at the Hilton Alexandria Mark Center Hotel in Alexandria, Virginia, starts on the evening of Tuesday, September 29, and concludes at lunch on Saturday, October 3. Our aim is to provide you with a new perspective and deep inspiration based on timeless truths, which we feel offer substantial hope for humanity.

This year I celebrated my 90th birthday, and although many people have heard about me, very few have met me personally or understand the depth of my life's work.

My mission in life has been to educate leaders and citizens with a deeper understanding of the central importance of faith, family and fidelity. One critical concern is to secure God's guidance for America and her leaders as we strive for a world of lasting peace.

At this forum, we will discuss universal principles common to all faiths and their application to the spiritual crises facing our world today. Principles such as living for the sake of others, the centrality of the family, the role of men and women in God's providence, and the restoration of humanity as God's lineage have guided my life and work. I want to bequeath to you the invaluable lessons I have learned through my life experience and prayer about the resolution of human conflict.

I firmly believe that God holds great hope for America as an inspirational light for the world—the model nation in which children, women, the family and all faiths and races are respected and protected. When America remains true to its noble founding, God's blessings for this nation continue to flow. To further secure those blessings, we need divine guidance more than ever at this time.

We hope you will agree with the urgency of this important forum and will set aside time in your schedule to attend. Please pray about it and ask God to directly guide your decision about attending.

May God's blessings be with you and your family.

Sincerely,
