

You are on the right path - a dream of Father

Interesting dream with Father last night....

In my dream I was in an airport walking around and I saw True Father with a group of Koreans. Father looked like he was around 30 years old.

Those with him were very serious and acting like the burden of the world was on their shoulders. Father was trying to make them laugh but it was like they had forgotten how. I wanted to join Father and his joyful spirit so I got two luggage carts, they looked more like super skateboards and asked Father if he wanted to have a race. He jumped on one and went flying through the airport with me trying my best to keep up.

We were both laughing so hard. It was an amazing feeling to laugh like that with no inhibitions. Father won and he was happy. He asked me who I was and I could not remember. I looked for my wallet and it was not with me. I tried to explain that I did not know who I was and he gave me a really big hug and said "That's good, you are on the right path."

Then I woke up.
