Meet Uwineza Immaculee, a survivor of the Rwanda genocide.

虐殺孤児で、18歳時学校にくる。

内戦で両親を亡くし、夢も希望もなかったとき、学費支援のおかげで入学し、卒業し、学外実習を経験し、あるレストランのシェフを任せてもらうようになり、結婚し、家族の支援もできるようになった。「この支援のおかげで、虐殺後孤独だった私に生きる自信を与えてくれ、考えもしなか

"When I was 18, because I had lost my parents, I had no dreams or hopes. I started to attend New Hope Technical Institute, and I was able to graduate.

Because of the knowledge and moral education I received at New Hope, I was able to go far and become what I am now, and I am proud of it. I was able to intern at Okapi Hotel and learn pastry; they appreciated me and gave me a job. I have worked in restaurants and hotels; I have worked for diplomats and VIP's.

Now I can help others. I am now working for myself, able to employ others and train new people. I got married, and it is possible for me to

New Hope Technical Institute, one of 10 schools in Africa supported by WFWP, was founded after the Rwanda civil war to help women and ex-soldiers become financially independent. Students can choose from courses in culinary arts, dressmaking, and hairdressing. They graduate with marketable skills as well as, a sense that they are loved and valued.

Your gift of \$200, \$100, \$50, or whatever amount you choose, helps provide these students training equipment, such as ovens and refrigerators, and computers and scholarships! Your gift means a hopeful future for Africa.
