Raising up Alpha Males in the CIG culture

The King's Report - May 21st 2021

Let's go to our rhema today; we are in 2 Kings and Chapter 21 and 22:

2 Kings 21:19- 26

19 Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Meshullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah. 20 And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, as his father Manasseh did. 21 And he walked in all the way that his father walked in, and served the idols that his father served, and worshipped them: 22 And he forsook the LORD God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the LORD.

23 And the servants of Amon conspired against him, and slew the king in his own house. 24 And the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon; and the people of the land made Josiah his son king in his stead. 25 Now the rest of the acts of Amon which he did, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah? 26 And he was buried in his sepulchre in the garden of Uzza: and Josiah his son reigned in his stead.

2 Kings 20:1-6

22 Josiah was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty and one years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah of Boscath. 2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the LORD, and walked in all the way of David his father, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

3 And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of king Josiah, that the king sent Shaphan the son of Azaliah, the son of Meshullam, the scribe, to the house of the LORD, saying, 4 Go up to Hilkiyah the high priest, that he may sum the silver which is brought into the house of the LORD, which the keepers of the door have gathered of the people: 5 And let them deliver it into the hand of the doers of the work, that have the oversight of the house of the LORD: and let them give it to the doers of the work which is in the house of the LORD, to repair the breaches of the house, 6 Unto carpenters, and builders, and masons, and to buy timber and hewn stone to repair the house.

So you see the difference folks! You see the difference between Ammon who was wicked and followed his father Manasseh in worshipping idols, and King Josiah who does the opposite. He went back to the House of the Lord; he built it back etc, and he is one of the greatest monarchs of Israel.....

Jordan Peterson: monogamy vs. polygamy

Now it's interesting because I was hearing Jordan Peterson speaking and he was talking about monogamy and sort of the sociological statistics around monogamy versus polygamy. He's an agnostic even though he lives his life as if there was a God, so he's very positive towards Christianity and theistic Christianity, even though he has not himself said that he now believes in Christ, but you can tell the Spirit is working on him greatly, because every time he talks about Jesus and his wife's religious quest with Jesus because she's a Christian and he's very supportive of her; every time he talks about Jesus he starts crying, literally he starts weeping because of Christ's incredible love.

Anyway the point is: he is talking about monogamy, and he's saying society has developed ways to deal with the major issue of male aggression. Males produce like 99% of violence in society, especially young males, and especially those without fathers. But anyway the point is: males produce about 99% of the violence in society and that's always been the case.

Now he was saying, "Where does the predominance of that violence occur?" Well the predominance of that violence occurs in mating and striving. Isn't that interesting: striving for mating?

So, what is the reason why men want to look pleasing to women? They want to be accomplished, they want to get resources; they want to live heroically, etc. What is the reason? The reason is that they want the girl; in the end they want female attention. He talks about it in very evolutionary terms, but it's in that process of trying to find a mate and striving to try to find a mate, or competing to find that mate, that the most violence occurs.

Why? Because there's something about sexual relationship; when a man has sex with a woman that is so incredibly intimate, and it's unlike any other relationship. If it breaks down and then another man is interfering with that relationship, if that man's girl is with another man, now that has the potentiality of becoming lethal. You see that? Why? Because the intimacy of that relationship is now being broken, and is now being shared with another male!

To us it seems very much like common sense, but if you break down that dynamic, what's happening in that dynamic, now all the incredible feelings, the murderous feelings and homicidal feelings of jealousy, rage, vengefulness; all this stuff is starting to bubble up in the hearts of these males. And this is really what free sex culture creates; it actually creates a more violent society. You see, free sex culture doesn't only produce a licentious culture which is peaceful and prosperous; free sex culture also creates violence.

Male aggression from genetic perspective

Oh, my gosh! There are layers of this, folks! The Divine Principle's truth that True Father revealed about the sexual nature of the fall, and why we must be against free sex culture, practice abstinence and have fidelity in marriage. It not only produces stronger sociological family units, not only produces a more prosperous society, and not only does it stabilize society, but it produces less violence. You see, this is the problem; isn't it? Male aggression is the thing that must be quenched. He's saying that societies have come up with monogamy, so that they can prevent male aggression overflowing into lethality and homicide and murder. But this is an age-old thing, isn't it?

Look at all the Shakespearean plays, look at all the dramas and tragedies of the Greeks; look at all the stories. See, everybody knows; they never broke it down and analyzed it, but they know it by common sense. "Man, you don't mess with that guy's girl!" You tell your children and you train your boys, "don't mess with other men's women!"

Why? We may not break it out analytically, but we know some societal problems will occur for that fleeting moments of sexual pleasure with that girl; very Fellini! Now we are invoking upon society a man that will turn into a killer. So something happens, and it's very interesting: when there's a breach of that monogamous relationship, from a normal state that man can now become a killer; that man can now become a homicidal maniac; that man can do something that is beyond that which he is willing or ready to do in a normal state.

If we look at it from a genetic perspective, it's not only because his emotions are tied with that woman; he can't control his emotions and now he's all pissed and he wants to kill that guy. The point is: not only this man has this emotion with this girl and then another guy is getting involved and now he's going to freaking kill him. It's not only that the emotions are involved, folks; because from a genetic perspective, his genes are involved.

Killing that other man's bloodline

Because he had chosen this woman to be in an intimate relationship, which means genetically he's trying to reproduce with her, even though that may not be conscious in his mind - he may be using contraceptives or whatever, that doesn't matter - his genetics are saying, "reproduce, reproduce, reproduce." He's trying to reproduce with this woman and then another man is getting involved, and that's other sperm, that's other seed. So it's not only that his emotions are involved, he's pissed and jealous that this guy took his girl; he's also genetically angry, genetically murderous, because that man is trying to kill his seed. That man, that adulterer is genetically trying to stop his seed, and then implant his sperm and his seed into the fertile soil of that woman. So he's trying to kill that man's bloodline and try to plant his bloodline in that woman. Do you see what I'm saying?

So it's not only just emotions here, he's not just in a fit of rage; he's actually fighting for his descendants. Isn't that crazy? See, we don't usually break it down like this, do we? It's so crazy! But you think about it; think about how deep that is. There are so many layers of that. I was kind of mind blown by this analysis. I added the genetic analysis there but anyway I was mind blown by just the data on polygamy and the data on free-sex culture and the data compared to monogamy; that it produces such little violence or much less violence when people are faithfully monogamous

Successful Blessing Covenant

The Blessing covenant is so critical, and it's so critical to do this well, because in order to make a blessing successful there's a lot that husband and wife must do, okay. God does 95% but the 5% you have to do is a lot. You have to work, you have to build, you got to get down dirty; you can't let your emotions take control. You have to always see the bigger picture; you must always try to protect this marriage by seeing the bigger picture, and not letting Satan suck you into the weeds. You must always make sure that you iron out any turbulence quickly, and get back to hugging and kissing and apologizing to one another and thanking one another. You got to get back to that quickly; you got to get back to that baseline fast when there's turbulence.

Dysfunctional families

People don't understand this. The problem is not only that they don't understand it, but that most people have come from dysfunctional families, and the dysfunctional marriages of their dads and moms. They've not seen good marriages or they're divorced or whatever the case may be; they grew up with their mother etc. You know what I'm saying? They've seen only dysfunction. In that kind of scenario they are very unstable for marriage, unless they keep learning; they have to keep learning. They have to re-learn how to think and process information. Why? Because their baseline instinct is that of their mother if they're a woman, and their baseline instinct is that of their father if they're a man.

So if a boy grew up under a single mom what has he learned? He's not going to learn how to be a man from the mom right, but what has he learned from his father? Well, bang girls and abandon them; that's what he's learned. Which will inevitably lead to what? More societal violence, just as we discussed. If you are in a situation where you have the overwhelming baseline instinct of banging chicks and ditching them when they have babies, now you will have many babies; many moms with many other men involved in those relationships, you see. Which will lead to what? More societal violence, won't it. It will lead to what? More clashes of male aggression. Do you see how that's all connected?

If you're a girl and you grow up with a single mom what are you learning? You're learning that mom is the boss; you're under a matriarchy. So probability-wise, in the overwhelming majority, you will try to dominate your husband, and you will make all manner of terrible mistakes trying to dominate your husband. So if you had a mother and father, and the father was either absent or even though they were married he was emotionally absent, that is he did not involve himself in the issues of the children at all and was kind of just like an invisible figure even though he was in the house, then the girls will most likely become dominatrix; they will most likely try to dominate men. They will never be able to have a strong relationship with an alpha male, and they will just continue this pattern of matriarchy and the destruction of strong men through their bloodline.

Good alpha males stop male aggression

The only way that a male would have to become a strong male and set a strong male bloodline would then be to leave the bloodline that he's in; literally to run away from it, to split away from that type of matriarchy. Because matriarchs cannot produce strong and moral men; they can't. It's very, very rare, because all the baseline instincts have been flipped. He is not learning from an honorable male. You understand? The sons are not learning from an honorable man there is no male there; he's either a total weak beta male being dominated by this woman or the man is gone; so there's no way good alpha males and good protectors will be produced.

The only way that a young son of that household will become a stronger and good alpha male is by seeking a male mentor that is not a gang banger, seeking a male mentor that is actually a responsible alpha male. That's the only way he will be able to produce an alpha male home that will produce good males that will not lead to societal aggression. Do you understand?

What's the purpose of creating good males? Why do we have to create good males? Why can't we just produce beta males? Because beta males produce violence; they create the environment of violence! Because they don't raise up their sons, they can't control their sons and that male aggression! You need alpha males that are good so they can raise the next generation of males to use aggression properly! Do you understand? Wow! This is crazy man! There are so many layers in this; it's unbelievable!

That's why society absolutely needs alpha males, because literally it's the good alpha males that help stop male aggression, unwanted male aggression, which is basically murder, homicide, killing each other, lethality; this kind of stuff in society. Good alpha males help stop that; they're the only figure in society that can stop that.

The woman can't stop that, the Eve figures cannot stop that; the moms cannot stop that. It's going to be the males; only the males. Even if the mom is crying and complaining at the son, "don't do this, don't do that. Don't enter the gangs," and he does, the mom can't stop him. And then he's going to get into all the issues with the girls and the hoes and all that, and then the other males and all. You see, it just ends up in more and more violence, because that young boy did not have an alpha male father who was good, so he sought after alpha males who are bad.

That's why when young girls are preparing for marriage you must not try to seek men based on physical appearance only; that is how the archangel treated Eve. You must think, "Is this man marriageable? Will he raise good sons and daughters? Will he raise my sons to control and have dominion over their male aggression and use it for good?" Because you'll never get rid of the male aggression; that's how God made us! Males have tendencies towards aggression, which is good, because you need that aggression towards wolves; you need it. But you have to funnel it towards that.

The father as primary role model

And a strong man will never look at a woman as their primary role model. They will learn things from women; sure, they can learn things from the mom or wife. But you will never be our primary role model! That's just the way it is! No matter how much it hurts your feelings, no matter how much you ask, "Why? Why? Why? Why?" It doesn't matter; you will never, never, never, be alpha males' role models! That's for moms: never! Because you are not an alpha male! You do not live in the male society of aggression and violence; you do not exist in that world. So there is no male that will seek you for being their primary role model, unless they're a beta male; there's no male that will do that. Males who want to be strong will seek a strong male, not a female; that's just the way it is.

That's why the fathers are so key; that's why the father being badass and cool and strong is so important; that's why having your children young is so important, because they see you at your peak. They don't see you when you're old grandpa; they see you when you are at your peak, when you are strong! I was training my boys the other day on the powerlifting. They can see Daddy when I am strong; they can see, "Wow! Daddy is in his 40s but he is so strong! He's so much stronger than me; I want to learn from him!" They have this sense of respect and awe of their father, which of course they have to give to their children.

Invest your youth in your marriage & children

That's why Father blessed us early. I didn't even know why Father blessed us early; I thought it was just our tradition. But it turns out it's the greatest blessing for the descendants, for the children, because they get to grow up near young parents. They're young but they have to be mature obviously, because you can be young and an idiot; you can be old and an idiot too. Totally mature old people, there are plenty of them, but there are also plenty of mature young people.

The point is: being mature, being knowledgeably wise, but also investing your youth in your children, investing your youth not just in the bankers, paying debts to the banks, investing your youth in some stupid Marxist professor or some stupid paper degrees which will be useless, and you'll be working at Starbucks anyway. Or you'll be investing your youth in some playing around, free sex culture, stupid crap like that; in hedonism, which is a total waste of your youth, but that is what you're told to invest your youth in.

Why are you not told to invest your youth in your marriage and in your children? Why are you not told to invest your youth to make an incredibly hot husband and wife marriage, incredibly hot, and being a tremendous Daddy and Mommy for your children, and unlocking all your epigenetics and doing all your adventures together with your children, including them in your dreams?

Pursue your dreams together with your children

The globalists and Satanist and Marxists tell young people, "Pursue your dreams"; which means hedonism, because your children are not involved in that. 95% plus of women want children and family in their future, and this is males as well; so the vast majority of people want children and marriage in their future. But if you ask them what their dream is, they say, "Oh, it's to become a CEO; oh, it's become a Special Forces or Ranger, or whatever." You ask people, "What is your dream?" That's what they'll tell you. You see how they're not including their wife or their children in it! That is a foolish young person who does not include their wife which is your primary relationship in your life; she will be the most important relationship literally on this side of heaven. And your children!

Why are young people not including their children in their dreams? When they say, "I want to fulfill my dreams," well why aren't your children involved in that? You see, your children should be there; they should absolutely be part of that dream. They should be part of that dream, fulfilling it with you; they should be unlocking their epigenetics with you. Every major moment in their life where they are unlocking an epigenetic and they're moving to a new level, you are there, helping them, encouraging them and coaching them through that. That is incredible gifts that you are giving to your children; unfathomable gifts! You cannot understand the depth, the heights and the width of how precious those gifts are for those individuated lives; you cannot understand how important that is! But really, it's like they're told the opposite!

CIG culture of strong parenting

But see, that's why CIG culture is different! Imagine if you have a population of people who are wise; they're wise, why? Because they received good parenting, they received wise parenting; they received parenting under an alpha- male father figure who's a loving Christ figure in the home. He is a true alpha male, a true shepherd. And you have the mom who is there as well, who is the queen and she is the evangelist, and she's helping evangelize the children; she controls her emotions.

If they grew up under strong parenting, the probability of the next generation raising the next generation with high-level parenting is much higher, isn't it? Instead of all this dysfunction, childishness and shouting; the stupidity, infantile behavior of many husbands and wives! So that's why you have to really be careful.....

1st gen, separate from your ancestry's past failure; be patient, lean on God!

But the point is: even our first gen folks you have to analyze your life, where your parents were, what kind of situation they were in; you have to do that. When I'm teaching for marriage, I'm not only teaching for the second gen, I'm teaching for first gen too; you folks are not off the hook. There are a lot of complaints that I get from the young people; the King is teaching about doing your days and literally all the first gen think it does not apply to them. Yes in many cases your children, I'm sorry you may have lost them to the satanic world, and you may have to be on the process of 20, 30 years, because if you didn't do it in that first 10- year, 14- year, 15 year period, it's going to be about, maybe realistically 13 to 25 times harder. It's going to be hard and you just have to be in the long haul and just pray for them and just hope. Obviously you're not going to expect them to be in a second generation blessing right; they're going to fall probably if they're in the world.

Anyway the point is: there are many different cases, but in some cases maybe the children are younger, maybe they're more positive, maybe they have gone through that terrible situation with the outside world and now they're trying to come back, whatever the case may be; you may be in a situation where you can start implementing these things. First gen people, God may provide a situation where you now can start doing your days with your children, and start apologizing for the past or mending the scars or whatever the case may be. And start doing the days, building that relation back, but centered on God; not building that relationship back just to acquiesce to their desires. No! But to build that relationship back centered on God, witnessing to them again.

So you may be in that situation. But I tell you, first- gen people the biggest complaints that I get from the young people is that the first gen, they listen to the King's teaching on marriage, and they say, "Oh, I wish I had that; oh it's so wonderful. You guys are so lucky!" and then the young people are like, "hey, f-you, man! You should be learning this too; you should be influencing this too in your family. Why are you not doing anything? Stop trying to tell us that we're so blessed getting these teachings all the time? Why are you doing not doing anything?" There's truth to that right, if you're honest; there's truth to that.

So, let's be real either way okay; let's be real. We can improve that situation; God gives us time so we can improve that situation. Sometimes not; sometimes we have to be patient and just pray, especially if we lost our children; you may have to just be in a state where you're just praying for them for a decade, two decades, whatever. Because if you over exert when you're witnessing on somebody that doesn't want it, they feel like you're imposing religion on them. So we can't be stupid obviously, and most of our first-gens are not that stupid. But I'm just saying if there are particularly dense people out there that are listening to this, don't do that okay; just be patient. You have to be patient, find the right time for it obviously, and you have to lean on God.

But for the big part of first gen people that are trying to work on this and increase their level in raising their children or having a relationship with their children, you have to look at how your parents raised you. What type of household were you from? I almost guarantee you, maybe most of the problems that you have made in raising your children did not come from True Father; they didn't come from the church. You know where most of those problems and issues probably came from? If you're a man it probably came from your father; if you're a woman it probably came from your mom. You just were repeating how they would react to situations, and without you knowing, they became your primary role model unconsciously. And you repeated exactly what they did to you to your children, which is probably not the most effective thing.

Now there are outliers; there are people who are in great family homes; well, great! Then your children should be in great situation, probably wise; they should be in a good state, hopefully. If not then you probably became too socially liberal by being indoctrinated in the Marxist schools; that's probably what happened then if your kids became total leftist. Or you trusted the system too much and you sent them to all these leftist institutions, and then they got brainwashed there, right. So there are problems with that.

But the point is: you have to identify what type of household you came from; that's a very important part of your history, and learning how to separate from that history of Satan. Because think about it: if you're the first ancestors now of a new tribe, you have to separate from what has been the past failures of your ancestry....

Responsible strong shepherd males, representatives of Christ

But look at Father's Kingdom! You can see Father through the Second King right, or through the Third King! We don't teach you to be married to the church or to an organization; we teach you, you have to become a strong alpha male, alpha female family that is loving and generous and shepherd-like to one another and has great relationship with your children so that you can protect the Kingdom of God!

I am not trying to take out the husbands so that the wives all are married to me! No! I am trying to help the husbands be good kings and priests in their home! And of course the Queen is a great role model obviously, but also we are trying to help the women who are getting married especially, to become good queens and evangelists, who love and respect their husband and evangelize to their children, the Gospel, raise them to be godly and to give their life to Christ.....

The Kingdom is responsible strong shepherd males who are the center, who are the representative of Christ in their home; so they're strong, they're warriors, but they're also priests. Praise God! And their wife is their helper; she is the queen of the home, but she is also has a mission from God to evangelize to the children, not oppressively but skillfully, just like she would evangelize to a new person, skillfully. You have to do it skillfully with wisdom; wisdom, not just dominating, not just forcing down the throat. No! Skillfully, with wisdom, patience, just like you would evangelize a new person. Don't see your children as dumb vessels that you can just dominate, because that will only last ten years. Soon, as they start to hit the teenage years, now you have to evangelize by witnessing and explaining and teaching apologetics and logically explaining.
