God bless America vs. Lucifer bless America!

May 30, 2021

Let's get to the Word today. We are in Luke Chapter 16, and let's go to verse 19. Christ gives us an interesting story in this parable. Let's read that together.

Luke Chapter 16: 19- 31

19 There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day: 20 And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores, 21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried; 23 And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented. 26 And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house: 28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets; let them hear them. 30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent. 31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

Wow! That's an interesting scripture, isn't it? Because there were of course many who were persuaded when Christ rose, but there were people that said, "No, no, no!" Like the chosen people, for example! Even to this day there are rabbis who teach that Jesus is burning, boiling in feces in hell! I mean this is actually what some rabbis teach, and there's evidence of them teaching that online in this given day.

They literally say that Jesus is boiling in feces because he's a self-proclaimed messiah; he's a false messiah etcetera. Some of these rabbis still teach this: that Jesus who is by far the most world-renown Jew, who brings people to love the Jewish people and Israel and the God of the Bible etc; by far the most renowned of all historical men ever, especially of Jewish descent, and they say that he's boiling in feces.

People don't believe this. We never heard of this before, but actually there's a whole ministry out of Israel that exposes the rabbis who actually teach this, and they interview people on the street, "have you heard this theory that Jesus is boiling in feces?" And even the people on the street who grew up Orthodox Jews, they say, "I've heard that. I've heard that." Isn't that crazy? But in the west we hardly ever hear that. I mean that's unfathomable, right; totally unfathomable!

It's interesting what it's saying here at the end, "well, they don't listen to even Moses or the Prophets. Even if you send somebody who rose from the dead, they don't listen"; and they show their hardened hearts.

Worldwide tyranny

Well, let's go back to verse 19, and take a look at it; there's an interesting context here. You have to understand, the Ancient World didn't have America, folks; it didn't have liberty. There was no example of liberty in the entire world. It was dominated by the Roman Empire, a hegemonic empire which was collapsing because of over-extension, endless useless wars, expansion of territory etc; those kinds of things that financially drain a society and of course create all these different enemies that seek to destroy from within and from without. A little bit like America right now! But you had a phenomenal decline of the Roman Empire which was the major world power of the day.

When we read the scripture, we're thinking, "Oh, okay there's a rich man, and the context they're living in is kind of like America." No, no! America doesn't exist here. There is no capitalist society at this time; it's all tyranny. Do you understand? It's all tyranny worldwide and particularly the largest tyranny is the Caesars of Rome which are now of course on the decline.

Preterist view

The word "preterism" comes from the Latin word meaning "from before" or "past tense," and the preterist notion is basically the view that Scripture is fulfilled, and even that the scriptures in Revelation that talk about the Antichrist or the 666 -Beast are either located in A.D. 70 where the Temple of Jerusalem is destroyed by Rome, or later on under Emperor Nero. So the preterist view looks at early history, and of course looks at some of the key scriptures where Christ himself said, "Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom." (Mat 16:28) There are scriptures where Jesus himself is telling the people: "your generation will not pass or die before I come back." This is where the preterist view comes from, and there are a whole bunch of scriptures that show that.

Basically the point is: it's showing that Christ was here to fulfill the messianic kingdom prophecy of the Jews that believed that he would come to conquer, and he would come to establish the kingdom. Of course we see this in Luke; whenever Jesus himself actually defines the Gospel he says, "I have come to preach the gospel," of what? "Of the kingdom of God!" He doesn't say, "I've come to preach the Gospel that I will die"; he doesn't say it. He says "I've come to preach the Gospel of the kingdom of God."

So, the preterits view shows that there are scriptures where Christ says that the kingdom of God is here, and the kingdom of God is coming, and "it will come during your lifetime," talking to the disciples, talking to his followers in the Early Church. That's why there are different preterist views which say, either all of Revelation was fulfilled in 70 AD, or it was fulfilled under Nero etc. We've talked about some of those things, but most modern day Christians are unaware of that pretty large tradition.

If you grew up in the Catholic Church, you kind of know because the Catholic Church is a semi-preterist church. It has the view that all of Revelation has been fulfilled, and the church itself is the kingdom of God; the church itself. This is also in Protestant dispensationalism. You'll see this as well in the modern Protestant movement, that the church has taken over and the church has basically become the kingdom of God and from there Christ is ruling the kingdom. So the kingdom of God is already here, and the church is expanding the kingdom of God; that's the dispensationalist view in Evangelical Protestantism. So it could be Baptist dispensationalist, etc, that normally hold to those kinds of views.

Rich man: capitalist or leftist?

The point is: we have to understand the context of this scripture. When we're talking about a rich man, we don't have a capitalist society. When we think of a rich man in America, we think of somebody who invented something, or we think of somebody who started a small business, worked really hard in a free society, and was able to amass riches; kind of like that "rags to riches" story, that we hear about all the time. We see that because we exist in a system where we have freedom and where people, even though they may start out economically at a lower economic strata, through inventiveness, through ingenuity, through hard work, through applying their gifts, through just pushing and building a company, etc, they can become multi-millionaires.

We talked about how this many times; this angers people who are into Socialism, Communism, especially the universities and the academics. Why? Because number one the universities are kind of run on a socialist system. They have government funding, the professors are tenured so they can't be fired; even though they're pathetic, they can't be fired. So the university itself is structured financially like a socialist system; it doesn't have to survive on its own; it can suck the resource flow from the government. Of course the largest funders of Harvard, Yale, etc have become either the government or unfortunately other governments like China that funds the East Asian studies or the Chinese studies departments, and various Islamic countries that fund Arabic Islamic studies.

We're talking about hundreds of millions of dollars, folks! I just saw the article on Breitbart just a couple of days ago: Bard College which is right next to our old UTS theological seminary, they just receive a 500 -million -dollar donation from George Soros, and that's not even an Ivy League; that's one of the mid -level liberal schools. We know it well because we had a seminary school right next to it, and they would always try to shut us down because they're freaking communists over there, and of course now they're getting a 500 -million- dollar donation from George Soros. That's happened just last week, you understand?

So these leftist financiers who make their money basically on taking over money supply and then understanding which companies will thrive and fail, and basically pick winners and losers, they take the resources of the entire country. That's what Soros does with the international banking cartel; that's what they do. They go in and take control of the money supply. They basically know in advance- it's like insider trading- they know which companies can do well or cannot; they can put government regulation on countries they want to fail. So they can literally pick and choose which companies succeed and which fail. This has happened all the time in communist countries; all the time.

So we have to understand this context when we're thinking about this rich man, okay. Because we may think of the rich man as somebody who built up his business, built up entrepreneurship, had a great idea, made some type of invention and then became rich. That kind of person in America is usually conservative. That kind of person usually wants less regulation with less government intrusion; they want more freedom for their business, they want less corporate taxes. You know what I'm saying? So usually that type of person, when we think of it, is a Republican, or let's say conservative- at least libertarian.

But in the context of the ancient world there is no America; we have to remember this, there's no America. There is no capitalist country; there's no example of it. All that exists is tyrannical governments, or imperial hegemonic powers, and the only way you can get rich in those types of countries is by being part of the state. Do you understand?

It's like a communist country, it's like a socialist country; the only way you can become wealthy is by allying with the state. That's why we see the Pharisees, the Sadducees, they're kind of like the Intel gathering organizations of the Jews who are kind of throwing their people under the bus, and then working with the Roman Empire to tattletale on what's happening with the Jewish community. We see that happen here: for example the Feds do that with Al Sharpton and Jesse Jackson for the black community; they're kind of like their monitors. They work with the Feds and there's evidence of course; they admit they work for the CIA, like Sharpton did. They will choose those kinds of people to keep a community under check.

That's kind of like what the Pharisees and Sadducees are doing; they're supposed to be religious people but they're really being used like intelligence agency or gathering intelligence on these different communities in the Ancient World. And that's how the Roman system did it. Remember, the Roman system is not America; there's no capitalism, there's no freedom. Basically think of it as like a communist state; it's like a communist state. So in that scenario, this rich man that we're talking about, from our American perspective we may just think he's a Republican because he built up his business and got rich. But that didn't exist back then; if you were going to be a rich man you basically had to be a leftist. You see what I'm saying? You had to basically be a leftist; you had to ally with big government to become rich.

Now that really changes the whole picture, doesn't it? Because that rich man goes to hell; that rich man goes to hell! Now, the Left always tries to use this and say, "Now, now, you see all these rich people that get rich in a capitalist society!" But they get rich by inventing something and actually serving people and actually giving them something that they actually need in their life. Thus people are willing to trade a certain amount of dollars for that product or service which benefits them greater than the X amount of dollars; so it's a fair trade and it's a win-win trade. You see what I'm saying?

And it's not based on coercion; the government doesn't force you to buy a certain product from Walmart. But I guess under covid it kind of does; you have to buy from Walmart. So, right now we're under kind of a socialist system, but before, it didn't make you only shop at Walmart. Through the covid corona scare they have implemented a semi-socialist system here in America. That's why we saw the toilet paper lines empty. How crazy was that, folks! Last year people were stalking on toilet paper. Whoa! It's like out of all the apocalyptic things you may need, people literally thought toilet paper was number one. Pretty crazy!

But the point is: now you see that this rich man most likely is not somebody who grew up in a capitalist society, because no capitalist society existed. He is likely somebody who did not build his own business, because there was no free society in order to do that. So the rich man is most likely somebody who is rich because he is associated with governmental power, which in the modern day we would call actually a leftist. That's not somebody on the right or somebody on liberty side; it's somebody on the Left.

Hell

This is interesting because this is a time in Jesus' parables, where he talks and gives a metaphor about hell. So, let's go into this a little more.

22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

So Lazarus, the person who's living basically as a beggar under the hegemonic system of tyranny, goes to Father Abraham. He goes to Father Abraham; he sees Abraham, and the rich man who was profiting from the hegemonic tyrannical socialist communist, political Satanist system is in hell. He's in hell because it is a system of immorality, theft, coercion, domination of people's innate human rights given by God the Creator.

So anyway the point is: the rich man is in hell, and Lazarus is in Abraham's bosom.

23 And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom. 24 And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am tormented in this flame.

Inspiring Philosophy

Remember, we had a whole discussion on this? One of the big younger generation apologists on YouTube I.P. or Inspiring Philosophy, pretty huge channel on apologetics, went into the whole discussion on hell -and we've talked about that - how in the Bible hell is referred to in a couple of different ways: lake of fire, or a place where the fallen angels are chained. It's a place of chaining and prison cells, and of course a place of scorpions and things like this. So there are a couple of different metaphors for hell, all pretty bad; all pretty terrible.

But the point is: Inspiring Philosophy who is a pretty big apologist on You Tube, with 204,000 followers said, and I'm paraphrasing: when you look at this story of Lazarus in this parable, we see that the rich man is tormented in flames, he's tormented in fire, but this fire is not just a physical fire. Because even though he's tormented in this fire and flames consume him, look what he's doing: he's able to hold a conversation. He's able to try to negotiate with Father Abraham, asking him to "send Lazarus," to "send him down here and cool my tongue, because it's very hot down here." He's able to negotiate, he's able to think, he's able to try to talk about his situation, and at the end of it, remember he's like, "tell Lazarus to go down and resurrect; let him resurrect so he can tell five of my family members about where I'm at so they don't come to hell." Notice that the rich man does not ask, "Get me out of here!" He doesn't ask; but you would assume he wants to get out. He doesn't say, "Hey, Father Abraham, I repented; get me out of here please!" No! He doesn't ask; he doesn't ask to get out. He's negotiating; he's trying to make a deal, and he's talking.

We already read the whole scripture together. Inspiring Philosophy and other researchers go in the depth saying that if you are literally burning in flame of tremendous torment and tremendous pain, you can't speak, you can't try to negotiate; you would want to get out of there. You'd want to at least ask, "Is there any way I can get out of here?" If you could speak, that's the very least you would do, "please can I leave this place Father Abraham! Is there a way? Do you have the passcodes? Can I say I know you and get out?" At least you're going to ask, "Get me out of here!"

The point is that hell is a place of torment; it is a place of terrible burning and pain and torment etc. But it's not like in terms of physical fires or things like that; it is some type of spiritual flame, some type of great torment that is within or even without. Father many times talked about the spirit world, and that if you go to hell you're distant from God. God's love is like the air, so you are suffocating if you are far from God you are distant from God, you are suffocating. Your internals are burning; you are in pain because you can't breathe.

And it's not like you're there isolated and suffering and burning by yourself. You also have other evil people who reject God and who enjoy rejecting God and enjoy terrorizing people, who are far from God, and enjoy that. That's how they existed: they existed rebelling against God, they existed hating

God; they existed shunning God. You are surrounded by those types of hateful people all the time. So in the end God gives you what you want; if you hate Him so much that you say, "God I don't want to ever see You again," He'll say, "fine, okay. I'll give you what you want." And you live in separation and you live in torment in that way.

But notice that the Bible does use metaphors to explain that type of torment, that type of psychological spiritual torment that we are experiencing when we are far from God. Can everybody understand that?

The devil: Hollywood vs. Bible

The point is: this is also true, not only in the spirit, but also in terms of a nation, if a nation starts to distance itself from God. There won't be like red devils coming out of the earth, and earthquakes with lava coming out, and big monsters and Godzilla coming out of the ocean; but basically as a nation if you start leaving God, nationally you will start manifesting the kingdom of hell on earth.

Now it doesn't look like how Hollywood paints it with Tom Cruise movie, he's a legend, where there's a unicorn and there's that big red demon with the big black horns. I remember when I was young I saw that movie somehow; maybe my brothers were watching or something.

That red demon looked so scary.

Look at that guy! These were pretty good special effects for 35 years ago.

Look at that dude, man; he looked bad! If you saw that fool riding on a motorcycle, you'd be scared. I mean that guy looks bad, okay!

But we know the devil doesn't look like that! The Bible never describes Lucifer looking like that; that is completely like Hollywood. Imagine if the devil walked around like that, everybody would know that's the devil! Even your two-year-old children, "oh, the devil is here!" Everyone would know. The devil is clever; the Bible talks about him as the cleverest of all creatures. He is clever; he hides himself.

Remember, the Bible describes Lucifer as beautiful; he's beautiful, he's effulgent with light and he has music - he has organ music coming from his wings. I mean he's gorgeous; he's not this red demon. He looks pleasant to the eye; he looks pleasant to the senses, like the Bling- Bling. He's Bling-Bling, trying to lure you in; he's Bling-Bling, he's a nice-looking guy suited up nice. And he's Bling-Bling; he's got the hip-hop music in the back too, with the organ music flapping his wings and wooing you and seducing you, "Wooh, Ah! Lucifer! Hey!" This is what happens.

No, he doesn't look like that Tom Cruise Legend movie demon! He's clever; he approaches you in a way that you cannot understand who he is. He confuses you, he lures you; seduces you in. Amen!

Clever Satan vs. Hollywood demon

Look, on the national level it's the same thing! God uses His hands and feet in the world; in fact the Body of Christ is mentioned by Paul as being the Body of Christ, the Body of Jesus. We have the head, we have the arms, we have the shoulders, we have the feet, and we are to be the hands and feet of God. In the same way, when the Scripture talks about Satan's kingdom, "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places," (Ephesians 6:12), he's also talking about a body, the hands and feet of Satan in the world as well.

Now they're not mythologized or they're not "Hollywoodized." They've kind of trained us from a young age, to believe in this type of Hollywood mythology that, when we talk about hell on earth, we're going to see huge cracks of lava coming through the cities and exploding with volcanic eruptions, and there's going to be winged serpents flying through the air, and they're going to be swooping in on New York City and on Delhi, and then there's going to be massive tidal waves with big behemoths rising out. That's how Hollywood describes those kinds of things.

But when we're talking about the hands and feet of God, the Body of Christ doesn't look like that. Yes, there's a spiritual dimension; there are the Host of Heaven, there are angels etc. There is that good spirit world so -to -speak, with the Body of Christ, but the Body of Christ normally just looks like normal people. Satan's kingdom is the same; isn't it? It's not as Hollywood romanticized it, in that it's actually being led by the big red demon with black horns in a tuxedo, or something like that; it's being led by people. Are you with me, folks?

Hands and feet of actual people are leading this demonic beast, this apparatus; what the Bible refers to as the 666-Beast. There are people that are animating it. It's Satan behind the scenes, this wickedness in high places, and the darkness of this world that animates this Beast; which is not some type of Hollywood drama. It is a real thing which impacts and influences the entire world; it pervades our lives. But how clever is it! Because they've trained us to believe that we're going to see demons flying through the air and winged serpents, and we're going to see volcanic eruptions everywhere; every city is going to be in some kind of Hollywood movie. How clever is that!

Satan's hands & feet

Meanwhile the actual hands and feet of Satan have taken over: from the top to the federal, to the county, to the local, and they got everybody just waiting to watch an apocalyptic Hollywood movie. In the mean time, Satan's hands, feet and fingers are penetrating into all facets of your life telling what you have to wear now, "You have to wear a mask." You're literally telling people what you can wear and what you cannot wear. You're telling people that you can't come in the store if you do not have this particular dress code. And it is not even backed by science as there is a 99.8% survival rate of the corona virus, not even backed by science but just arbitrarily completely mandated by a couple of leaders telling you, "if you don't fit this dress code, you will be kicked out."

When would you ever imagine this would happen in America, folks? The mask is the symbol of an oppressed people. It has always been the symbol of for example slavery, because it dehumanizes people; it takes away their individuality that God has given them. We talk about individual truth incarnation: that God has given each one of us special and unique gifts, talents and things that we are to develop for His glory. But it takes that away; it dehumanizes you, and it makes you into this faceless person; it makes you into this ghost, and you're walking around seeing all these other faceless people.

You literally have teachers who do not know the face of their students. Just a couple of days ago at some kind of council meeting in one of the states, a little eight-year-old kid gave a speech. He said, "Yeah, you know, I was walking on the street and my teacher she saw me and she didn't even recognize me because I wasn't wearing my mask." Think about that! That's terrible; that is terrible! The teacher does not even recognize her student because all she sees is a masked faceless dehumanized animal; that they're going to now force vaccines on, chemicals with empty blank chemical slates -we don't know the list of ingredients. I mean it's just totally over the top crazy, folks!

But the point is: we have been trained by Hollywood and the Left to imagine Satan taking over in this very dramatic Hollywood comets - falling- from- the- air fashion. While he dresses up like normal people, pushing forward his hellish ideology on our children, on our school boards, on our universities, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera; all the way from the local level to the highest level of governments, and to create that kind of structure.

They've got the Body of Christ fooled because everybody's waiting for some kind of Godzilla man coming out of the earth! Meanwhile Satan's hands and feet have secured the world and are implementing tyranny now more and more, especially on the last bastion of freedom, which still has a little bit of it left: America! Imagine if America is gone, folks. We literally will be back in this time where we have no example of freedom; do you understand? Just as we saw in the beginning of the chapter, we have no example of freedom.

Now who's that going to profit? The Chinese Communist Party loves that! They don't want an example of freedom and capitalism and free markets and free interaction and free association etc. They don't want that because it ruins the marketing program for their totalitarian system; it ruins their slavery that they have over one billion poor Asians; it ruins their system.

Critical Race Theory: theory vs. reality

And that's why they're of course trying to divide us from within. Now trying to implement critical race theory, which of course is being sold as, "oh, race is a social construct." However there are major categories that we are forced into, like whiteness or blackness, or yellowness. They call us "tangential white," because we the Asian American community have such high scores and we have a high academic rates etc. They used to call us "yellow," now we're "tangential white," because we didn't fit that program of minorities. We didn't fit the narrative, "we can't succeed; we need government."

But basically, what is critical race theory teaching? It's teaching that you have what? Internalized whiteness or you have what critics call "race essentialism," which is that: basically your essence is not that you're a human being; your essence is not that you are a person or a child with certain gifts. Your essence is basically that you are white or that you are Black or that you are Asian or that you are Latino; that is your essence! Now critical race theorists like Lemon Hill and those people, will say that's not a true representation of critical race theory. They'll say, "No, we don't say that. We say that race is a construct, and you're misrepresenting critical race theory."

The problem is when it's implemented in the schools, it is many times implemented in exactly that fashion; it's implemented in exactly that manner. That is to say: you have teachers that are splitting third- graders up, folks; third- graders based on race! And based on your race, if you're a white kid, third -grade, you are in the oppressor category, in some institutions out in California and Arizona. Three third- grade children, folks, are being segregated by race!

So whatever the critical race theorists say, the academics say about, "oh, we don't actually teach race essentialism, and we're like really smart and we're from the Ivy Leagues okay, and we basically teach that race is a social construct," well, when it is applied you have teachers that are splitting up schools and kids based on whether they're white or black! Do you understand?

You can say that Marx had certain theories, but when it is applied in the real world it kills and genocides everybody that doesn't agree with it. But the Marxist theorists will say, "well, we just have a theory, and our theory says..." No, no, but when you apply it, it becomes genocidal. You understand? So just because a theory says one thing, or they claim it says this, we have to look at how it is applied, and when it is applied what consequences occur. Amen! Because it's the same with Marxism: you could say it's a theory of the proletariat, a theory of empowerment, of controlling the means of production, etc, but when it is applied it 100% goes to tyranny.

So if critical race theory, maybe not academically is teaching race essentialism, but then when it is applied it is basically teaching race essentialism; that your identity is black or that you are white or that you are thrown into these categories, and that you are either an oppressor or, as they call it, you are "internalizing your whiteness", and that means what? You are a covert white supremacist, and that means what? That you are an oppressor! For the mere fact that you have less melanin pigmentation in your skin!

Slavery

Martin Luther King and the whole civil rights movement were not about denying the sin of slavery. We had the sin of slavery; our Founding Fathers tried to get rid of it. But of course there was a sin of slavery; that is a sin. That's part of our past.

But the point is: what did we do about it? Well, we got rid of it; we got rid of slavery. We realized that it was internally incoherent with the Biblical worldview; we realized that. And the Founding Fathers put in the systems by which we could get rid of it, because of course they needed the buy-in of the southern states etc; you know the story.

But we're the ones who got rid of it! If the purpose of America was to dominate minorities, then you would still have it! If that was the internal purpose, if that was the explicit purpose, or even the indirect purpose, we would still have it. There would be no reason to get rid of it; you would just have a lot of marketing campaigns explaining why we need it. Are you with me, folks? But freedom has been opened to all peoples of all color that can pursue their visions, their dreams, their faith etc, freely without government intervention, in a place that's special in the world which no other country has. Are you with me, folks? And that's very special.

Killing babies & children

However in the last couple of years, we have seen us very quickly and precipitously start to descend and look more like the countries of yesteryear. Are you with me, folks? We start to look more like the countries from which we've set ourselves apart through the Judeo-Christian principles of the constitution etc. And that is a problem because it is an existential crisis, as we see here when we distance ourselves from God and His Judeo-Christian framework, His Judeo-Christian model of jurisprudence, His Judeo-Christian model of ethics.

And even from His Judeo-Christian ethics of warfare, which is that you can't profit from war; you have to go to free people, free people! For example in the Ancient World, when God commanded the Israelites to destroy the 31 kings that inhabited Canaan, the hammer of judgment was upon them. Why? Because they were sex- trafficking the children; they had the Asherah cult which was literally buying and selling children through the state cults of Asherah. They had of course the normalization of pedophilia; they had the normalization of killing your children through the worship of Baal and sending the children to the fires of Baal, which meant killing them.

These are lines that must never be crossed. Why? Because out of all the citizens in a country, who is the most sinless? A child; especially a child in the womb! If a society gets to the moral point where they have no problem killing a citizen of their country that has literally committed absolutely no crime, that country has degraded incredibly. It's no longer protecting its citizens; I mean it's no longer protecting life, if you can be murdered when you have done nothing wrong!

So abortion is wrong, and even the bad cases of rape are terrible, terrible, horrific! But in an atheistic worldview you can't even say, "Rape is wrong," because there's no real moral absolutes, and thus you can't even say something is really right or something is really wrong; you can only say, "It's taboo!" You can only say, "Rape is taboo"; you can't say it is morally abhorrent, it is morally evil; it is morally wicked. You can't say that under atheism, but under a framework in which God's morality determines good and evil, we can. Are you with me, folks? We can say, "Rape is morally abhorrent, it is morally evil; it is morally wicked!"

So in that kind of culture where we are not upholding those principles, we are allowing for the genocide of two to three million citizens per year in the abortion mills of America! That's two to three million per year folks; citizens. They're babies but they're still citizens of America; two to three million Americans are being killed per year! Of course the church is silent about it, and Biden claims to be a Catholic, but he supports it. This is crazy!

God bless America vs. Lucifer bless America

So this is the problem of course by mythologizing Satan as these mythical demonic figures, when in fact Satan is very clever; when in fact the Bible describes him as a very clever serpent; when in fact the Bible says that he fools you with light. So when people look at him, they say, "Wow! He's beautiful; he's attractive!" You see?

Remember, a couple of years ago there was this truck that was terrorizing this whole area, trying to kidnap children; they were trying to lure those children into that van. They're not coming out dressed as a demon, coming out like with that Tom Cruise movie; you don't see any red demon jump out and say, "Children jump in there!" Every child would be, "oh my gosh!" and run. Some guy who's luring them in, trying to tempt them in, he looks just like a normal guy; subtle, clever. But this is how Satan works!

And he starts taking over positions of power in the same way, saying, "Hey, you know what? We're supposed to have freedom of religion; we're supposed to have distance between church and state. So we can't have any of these Ten Commandments around any of the places of law; we can't have these things. You can't say, "God Bless America," that would be discriminatory against atheists or Luciferians." Because they'll claim, "Hey, well if you can say, "God Bless America," then we should be able to say, "Lucifer bless America!" Are you with me, folks?

This is the whole debate, and that it's discriminatory to have our foundational principles which are based in Judeo-Christian ethics, Judeo-Christian principles, Judeo-Christian world view, which is what? Fundamentally it's "love God, love your neighbor" as Commandments of Christ, but also what? Protect the family, protect the nuclear family, protect the man and the woman marrying together; protect that institution, because it is by far the safest institution for children. If you break that, society becomes ravaged with non-binary couples, etc, or just even with single moms; we know that child abuse rates jumped 11.3 times.

So even sociologically, we know that the Christian worldview and the Christian structure of the family is the most secure; the supporting of the male and the female to have a strong relationship, to have a strong marriage relationship under the covenant of God, and to raise children in that environment in love. Amen! In love, why? Because God's essential nature is agape love; it's love. So raising them as a father would raise his child in love; sometimes discipline is there, but it's always because we love the child. Amen! This kind of culture supports what? Strong family units which becomes what? The most important sociological unit of any kingdom, of any society!

Of course all of you folks know that's why the Marxists, the leftists, the political Satanists, always are trying to disrupt this fundamental paradigm; they're trying to disrupt. BLM's stated goal actually was to get rid of, or to throw off the shackles of, the hetero-normative black family; so, their openly stated goal is to disrupt black families! You understand, folks? They literally had that on their website as their stated aim! Yet they say Black Lives Matter! I mean you understand how insane! That's crazy; you're trying to literally tear daddies and moms apart, as something that would be positive for the black Americans! Of course not, of course not, of course not, of course not, of course not, of course not! That's why the Marxists always are going after this critical institution. Why?

Because God desired that institution to be the center of His kingdom: Adam and Eve, not Adam and Steve; not Rebecca and Eve, etc. Adam and Eve, centered on God, in marriage, productive - "be fruitful, multiple, have dominion over the earth" - productive and owning and ruling over the earth- as what? Good poimaino pomens, good shepherds, in the image of Christ, in the image of the Father. That would be great! But of course the Marxists understand that they have to disrupt that. Of course we know there's demonic possession; we know Satan is behind the scenes tempting these people to give their soul to him.

The r & K selection types

But also it's interesting: we talked about this a couple of years ago, but I want to bring our attention to this again, because in the field of ecological biology or even in the field of genetics, there is a theory that's called the r/K selection type. There's the r- quotient and there's the K- quotient. The r-quotient is basically the rate of reproduction, and the K is basically like quality; how much time certain parents in the animal kingdom spend on raising and rearing their youth.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/R/K_selection_theory (Pastor Sean shows this online link, and reads the first line)

So you have it here: "In ecology, r/K selection theory relates to the selection of combinations of traits in an organism that trade off between quantity and quality of offspring."

Okay, so basically you have the r and you have the K-types. (Scrolling down a little)

The r-type

You see a picture of lab mice, mice with lots of baby mice.

(Reading the words under the photo online)

A litter of mice with their mother: The reproduction of mice follows an r-selection strategy, with many offspring, short gestation, less parental care, and a short time until sexual maturity.

Why is that? Because the r-type animals and many of them are like insects or bacteria or rodents, don't have any mechanical structures really to defend themselves well. So they are almost always prey, and because predation is real in the animal kingdom- and God made ecological systems in which predation is real and it's fine, it's normal - these r- type animals, their only way to survive in that type of environment where they're constantly being preyed on, is what? Reproduce quickly! Get to the age where you can reproduce as fast as possible, and have as many offspring as possible. Don't even care for them, it doesn't really matter; they just got to go and survive and just keep on reproducing. You understand? This is the r-type strategy.

Now, what does this sound like to you? Does it sound like a conservative or a liberal? (Liberal) Yes, the r-type species is kind of more like the liberal; they need a chaotic environment for their gene set to survive. If there is a stable ecological environment the K- types will succeed. If there is an unstable and the ecological environment is filled with predation -which fills the whole community of these r/ types with fear - they are pushed quickly to genetically reproduce. Fast, quick-quick, no morals! "I don't want to hear anything about marriage; let's just bang the kids out! More, more, more, children; more gene set, more gene sets." Because they're facing genes' extinction! And they can't compete with a lion or an eagle, which are K-type predators or K-type animals which have tremendous powers; they have tremendous physical power and prowess, compared to rats or rodents or things of that nature. Are you with me, folks? So the r- type reproduces quickly; that's their reproduction strategy in terms of survival.

However (Scrolling down a little more)

The K-type

The eagle is one example of a K-type animal. (Reading the little blurb under the photo online)

A Bald eagle, an individual of a typical K-strategist species: K-strategists have longer life expectancies, produce relatively fewer offspring and tend to be altricial, requiring extensive care by parents when young.

And many of these K-type species stay with small amounts of partners. One of the things of the r-type species like rodents and rats: they reproduce with as many partners as possible. Are you with me, folks? They support a world view -let's say now in the human species- which supports this type of licentiousness; whereas the K-type -it doesn't stand for conservative but by it might as well - means that they're going to put more time investment in raising those young, because usually those K-type animals have larger brains. They're much more complex creatures, they're much higher up the ladder in terms of the animal world, and so they have mental faculties, conscious faculties of much higher order etc. They are operating at a higher level, thus they have to raise their children; they have to spend a lot more time in terms of maturing these young, spending, investing time, parenting- all these kinds of things.

It's not just like, "oh, just have sex with anything, and when you have a baby, just kill it!" That is an r-type selection strategy! It has nothing to do with trying to protect the high-value offspring of the K-type. The K-type animals are trying to protect the high-value offspring. The animal in his lifetime can only have a few offspring per animal, so it has to invest the time into the animal. It has to protect the animal; so that's why usually K-type animals move in packs or herds or prides. They move in packs, so as to protect the high-value offspring which are hard to create, and they take a lot of time investment and they're vulnerable to predators at a young age for a long period of time.

They are not like a rodent. A rodent will have a baby but the baby within three months is already big enough to mate, right? Same with pigs; it's pretty quick, very fast, very, very fast. In that selection strategy you are just trying to reproduce as much as possible; you have no concern for the well-being of those children. You have no concern about what will happen to them; that's not the most important. The most important thing is to set up a community, a culture, in which you can reproduce as much as possible so that your gene set exists; and/or attract as much resources to yourself so that your gene pool will expand. Are you with me, folks?

You understand, there are certain strategies for genetics, and these genetic strategies are absolutely critical. But you look at the basic philosophy behind these things, and you can see what? Yes, the Left does reflect an r-type strategy. It is always trying to promote a culture of licentiousness. Why? Because you look at people on the left - and it even says this when you're looking at the mice - many times r-type animals have lesser bone density; they're smaller in stature, they're weaker animals. So it's like the meme video created by ecologist MacArthur of the guy out there with his rifle trying to scope out some of the feminazis etc. Because many times the woman is a giant and the man is like, "yes master, yeah, yeah, oh yes! Mom's against firearms, etc."

But the point is: those males in the r-type selection have a hard time competing with the K-type selection males so they have to differentiate in order to have their gene set produced, because historically we know that about 40% of males can continue their gene set, but about 60% of males experience gene death. That is to say that the women of the population basically mate with about 40% of the men and that leaves about a 60% gap of men who will experience gene death, i.e. they will not have any progeny; their DNA will stop. And that's just historically, looking over history.

The r-type males have a hard time competing with the K-type males. The K-type males are usually larger; they're usually better competitors; they're usually better protectors; they're usually ready to invest; they're ready to work hard to raise those children; they're ready to get down and dirty for the family. Are you with me, folks? They're ready to fight other predators that may try to kill their children. They see children in a high value manner; they don't see children as expendable, and quickly produce and throw them away. They see them as high asset and high value.

The communist r-type society

The r-type male has a hard time competing with this type of K-type male and thus it must adopt a different type of strategy; it must increase the power of government. Why? Because government represents forceful seizure of what? Resources, concentration of resources, and when it has more resources, then potential mating partners will arise; you will have potential mating partners that were not in your genetic pool to mate with because you're being pushed out by the K-type stronger males. You now have a situation where the weaker males want to take reins of the centralization of resources which is government, and by doing so they have more access to what? Female eggs which will then increase their rate of genetic survival! I'm not saying these leftists are actually doing this consciously; this is all unconscious. It's all literally in the genes and the will to survive etc, and it's done unconsciously.

But you can see what type of hellish society gets produced. A hellish society that does not value offspring; it doesn't value taking care or protecting them. It doesn't value parenting; you understand, it doesn't value parenting those offspring, and those offspring having strong bonds with that herd pack or pride. Are you with me folks? It seeks to disrupt those associations, to create a culture of overwhelming anxiety and fear, which will produce and support the propagation of the r-type people, growing up to be pulled and easily educated into the r-type selection.

It's kind of crazy but that's really what Communism does: it tries to brainwash a society, "don't be K, don't go for quality; go for r!" And you look at centralized government as well as the centralization of forceful takeover, the forfeiture of resources, which then increases the mating pool for the weaker males, or the females that cannot get males for whatever reason: because they're angry, they're mad all the time, they're judgmental, etc. It allows them to thrive in this artificially created resource system. That's kind of crazy, isn't it?

And what's interesting is that the r-types, also big governments, they like warfare. You would imagine that if you're an r-type, you would not like war; you wouldn't like war, because you may get drafted, you may be taken out, and your gene death would occur. But it's interesting because centralized governments they actually always like war. Why? What happens when you have war? When you have war, generally speaking population wise, you send off your strongest men, you send off the K-types; you send off the K-types to go fight and die. The r-types are trying to hide. So you're actually purging the society of K-types by war, and then now the r-types have the large gene pool; they can now harvest all those female eggs. Are you with me, folks? Isn't that crazy? It's kind of crazy!

And look at it: we're talking about the Bible as a fight of kingdoms, and Father many times looked at it as a fight of bloodlines and blood lineage and you look at the genetic manifestation of human and animal behavior based on r or K type, you can see, "Wow! There is something very demonic here when a society starts embracing this type of r-type philosophy!" Now of course Communism never calls itself an r-type philosophy, but really what it is doing is instituting an r-type society, in which the strong responsible loyal males cannot succeed and the weak traitorous conniving archangelic-type males can get all the resources. I'm not just talking about financial resource; it also includes genetic resources- which are what? The female eggs! They have more access to females because now they have all this money, they have all this power; they have all these huge cars and beautiful Mercedes-Benz. So now they got more access to females. You see how this ties together?

Communism vs. Capitalism, r vs. K

So when we are dealing with r versus K-type, a communist versus a capitalist, or communist versus liberty culture, we're not only dealing with ideological issues; we're also dealing with genetic issues: which society, which gene set will survive. That's why literally when you tell a leftist that government is bad, big government and centralized government is dangerous, they have a meltdown; you are shattering their chances of gene survival. If you get rid of the centralization of resources, you are shattering their chances for reproductive survival, and you are increasing the chance that the society will produce more K-types. So there's a literal existential genetic crisis that this person also subconsciously may feel, which is the reason why from their spirit and soul they're resisting this, "no, how will I ever be able to continue on?" At least their genes are screaming that; every cell of their body is screaming that out. Isn't that kind of crazy? There are unseen forces that we deal with, in the animal kingdom but also in the kingdom of the human species, that when you look at it the r and K- type does exist.

Now, you have those two ideological kingdoms, those two completely different survival strategies; those completely different systems which are mutually exclusive.

K-type society

*One has to in the end, determine the pathway of the future, and that's of course where America is today. We know from an existential perspective, and I would say even from our genetics we know, every cell in our body knows, that if America becomes communist our grandchildren will be done; our great-grandchildren are done. We can look at every historical example where Communism is implemented, and what does it do? It does the death concentration camps; to what? Eradicate a certain gene typology or certain values that are exemplified through that gene typology like K-type; certain values like high investment in the children, viewing them as a high asset for the future; things like stable marital structure, which benefits what? A high value K- type species will value less unions; not rampant unions with as many partners as possible. It will value a monogamous system more, because that creates more stability to raise higher quality children. Are you with me, folks? So we know existentially that if America become communist, we're not only dealing with a free country going to non-freedom or tyranny, we're dealing also with the eradication of the K-type strategy; we're getting rid of it. That gene set will be targeted.

Again every communist and totalitarian dictatorship, they do what? Elie Wiesel talked about it, "I am the victim, I am the killer and I am the government official." He talked about the fact that even though he lived through the Holocaust, that he too could have been any one of those people; just a normal guy following orders given by their authorities, by the government, whatever the case may be. They say, "How can that be? The Holocaust could never happen in America." Well, that's what Germans believed "The Soviet Union could never happen; Lenin would never happen!" Well, that happened in the Soviet Union: in the Gulag Archipelago, Alexander Solzhenitsyn wrote about his eight years in the gulag.

It does happen and it happens with normal people; they don't walk around with a Nazi swastika on; they don't walk around with the "Hail Lenin!" or whatever it is they were doing in the Soviet Union. They don't; they just look like normal people, and guess what? They're just following orders, and those orders are to eradicate the population that will not comply. This is the history of Socialism, Communism, political Satanism and the r- type strategy; it is the history. In the end it is the most vindictive, most bloodthirsty, most violent, most destructive, most evil, because it seeks to do this artificially and superficially, by engineering and by force.

So, America is not only at an existential ideological crisis, we're also at an existential genetic crisis. Will the population of humanity go towards a population of r, or will it go K? R-type is Socialism; the kingdom of God is K. Kingdom of God is freedom but responsibility, protecting your neighbor, rooting for your other citizens in the Kingdom of God to have strong families; rooting for them, applauding them when they have great marriages and they have great relations with children. Applaud them! We root for one another, because we know that the children need stable sociological male -female mommy -daddy relationships; for them to have the best chance of survival and success and unlocking their epigenetics for God. Amen!

* But the satanic system does the opposite: it wants to dissect that, deconstruct that, pull us into all opposing groups, and now of course the white- black critical race theory, all this kind of stuff coming in. This is the Marxist strategy, folks, and it is here. America has to be aware, has to be ready; we are now in the throes of the takeover of political Satanism here in America, using the Chi-com covid. Remember, we told you a year ago, it wasn't going to last 14 days; we told you it was not going to end. And it's always just perpetually going on: 14 days, and it was one month, then it was three months, then it was six months, then it was a year; now after a year and a half, they're talking about new strains: Covid 21 is coming out, which will require more vaccines. On top of the 78 required vaccines for school now! When I was a child, it was what? Like 8? When you guys were young, what was it? Like 3? 70 some odd vaccines, chemicals that the kids have to receive! What has happened in terms of a human being? Was the world really that much more bacterially dangerous when you were going to school compared to now? Now you have 70 plus vaccines.

Everybody in this room of course understands this but there's a spirit and you feel this existentially. You feel like, "Wow! If America doesn't survive this period we will all be done for; we will have no more future." What does that mean? We'll have no children, and if we do have children they will be taken by the r-type predators; they will be taken and brainwashed and inculcated, and if they don't listen they'll be killed. That's what happens in every totalitarian tyrannical system. Isn't that fascinating that it is actually centered on genetics and lineage and blood lineage?

Resist the devil & he will flee

In the west we have a western individualism kind of perspective, but it's really important that people of like-minded stature and nature have fellowship; it's very, very, important. Because how do you deal with a tribe or a category of species in any type of species, that has great organization and that works together as a massive group, to eradicate the other group? How do you stop that? It's like the Founding Fathers said, "we either hang together or hang separate." There has to be an existential connection.

We have to realize that God is calling us for this time to defend something that's precious, to defend America from a takeover, to defend it from evil, because in the end America is not perfect, but it stands for the kingdom principles, stands for trying to preserve and protect our natural God-given human rights, trying to protect the rights of individuals and families and society to have freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the right to self-defense; all these kinds of things which the nations of the world don't have. And that's a big deal, folks, because those rights don't come from the state. Our philosophical premise of the Constitution and of the Kingdom of God is that they come from God the Creator. That is the foundational philosophical premise of the United States Constitution, and it's mentioned in the Declaration of Independence. It is the premise upon which this country is founded.

Of course that's why they have to distance our young people from it; they have to mock God, make the Bible seem like some type of mythological ridiculous tale. They have to make it seem as if it is unrelated, and that the modern age calls them to be atheists and nihilists etc, and to not accept the principles and the ethics that held this country together.

So we are in a critical time, folks, and that's why it is so important for the unity of the Body of Christ, to at least spiritually be in fellowship and unity together; at least to be of one mind, one body, one spirit and one accord, that this is evil and this has to be resisted, and that it has to be stood up against; just like the Bible says, "Stand up against unrighteousness!" "Resist the devil and he will flee." The Body of Christ of course plays a critical role here, because, will Christianity select the r-type Luciferian strategy or will it select the K-type and protect the K-type culture? Which one will it choose? Which one? We pray it protects the K-type.

So, there are many layers to this; many layers of why we can feel in our heart and our spirit and our mind, and through psychology that we're being asked to live in an epic time. We're being called to be epic people in an epic time. We're just normal people, but again just like in the Bible, God calls normal people to extraordinary and epic things.

Pastor Sean's Prayer

Father God, we thank You for this day. We thank You for us to study Your word, and Father God, we know that You don't want us to descend into the dangerous tyrannical ideologies and system of the 666- Beast. You want us to stand strong against that. You want us to be righteous and moral; You want us to be filled with love; love to protect other people and their God-given human rights, to stop tyrants and stop evil forces that seek to snuff those out, and to put those people under slavery, under tyranny, under authoritarianism and Communism, political Satanism.

God, You are animating people at this time and setting the brush fires in the hearts and minds of men as our Founding Fathers talked about; in the hearts and minds of men. But it is also a time of great trepidation, of great fear and trembling; it is a time where existentially we know and we can feel even to our DNA that it may be coming close to the end of America. But God, we know that with men it may be impossible, but with You all things are possible.

And God, we know that even though the people of Israel, the chosen people, were imperfect and were slaves under Egypt, that You led them through an arduous path to the wilderness and
 You never left their side.
 You stood with them in the battle against the Amalakites;
 You stood with them in the battles against the 31 kings of Canaan;
 You stood with them as they entered the Promised Land and reminded them to center themselves on You.

God, we know that America has strayed from You, yes; but also people are starting to wake up and starting to repent of that sin. People are starting to realize that, God, because of Your grace, we need to be close to You again; we cannot just keep descending into the abyss of leftism and nihilism and Socialism Communism, political Satanism; for the end consequence of that is total terror and total horror and tragedy for the entire world.

God, we ask You to strengthen us this day. Strengthen all those who can hear this word; strengthen all those who are crying out in the wilderness, trying to unify and bring people together, so that we can be the Holy Spirit resistance, that will stop the encroachment of Satan's power and Satan's kingdom.

Dear God, we are in such an epic and mythical time, a time which was prophesied two thousand years ago by John on the Island of Patmos, and we are in a time that is so filled with uncertainty. But we know that You are the God of the universe,
 You are the God of creation;
 You are the God that promised and gave us the Three Blessings to, "be fruitful multiply, have dominion over creation."
 You are the One that have blessed us to become kings and priests,
 You are the One that has given the dominion of the world to us; not that we could rule as tyrants but so we could poimiano shepherd as the Good Shepherd does.

Strengthen us today, Father; strengthen our resolve today, give us Your Holy Spirit, fill us with Your power and authority; as You said You "have not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind." Let us stand firm in this time of adversity, and when we feel the pangs of fear, let us cast that away and rebuke it to the pit of hell, because inside of us is the everlasting hope that You give us through the power of Your blood, through the power of the relationship we have with You. And even if all things don't turn out as we assume, that You have already planned what the victory of the Kingdom shall be.

Give us that animating spirit, Father God!

Let us see each other as precious;

Let us forgive one another.

Let us strengthen one another and root for one another and our families and

Let us stand with You in these kingdom principles to protect the world, guard America, and give You the glory.

We give You the praise, the glory, the honor with all the kingship lines gathered here today; in Your precious name we pray. Amen! Amen! Aju!

All right folks, let's all rise and give glory to God. Amen!
