Freedom is a Covenant

2022. 10. 09 - Rod of Iron Freedom Festival, PA- True Parents' Memorial

All right folks, please be seated this morning. Good morning! Good morning! Praise God Almighty! Come on in! Squeeze in if you can; make room for other folks. We got a little bit of overflow; we got no tent out there, so we hope the folks are doing good out there in the open air. God is good! Folks, it's a beautiful day today. Praise God! Let's give God some glory on this beautiful day! (Applause) Hallelujah!

I think we're joined here with the Washington Post, and we had some other media during the festival. We had some good interviews yesterday with Tokyo and also Fuji TV, also the London Times. Isn't the London Times a very old paper? (1785) They asked me an interesting question; they asked, "What does freedom mean to you?" That's what they asked, and we told them, "Freedom is a Covenant." It's a Covenant. Natural rights can only come from the Creator. They don't come from man; they don't come from the institutions of power. Freedom is a Covenant.

Separation of church and state

It was the London Times, so I was talking to a British lady and I said, "You know we had a little trouble with you guys in the past," and she said, "Oh yes! I know." But I was explaining to her that our Founding Fathers, they saw this land as a covenantal country. What does it mean? They saw it in the image of Israel. When the first Founding Fathers came, when the Pilgrims came, they were fleeing religious persecution.

In the interviews they were also asking "What do you think about separation of church and state?" In our modern period we have the propaganda media Hollywood culture, telling us that separation of church and state means that churches or pastors or priests cannot be talking about politics, nor can they be meeting politicians. But this is exactly the opposite of what really the separation of church and state means. The original separation of church and state in America was that the STATE cannot force me to believe in a certain way. Are you with me, folks?

For example, in Britain they made it mandatory that you had to be part of the Anglican Church. That's why the Pilgrims, the Mennonites, the Amish, all those traditions coming out of there eventually settled here. They did not agree with the Anglican hierarchy, to say the least, but yet they were mandated by the state to hold that faith. The whole discussion of separation of church and state was around that. It was around the fact that the state does not have the right to mandate our faith. Amen!

But now they say the opposite, that the church is not supposed to say anything about politics. This is ridiculous, because the church is supposed to be in the position of Christ; it's supposed to be the loyal lover of Christ. Amen! It's supposed to be the body that upholds his values, and upholds HIS Will. It doesn't just acquiesce to the ever increasing dangerous and grotesque demonic Satanic culture that is eradicating every facet of the Christian world.

You can be God

It gets to a point where the Christian worldview is being not only assaulted but systematically dismantled by politics that are trying to kill babies in the womb, relativize the nuclear family; relativize even male and female. Folks, we're the first civilization in the HISTORY of mankind that is claiming that a biological male can be pregnant. That's why they fight against Matt Walsh and what he is doing. <https://www.youtube.com/c/MattWalsh/videos>

It drives the Left nuts because they have no response; they're going against science.

No matter how much you cut your body and do grotesque surgeries, no matter how you slice this or slice that and now you have some appendage; no, no, you still have XX chromosomes or XY chromosomes. That doesn't change and it will never change no matter how many surgeries, no matter how many hormone blockers, no matter how many testosterone pills; whatever you're taking. Because God gets to decide whether you're male or female. The Bible says "He made them male and female." Amen! So, God decides what our first calling will be. If we were born a male, our first calling is to become a man, a true man. If we were born a female, our calling given to us by God -we didn't choose it- is to be a true woman.

But we have a society that's saying, "No, you can be God. You can choose it." And all the biology, all of the constants and conditions etc., must bend; they must conform to your internal subjective identity. And not only must you conform, but EVERYBODY else must conform, otherwise there is an assault of violence upon that person. This is next level plumb loco! (Laughter) This is unreal.

In the Department of Education, you've got people called scientists who spend twenty years of their life to go get their PHD and they are espousing that subjective internal feelings trump the laws of nature, trump biology and trump all of civilization. And you must conform to those feelings under the threat of censorship, under the threat of persecution, of bullying, of being called, "hatemonger," of being lambasted, deplatformed, and all those things. Oh! You all have experienced all of that! Amen! We're a good company because as patriots we're the first to get it.

(More people entering) We have tremendous patriots here! (Applause)

It's incredible. Now talking about it, it almost feels like we are in the Twilight Zone. It's unbelievable! Never in the modern period could we ever believe that scientists would be saying these kinds of things; that with a serious face, they would be stating, "Yes! Men can become pregnant!" Did you ever think, folks, that you would see anything like that? (No!) It is incredible that we are seeing this! Young people are growing up in this and they're being pressured to believe that this is the reality. It's an incredible level of bullying, an incredible level of social pressure that they're putting on them.

Socialism, communism, political Satanism

Hey! We have some folks from Europe! Let's give it up for Europe! (Applause) Now, people who come to the US have to get a jab even though they have been tested and they are negative, and even though worldwide scientists showed that there was a 99.7 percent chance of survival of the disease. By the way, the Chinese virus coming from a Chinese Wuhan lab probably killed about six million people worldwide. In fact, when we were in Japan and Korea, they were still wearing masks. Incredible! Korea just lifted their public mask mandate.

Remember what they were trying to do in the US? In PA they were trying to shut all the churches. And then they were saying, "Mask works, mask doesn't work! Mask works, mask doesn't work! Mask on, mask off; mask on, mask off; mask on, mask off; mask on, mask off!" (Laughter) Do you remember, folks? This was all to condition people. They do this for example when they conduct studies on lab rats. They will turn this on, turn that on, do this, do that. And in the same way, they said, "mask on, mask off!" Then they were saying, "N95 mask is working," and we were wearing the mask, and later on they were saying, "It's working but you've got to put on two or three." Whoa! Three masks! Oh, my goodness!

Some guys at the airport, just to make fun of them, had two masks on their mouth, and another one over their eyes (Laughter); they cut a hole so they could see and they just walked by and said, "I'm just trying to stay safe. That's all." It's incredible, what we had to go through; the type of trauma that we went through in the last three years. But of course, there's nothing surprising. Anybody who lived under centralized communist, socialist, political Satanist system, well for them it's real; this is every day. You can't do this; you can't go to the next town. All of a sudden you can't come into this town, or that town; you need a permit for this town or that town. Nobody can leave this region. All at random. You have no control over your life, no freedom of transportation, no freedom.

That's why Father always talked about communism as Satanism, because it establishes Satan's kingdom, it establishes Satan's culture. It establishes coercion, violence; the state using force to coerce people to do random and crazy things. We were telling some reporters that in the end, socialism, communism, political Satanism, is based fundamentally on violence; it's based fundamentally on theft.

They fund their operations obviously on taxing people, taking from them. But every law they make is Satan promising that they will use coercive power to enact those laws. That's what they promise. So, in the end this is a system based on violence. It's not based on love; it's not based on mutual agreement. It's based on violence. That's what socialism, communism, political Satanism is based on.

It's an incredible time we are living in, because we all have experienced this. We all have seen an incredible overreach; we have seen unbelievable trampling on human rights laws worldwide. Remember the man on the beach in Australia arrested for not wearing a MASK?

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EMCPghjbs0>

What planet are we living on? This is incredible. He was paddle-boarding by himself in the open air on the ocean and they captured him because he was not wearing a mask! You remember this? Incredible!

Europe is here.

-In Europe, are they still wearing masks now? (Question asked to a European brother)

-"No, but some people wear them when they go shopping."

-Oh, we have some of them here too! (Laughter) A lot of them at ShopRite and Walmart. We still have some mask people here!

A motorcyclist in the open air by himself wearing a mask; riding alone! Oh! Gosh! Unbelievable!

They all believed they were saving Grandma. Remember these incredible Thanksgiving dinners, and all the crazy lunatics were telling them they would be killing Grandma, "How dare you not believe the science?" and all this kind of stuff. They were sure that it was absolutely amazingly true because Fauci said it. You remember?

Do you remember how many tears were shed by patriotic people because their family members or children or others were calling them Nazis, anti-science? Remember this, folk? Unreal, what we had to go through!

Freedom is a Covenant

That's why when we were talking with these folks, they asked, "What is freedom to you?" and we said, "Freedom is a Covenant." It's a Covenant. My freedom doesn't come from you Mr. or Mrs. Media or Mr. or Mrs. Government.

My freedom comes from a covenantal relationship with the Creator, Almighty God. Freedom comes from a Covenant. Our Founding Fathers knew this. In fact, on the seal that was suggested to be the Seal of the United States by Benjamin Franklin, on the seal that he presented, what did we see? We saw images from Exodus. We saw Moses and the Israelites crossing the Red Sea, and Pharaoh's army being swallowed up and engulfed up. "Rebellion to Tyrants is Obedience to God" You remember this?

That was the Seal, because the Founding Fathers saw themselves not just as another people that is more powerful and is just conquering other countries. They saw themselves as a covenantal nation just like the Israelites that had a Covenant, a promise, almost a marriage between the Creator God and that nation. Amen! A holy nation.

In fact, George Washington right after he was inaugurated on Ground Zero in Manhattan, he went to St Paul's Chapel, that little chapel right down there,

<https://www.businessinsider.com/st-pauls-chapel-new-york-city-photos-history-911-2018-9?IR=T>

That's George Washington; he consecrated the nation of America and gave it to God, basically saying, "This is Your Land. We are Your keepers. Let this land become like Israel." It was consecrated to God; it was almost like a religious ceremony, a spiritual covenantal ceremony when he knelt down in that chapel and he offered America. They wanted him to be king. He was a general; he won it all and he said, "This is Yours! This is Your Covenant."

We look at this story of the past through the Scripture. We always want to get back to the Word, because the Word is a living person. It's not just a book; it's a person. Amen! (Amen!) God inspired these words; He shows His history and His dispensation, shows His heart and shows who He is. When we get into the Word, we get to know Him more deeply, more intimately, more personally. These Founding Fathers, they had an intimate relationship with God. In fact, in eighty percent of their writings, they use quotes from the Scripture, but other than that, they're also including some of the major philosophers of natural law such as John Locke. Our Founding Fathers studied the Enlightenment; they were very intelligent, very well read, and they always came back to anchor everything to this covenantal relationship with God. America is not a country of conquest; it is a country of Covenant.

You see the difference in the revolutions. In the French Revolution the queen said, "Let them eat cake!" They revolted, took over and now they proclaimed, "I am the king!" Okay, all right; so you replaced a tyrant by another. You see that in South America too with the militias. These revolutions are based on power. Americans, they're running away, they're fleeing from the Anglican Church, from the British crown. They're called "domestic terrorists" - I guess they would be in the modern period- they're called extremists. They have to pay additional taxes and that's why they're tossing the "precious British tea" into the ocean. So, it's this kind of situation. They don't want to take over; no, they're trying to escape. So, it's not a country founded on conquest, it's a country founded on a Covenant.

And once they established that, within the first eighty years slavery was essentially eradicated. Because they realized that as Christians the history of the British slave trade was a sin. Of course, it paled in comparison with the Muslim slave trade. If you studied the history of the Muslim slave trade, you would see that it was disastrous. They sold mostly females because they were for sex; in the British slave trade a high percentage were males. And of course, they were sold by Africans in Africa; it was not like white people in Africa catching black men and selling them. It was black Africans capturing their own people and selling them. If I say that, I am a "white" supremacist (Laughter) If you guys say that, you are Nazi; whatever. But this is history.

So, slavery of course was wrong and the Founding Fathers knew that and felt that it was a great sin. They made the foundation so that after eighty years slavery was gone. Which no country by the way has ever done; there's no country that's ever done that, ever. None! There's none, if you look at China, Korea, Japan, Africa, Europe, anywhere. Within eighty years of its founding slavery is gone. Where can you find that? Anywhere else? Eighty years, gone! So, this was not a nation based on conquering peoples, "we're going to kill the natives, we're going to kill the Blacks." That was not the purpose of the founding of America.

"You are of your father the Devil!"

We have a Covenant with God; we have a Covenant to manifest freedom. We are free men. We have separation of church and state; that's what we were talking about. Separation of church and state; not meaning that the church cannot talk about politics, which is what the commies want. Churches should be talking about all of this because commies are always after your family, always after your marriage, always after your children; always. So, churches of course must be speaking out about politics and the things that are evil in this world.

Just as Jesus did! Oh, you know what? Isn't it interesting? Whom was Jesus castigating? Whom was he calling, "You brood of vipers! You're children of Satan. You are of your father the Devil?"
- "These are not nice words, Jesus! That's not nice." (Laughter)

I mean, whom was Jesus cursing? (The Pharisees and the Sadducees) The Pharisees and the Sadducees! This is what people don't get: in the ancient world, religious figures were also political figures. For example, the pharaoh IS a religious figure in the Egyptian landscape, however he's also a political king. Are you with me, folks? This is what people forget about the ancient world. The Pharisees were not only priests in the Jewish tradition; they were also political figures that were working directly with the Roman Empire. They were magistrate over their jurisdiction; they were working and reporting directly to King Herod. So, they were not only intelligence gathering agents, but they were political figures and they were well-known throughout the landscape.

So, whom is Jesus castigating? Whom is he cursing? This is Jesus the perfect man, God in the flesh. This is not Hollywood hippie Jesus or something like that, "Where's my weed?" No, no, no! In John chapter 2, he's ready to scourge people for desecrating the Temple. He is there in Jerusalem and he is chastising, he is cursing; to these priests whom the whole nation sees as godly, he is declaring, "You are Satanic! Your father is Satan."

It would be like somebody walking up during Catholic ceremonies with the pope there and he's shouting, "you're Satan", and then throwing some people around and tearing down some religious statues. That would cause some commotion; he'd be arrested IMMEDIATELY. Is that true? (Yes) Because those are national treasures. All the places where Jesus went, the synagogues, remember, those are national treasures. It's like walking into St Peter's Basilica and throwing stuff around and whipping people who are there. You don't think the Italian police is going to come? Yes, the Swiss guards. They still wear leggings? (Yes) (Laughter) Wow! Men with tights may come and get you!! I am digressing. Lord, keep me focused!

The point is: he is doing this. Jesus is going to synagogues, national treasures, challenging the authority whom the whole nation sees as godly priests. And he is calling them, "vipers, snakes"; calling them "Satan's children". Oh, Lord, have mercy! Think about how triggering that is. Wow! If they had blue dye at the time, I am sure many would have died their hair blue. Oh my gosh! Jesus is attacking not only religious figures, but those are political figures. He's constantly challenging them.

So, the idea that Christianity has within it, the rule that pastors cannot talk about politics? Well Jesus Christ himself was slamming the politicians of the day. Are you with me, folks?

A light unto our path

In fact, it is a problem, just as Pastor Martin Niemoeller said:

"First, they came for the socialists, and I did not speak out – because I was not a socialist.

The communists don't like the socialists even though they're the same thing on a different spectrum but they are two camps within the same desire for centralized government, so the communists usually take out the socialists because they're competitions. So, they came for the socialists and nobody stood up for them.

Then they came for the trade unionists, and I did not speak out – because I was not a trade unionist.

Then they came for the Jews, and I did not speak out – because I was not a Jew.

Then they came for me – and there was no one left to speak for me."

This is what happens, folks! This is what happens when the body of Christ is silent. The church is supposed to be a light; it's supposed to be a light in a world of darkness. Amen! It's supposed to shine the Light of Christ. He is a "lamp unto our feet, a light onto our path." It's supposed to shine the light in the darkness. Amen! (Amen) Not the light of Lucifer which is a false light but the real Light of God: love, justice, goodness, courage, etc. And if the pulpit is not active, then what happens? Then slowly that civilization will fade into darkness because the only defender of God's true light is no longer shining the light. They've decided to turn their flashlight off so that they don't trigger, they don't anger the darkness.

But have you ever been hiking in a dark nature's trail? Maybe you were hiking and it started getting dark really fast, or maybe you've been lost in the woods or something like that and you had a flashlight. How much of an amazing help is that flashlight? Is that a huge help? Especially like in Tennessee, in Cheongpyeong, we have a mountain lion, so if you're stuck up in the mountains at night, you may run into Mr. Kitty Cat, and what's happening? You may become his late-night dinner.

If you don't have your flashlight or phone or anything like that, you can't see anything. Is that true? I mean if you really want, you can always bring your goggles, your NVG, your night vision goggles, and then you're fine. But if we don't have light to be able to see, then the darkness consumes us, and if there's a predator that's for example hunting in that darkness, we stand no chance. The Bible talks about Satan as a "roaring lion," that does what? Kills, steals and destroys. Amen! That's what Satan does. What does the Bible say? It said, "Satan is as a roaring lion that comes to kill, steal and destroy."

You see it right there; that's communism right there. It kills using the force of violence; it steals still using the force of violence, and destroys of course using the force of violence. That's what communism always has done. That's why of course it's not just a political ideology; these are not just political ideas. These are not just philosophical ruminations that some guy is having while smoking cigar and sipping brandy etc. These are serious things that create hellish domains where millions have to suffer. Are you with me, folks?

Did we get to our scripture yet? (Laughter)

2 Kings Chapter 4: 1-7

This is during the time of the Prophet Elisha; he's doing all kinds of miracles but this is the time of apostasy of the nation of Israel. Israel has now fallen away from God. The covenantal people have fallen away from God. They forgot what they promised, their marriage; they forgot the Covenant. They started playing around with other gods, they started committing spiritual adultery and fornication with other gods and they started losing that mission from God, that covenantal mission. And what happened then? They started collapsing.

He is one of the miracles that happened.

4 Now there cried a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the LORD: and the creditor is come to take unto him my two sons to be bondmen.

Now this is what would happen in the ancient world if you owed money. Let's say the father dies; now that predator is coming to take some of the sons to pay back that debt. So, the sons are going to be taken to work off the debt that the father had towards this other Israelite. The only stipulation here is that they would be bond-servants so they would pay that debt off. But in the case where an Israelite had a bond-servant that is also an Israelite, on the 7th year, the person had to be forgiven of the debt. On the sabbath year, he would have to be forgiven of the debt. Which means he would only be working six years and then on the seventh year, "All right okay, you are free; you've done enough." The debt is paid. There is the mention of that in here

<sup>2</sup> And Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me, what hast thou in the house? And she said, Thine handmaid hath not anything in the house, save a pot of oil. All she has is a pot of oil.

<sup>3</sup> Then he said, Go, borrow thee vessels abroad of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels; borrow not a few. So, borrow empty vessels.

<sup>4</sup> And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shalt pour out into all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

<sup>5</sup> So she went from him, and shut the door upon her and upon her sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured out.

<sup>6</sup> And it came to pass, when the vessels were full, that she said unto her son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oil stayed.

<sup>7</sup> Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, Go, sell the oil, and pay thy debt, and live thou and thy children of the rest.

So, God has multiplied the oil. She had a pot of oil and empty vessels, and through that God has performed a miracle, and there's now a multiplication; a multiplication of the grace of God which then allows this person to pay out her debt.

America must get back to that anointing

Now, we're getting back to the beginning: we are living in a country which has fallen away from God. We're in a post-Christian landscape where the majority of people now are saying, "Uh, you know, I don't know about believing in God." Especially millennials. What is the percentage of millennials that support socialism? 54% or something like that? It's incredibly high.

So, the idea of submitting and shaping our lives around the Scripture, the Judeo-Christian worldview, Jesus, the Old Testament prophets, etc., shaping our lives around this, is becoming old and a thing of the past. You go to churches and you won't see a lot of young people nowadays, and if you see a lot of young people, many times they are called "progressive churches, inclusive," inclusive of all manner of demonic things. That's what they mean by inclusive; anything that makes you feel good, anything and everything.

Jesus taught of God as a God of love, but of course by doing evil we can harm Him, we can stimulate His holy wrath. We have seen His judgment throughout history and throughout Scripture. We saw it in Noah's time, we saw it in the New Testament after the death of Jesus and the destruction of the Second Temple. We saw the Israelites displaced, wondering for two thousand years, etc. We can see that God is patient, He's slow to anger, but there is a point where He says, "No more! No more!"

I pray that America is not at that precipice yet. We are all praying that America can be blessed, because it is so critical that we get back to that anointing. It's not an easy thing. It now takes an entire worldview shift because our society has become so hedonistic, so post-modernist; we've become so far away from the Scripture, so far away and detached. Modern men have become like beasts living in their mom's basement, addicted to the black box, never leaving it, never going outside, never getting sunlight; they don't exercise, don't do any hard stuff like wrestling or MMA or Jiu-Jitsu or anything like that. Just living in a delusional land, in entertainment land, constantly being entertained.

Imagine if our Founding Fathers lived in our landscape

There's a wonderful NRA guy who was asking questions: "Let's go back to the revolutionary period. Imagine if our Founding Fathers had little black boxes that consumed all their daily attention." Imagine if George Washington had this and he's watching Netflix. (Laughter) "What is the next show on Netflix?" where he's being entertained all day. Thomas Jefferson, "Oh forget about writing the constitution. I need to see the next episode of ..." (Laughter) Can you imagine? Can you imagine, folks? And not only do you have the black box, but you have the most sophisticated worldwide tracing and tracking system the world has ever seen; this black box is a GPS device and everything is recorded.

Imagine if the Founding Fathers lived at a time where there was surveillance everywhere, where through facial recognition you were continuously tracked, wherever you went, whatever forest you'd in, wherever you'd hiding.

"Imagine, if the Founding Fathers had lived in that scenario; could they have won against the British?" We don't know. That was the question. Because today we're sitting in that situation and it seems utterly, utterly impossible because of the level of technology and the sophistication of the modern period. In fact, many times it seems like, oh man the Founding Fathers could just go to the local lumber yard for a piece of wood and they didn't have to worry about a black box recording everything they said. And an out-of-control justice system that is going after people who are basically protesting, saying "no" to CRT, because they don't want to be racist, and saying, "no" to hyper sexualizing activities in school for kids from the age of five; or something like that. Those people are now designated as domestic terrorists; they are traced and tracked, through facial recognition. How many times you shopped at Walmart? How many times you bought a Monster energy drink, or maybe you like Rockstar Energy, or whatever it is? All this kind of craziness. Imagine, if they had that type of apparatus, how could they win? How could they succeed?

And it's interesting. CJ Thompson, a Green Beret who is going to be training us. He was saying, "You know all these crazy people who want to take state power, they believe and trust that this technology is so great. But guess what? Technology also breaks down; it malfunctions." How many times have you been driving on a GPS; you're trying to get to ShopRite and you end up at the laundromat, or something like that, right? (Laughter) How many times has it happened?

You know these top MIT folks; they think they can rule the world and rule us. But you remember what happened with some of the electric autopilot cars? They were crashing and exploding. They found out that electric batteries made of lithium, they're high explosives when they come in contact with water. In Florida, they found out that after a big rain some of the $80, 000 to $100, 000 Teslas are smoking and ready to explode. Isn't that interesting? Not only that but it takes more carbon emission to make those kinds of vehicles. But I am digressing again. Imagine if the Founding Fathers lived in that type of landscape.

So, the Green Beret and the pastor were asking, "What are you going to do when your technology runs out and the only thing that stands between you and your enemy is a KA-BAR?" Which is a big knife. That's very low-tech; very low tech. See, high-tech seems very powerful and it is, but obviously you know that it also malfunctions. So, it's not just about high-tech apparatus. If they had high-tech apparatus which always run, never broke down, never made mistakes, then maybe the Founding Fathers would have a chance.

Just pour that oil!

But you know how ingenious the people were at that time or are at any time when they have to fight an evil enemy and for a proper purpose, for a public purpose, not for the normal purpose of a war, which is what? To rape, pillage and plunder. That's the normal historical purpose of a war; literally to steal resources which also include women who have eggs for the next generation. That literally has been the purpose of wars. Of course, you know the Bible does not allow that; they're not allowing them to rape their captives, etc.

But the point is: the Founding Fathers were fighting a just cause; they were fighting an evil empire and for a providential purpose. That is to say they were not going for the wrong purposes of the carnal rape, pillage and plunder. They were going for the purpose of freedom. Which is what? Which is a Covenant with God. So, in the purpose of that will and that purpose of fighting the evil empire, they had a moral power and they had a supernatural power within them. "Greater is He who is within me than he who is in the world." (1 John 4:4). Amen! They had that supernatural power, the indwelling of God and the power of the Holy Spirit at a critical time like that.

So, even if they had all that technology and we know technology fails; in the end, if our Founding Fathers were living in this period, and even if all odds were against them, and if technology put more against them, but again since they were fighting a just cause, a righteous cause, we know that God would be with them.

This is a very important thing, folks, because the woman here in the Bible, that is helped by Elisha, didn't necessarily believe that. "Okay. I have this pot of oil, and you want me to go get some empty pots? Why would I do that?" But as she started pouring, miracles started happening; as she started activating, doing what God was asking her to do, doing something simple, just pouring the oil. That's it! Don't start asking, "It really can't happen scientifically. You know, about God and Elisha, I don't know if I really believe in this or that." But she should just pour the oil. That's all God wanted her to do. Just pour some oil. Just pour a little more. And the oil overflows. "Bring another vessel! Okay, fill it!" Another vessel has come, "Fill it! Fill it!" Are you with me, folks? And just keep pouring.

Many times, it is just a simple task; just something simple. We might feel like, "Hey, I feel very pressured, I feel very isolated, I feel very attacked, I feel censured, I feel that the whole world is against me and they are coming after me with lawsuits; I feel the whole world is against me." But sometimes all God wants us to do is pour that oil, pour that oil. And it's not only pouring that oil but to just have faith; pour that oil because it starts MULTIPLYING the anointing, MULTIPLYING that oil, getting it so overflowing that in the end, it's paying off that whole household debt. That's a supernatural touch.

America, get back to that covenantal relationship with God!

We were talking with CJ Thompson who's done twenty-three deployments. He'll be doing our Monday training. Twenty-three different deployments, and he's seen the ravages of war. I was asking about wars, "I'm sure you guys sometimes feel it's very spiritual." And he was saying, "Yes, sometimes literally that's all you have; that's all you have, literally. Everybody is dying around you. All you have is God. you don't have anything else. All you have is God. The enemies come here and you think everything is going to go but somehow, some way, you wake up. And it was not about you; God got you out of there." Wow!

It's whether or not America will get back to her covenantal relationship with God. Will we get back to pouring the oil, or will we say, "God I don't know if there's any oil left. God, I don't know if America has any more oil." We got a lot of oil underground; it's not that oil, folks, and the high prices. (Laughter)

Will the people remember their love?

Will the people remember about God?

Will the people remember that people from many nations fled and came over to the land of freedom? Whites, Blacks, Asians; from everywhere people that were oppressed could come and experience freedom.

Where in the world can a pastor carry a golden AR-15 and do his preaching? (Applause) And this AR-15 is not a dummy; this is real. (Laughter) It can actually go bang! The media loves this bullet crown on my head; some believe that if I lean over, it will start shooting! (Laughter)

America, we need to remember our covenantal relationship with God, our covenantal marriage that was spiritual; it was not for resources, it was spiritual. It was a promise. How important it is if you want to save your marriage, how important is it to get back to the promise. Is that true? How many people have been through that? Don't raise your hand! (Laughter) How many people know people who went through that?

We got to get back to that promise, that annoying; the reason why this country was born, the reason why that marriage was made, the reason why that Covenant was substantiated, consecrated upon this earth to become "the land of the free and the home of the brave." It's a place of tremendous refuge, a place where people come and celebrate God's gifts of Liberty, which no one in the world recognizes. We have to get back to these solid vows.

Some people say, "Oh no! It's too hard. These Bible miracles are not happening, this is not happening. Trump's not in the White House!" Folks, sometimes all we need to do is just pour the oil, pour the oil; bring another jar over and pour the oil. Sometimes that's all we have to do. Out of faith? Pour the oil! Out of faith? Pour the oil! Out of faith? Pour the oil!

And then God does the multiplications. Hearts begin to start being alight again. Minds begin to be set alight with the brushfires. People start waking up; people not only start waking up mentally but they start

FEELING it again,

FEELING it.

FEELING they're alive,

FEELING that God is calling them at this desperate hour;

FEELING His presence. Amen! (Amen!)

How important is it to get back? When our marriage is weighing, when our covenant of marriage is weighing, how important is it to get back to that original promise, and then once again loving one another and then creating the feeling of affection for one another again? Amen! (Amen!) Getting over those feelings of hurt.

We need to get back to our history and once again feeling those feelings of affection for the gifts that God has given us.

Falun Gong Practitioners

In Europe, you're in a very dangerous place, right? Putin is holding Sarmat-2 missiles over your head every day. And Xi Jinping? Don't even get me started on him; organ harvesting Falun Gong people. That's why they're here at the festival. (Applause) Say hi to them at the Chinese food place. They are hunted by Xi Jinping because they are anti-communists. There are other Buddhist organizations that are apolitical, but these people, they are anti-communists. Many were killed at the Tiananmen Square massacre, and they are killed, they are raped in prison; they are organ harvested because many are vegetarian and at a higher price on the human organ trade that China conducts. So, these people are heavily hunted, heavily persecuted. They're speaking at 1pm today. Please go and check them out, and say hi to them. Such great people!

They are Buddhists so they don't understand so much about the Second Amendment but they've been coming here for about two or three years and now they realize, "Wow, good people also need to have the ability to say, 'NO!' to tyranny." Having the Rod of Iron means having the ability to say, "NO!" to evil and defend that which is good.

The Rod of Iron

As we mentioned yesterday, you remember in the Scripture, what is the connection between God and weapons? Jehovah is the first weapon creator; Jehovah, He created the Flaming Sword, beautiful sword, amazing sword; glorious gorgeous sword! He created the Flaming Sword to defend the Garden of Eden. Notice the Flaming Sword was not used after men had fallen to go hunt them down and kill them. Do you understand, folks? It was used to protect.

They were asking “Why is the Rod of Iron the AR-15? Why not AR-18 or AK-47?” The AK was used under communism, to rule. Good technology, amazing gun, amazing weapon system, but what’s the intention? What’s the spirit behind them? I'm not looking down on all the AK guys! (Laughter) I have AKs too; I like AKs, but you understand what I'm saying. It’s about the spirit.

Whereas in the US Armed Forces, the weapon they have used has been for the purpose of defense; of defending liberty and freedom. Unfortunately, you know it has been misused. At the time, Father was against the Iraqi War, and going after the Iraqis after sixteen Saudis hit on 9/11. Father was against that big time. But generally, in the early part of the 20th century, the US of course were standing up for freedom, and even though those politicians sent our troops to Iraq, Afghanistan and all these places, the troops are good. They are doing a righteous thing; they are serving their country; they believe they're fighting for freedom. Even though the politicians may be making money, that’s not their sin; that’s the sin of that leadership.

But the point is: this kind of accoutrement is the ability for citizens to say, “no,” and to defend themselves. Just like God defended Eden from now sinful rebellious man.

So, we pray that America may get back to the Word, and at the same time that we may remember who we are and whose we are. We are in a covenantal relationship with God. God Almighty! A covenantal relationship! And through that relationship, He has made us into His inheritors, to “be fruitful, multiply, have dominion over the earth and subdue it.” That blessing of sovereignty and dominion was given to humanity. So, America, let's get back to those founding principles, that relation with God, understanding that we are kings and priests and protectors of the Covenant of freedom. Because if we go, folks, you know what happens; the darkness overwhelms.

But just as there was darkness at the time of Elisha as all the enemies were coming, and Israel was on the verge of total decimation, now

God is still working miracles.

He’s still multiplying the oil in the vessels,

He’s still multiplying faith.

He's still multiplying, and

He starts transforming the hearts and minds of men one at a time.

And each one can then go multiply seven times, just like in that scripture where He multiplied the oil many times until all the vessels could be filled. One person multiplying to the others, spreading like a wildfire; spreading so people can remember who they are, what foundation and principles we were born on, and how precious that Covenant is for us to keep this land to be free.

Please join me in prayer!

Pastor Sean's Prayer

Father God, we thank You for this beautiful day.
 We thank You for this glorious weather, and for all the patriots and all the folks that have gathered here today to hear Your Word, to study about the time of Elisha and realize that we are a nation in decline and all the things are against us. We have become a post- Christian country. We are a nation in moral decline. We are a nation that has become licentious and hedonistic and fallen away, and too coward to speak out against evil.

But God, in the midst of all that despair
 YOU are alive,
 YOU are moving,
 YOU are awakening people,
 YOU are turning them onto the light,
 YOU are transforming their heart,
 YOU are making us feel affection once again for the Covenant of Liberty that You have blessed this land with, dear God.

Let us know the historical line that guides the history, the starting point from which the freedom quest has filled the earth in this 20th century.

But let us remember at the same time that we must connect to that initial spark; we must feel once again that passion that our Founders felt.

We must be ANIMATED as we're now being called to STAND against unrighteousness, injustice, immorality and corruption.

We must go beyond the feelings of despair and fear, for Your Word said, "You have not given us the spirit of fear but of power and of love and of a sound mind." (2 Timothy 1:7) You have armed us with "the whole armor of God, the belt of truth, the breastplate of righteousness; our feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace; the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit." (Ephesians 6)

We are IN the midst of the battle but we are NOT ALONE! There is a fourth person in the furnace with Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; there is a fourth man standing with us in the fire at this critical time. There is a man that guides us through the Red Sea and the wilderness, and bring forth rivers of flowing water.

Dear God, let us always remember the God that we serve, the righteousness that we seek, that You have given THROUGH Your blood, THROUGH the washing of our sins, THROUGH the grace that You have poured out upon these Stars and Stripes.

Let that spirit rain out again! Let it fill the earth again! Let it fill our hearts and our emotions and our will so that once again we remember WHO we are and WHOSE we are, and that freedom is not only free but it is a COVENANT, a PROMISE with YOU!

Dear Father, we thank You so much for all the folks that are here in the Rod of Iron Freedom Festival. We pray that everybody will be filled with the Blessing of joy, that we will have faith together, that we will be encouraged seeing one another in this critical fellowship; everyone safe, everyone sound, and everyone praising You throughout the day.

We give You praise, glory and honor with all the patriots and all the kingships here.

In Your precious name with pray.

AMEN! AMEN! AJU! (Applause)

Let's all rise and give God the glory! Amen!
