Institution of Marriage

2023. 03. 12

All right, praise God! Today is already Sunday. Incredible how fast time flies by!

Shout out to Craig Sawyer and the Vets4childrescue! <https://vets4childrescue.org/> They got the new drip coming out. Go pick up your hoodie at Vets4childrescue. Also help the brothers there; they are using their combat skills to go after the real devils, the real demons of society. Of course, their lives are threatened all the time and they're blacklisted all the time just for doing the right thing. So, these people are really true patriots. Brother Craig Sawyer out there Vets4childrescue - you never stop being a Navy SEAL, so - Navy SEAL and Delta Force Tier 1 operator, but of course doing God's work now and catching those pedos. We're very thankful for Brother Craig out there.

Well, let's get into it! We're in Exodus chapter 9 today. Let's read together. Now, this is in the midst of all the plagues. In Exodus chapter 8 you see all the plagues: The plague of water turned to blood, the plague of frogs, the plague of lice, the plague of swarms of flies that cover the land, and in chapter 9 we come into the plague on the cattle. It's not a long chapter so let's read it and see what is going on.

Exodus 9

<sup>1</sup> Then the LORD said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

Not just: let my people go so they can be licentious, hedonists and Satanist. No! He said, "Let them go so they can serve me!" Amen! That's a very interesting thing there; He said, "Let them go so they can serve me." They have a purpose in being set free; there's a purpose. The reason is so they can serve God.

<sup>3</sup> Behold, the hand of the LORD is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the horses, upon the asses, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the sheep: there shall be a very grievous murrain.

<sup>4</sup> And the LORD shall sever between the cattle of Israel and the cattle of Egypt: and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> And the LORD appointed a set time, saying, To morrow the LORD shall do this thing in the land.

<sup>6</sup> And the LORD did that thing on the morrow, and all the cattle of Egypt died: but of the cattle of the children of Israel died not one.

<sup>7</sup> And Pharaoh sent, and, behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Israelites dead. And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

<sup>8</sup> And the LORD said unto Moses and unto Aaron, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses sprinkle it toward the heaven in the sight of Pharaoh.

<sup>9</sup> And it shall become small dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt.

<sup>10</sup> And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Pharaoh; and Moses sprinkled it up toward heaven; and it became a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast.

<sup>11</sup> And the magicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians.

<sup>12</sup> And the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had spoken unto Moses.

<sup>13</sup> And the LORD said unto Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me.

<sup>14</sup> For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; that thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth.

<sup>15</sup> For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth.

<sup>16</sup> And in very deed for this cause have I raised thee up, for to shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth.

<sup>17</sup> As yet exaltest thou thyself against my people, that thou wilt not let them go?

<sup>18</sup> Behold, to morrow about this time I will cause it to rain a very grievous hail, such as hath not been in Egypt since the foundation thereof even until now.

<sup>19</sup> Send therefore now, and gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die.

<sup>20</sup> He that feared the word of the LORD among the servants of Pharaoh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses:

<sup>22</sup> And the LORD said unto Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be hail in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Egypt.

<sup>23</sup> And Moses stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and the LORD sent thunder and hail, and the fire ran along upon the ground; and the LORD rained hail upon the land of Egypt.

<sup>24</sup> So there was hail, and fire mingled with the hail, very grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation.

<sup>25</sup> And the hail smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail smote every herb of the field, and brake every tree of the field.

<sup>26</sup> Only in the land of Goshen, where the children of Israel were, was there no hail.

<sup>27</sup> And Pharaoh sent, and called for Moses and Aaron, and said unto them, I have sinned this time: the LORD is righteous, and I and my people are wicked.

<sup>28</sup> Intreat the LORD (for it is enough) that there be no more mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer.

<sup>29</sup> And Moses said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will spread abroad my hands unto the LORD; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the earth is the LORD's.

<sup>30</sup> But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye will not yet fear the LORD God.

<sup>31</sup> And the flax and the barley was smitten: for the barley was in the ear, and the flax was balled.

<sup>32</sup> But the wheat and the rie were not smitten: for they were not grown up.

<sup>33</sup> And Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh, and spread abroad his hands unto the LORD: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth.

<sup>34</sup> And when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, he and his servants.

<sup>35</sup> And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, neither would he let the children of Israel go; as the LORD had spoken by Moses.

All these different plagues come down; the plague of hell comes down as well and starts destroying all the crops.

Everybody here, we know about farming so you see that even a late winter frost can kill your vegetables, like what's going to happen on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. In Fahrenheit it's going to be going down to 24 or 28 or something like that. So, you got to cover your crops or at least you wet them down in the morning, so that before the sun rays hit the frost on top of your leaves and all your vegetables, it doesn't burn them. Because the little droplets of frost act as magnifying glasses; did you know that? They act as magnifying glasses; they amplify the solar radiant heat. So, if you have that frost on top of the crops, when the sunlight hits, that's when the leaves get burnt and get damaged, etc. That's why you hit them with water, and melt that frost off or you just cover them with a sheet so that in the morning you don't have to worry about that.

But don't forget to take the sheet off. Don't do as we did when we left it on there for two days and all the leaves of the tree died. Don't do that. You want to put the sheet on and take it off in the morning so that the tree can photosynthesize. Amen! Praise the Lord! You learn about this when you're in the wilderness, in nature.

The Issue with the Israelites

But you see, Pharaoh did not stop. The plagues keep coming, of frogs and of flies etc., and now they even have hail and the cattle disease, and the plague of boils that were even on the magicians. The magicians could not even duplicate the things that Moses was doing. So, God was totally foiling them and foiling their plans.

The Bible seems to say that it was just Pharaoh's heart that was getting hardened. Eventually he lets them go especially after Passover when the angel of death comes and slaughters every Egyptian firstborn etc., but passes over those who have the BLOOD of Christ - it's the symbol of the blood of Christ - over their front doorpost. Amen! Are you with me folks? But notice that God hardened the heart of Pharaoh and pharaoh kept on vacillating. He said:

"I will let you go."

"Okay, I will not let you go. The hell has stopped; I changed my mind. Now we're going to trap them in; we got to keep them in."

It's interesting because usually we just think that it's Pharaoh's issue here, not the issue with the ISRAELITES. You see? Why? Because the Israelites did not want to leave Egypt; they didn't want to leave. Of course, they were slaves but they had welfare, they had food, they had their fifty-square-foot apartment tiny little thing as in North Korea; they had their food, they had their little shelter, they get their government subsidies. Of course, they're doing slave labor that means morning to night and they're slaves so their masters can rape them; they can sexually abuse them and they can do whatever they want. They can kill you if they want. No problem; it doesn't matter. You're a slave so you can be killed, you can be raped, you can be molested; everything is fine. But they think that is better because they get a couple of Egyptian dollars and a couple of canned food goods over the month - metaphorically speaking.

So, you see the problem is not only Pharaoh. Pharaoh is getting to the point where God is breaking him down and making him release the Israelites. The PROBLEM is that the dang ISRAELITES don't want to leave; they're becoming the larger problem. So, it's interesting how God starts SQUEEZING. He starts SQUEEZING not only Pharaoh the bad guy, but also the supposedly good guys; He starts squeezing them TOO to get their booties moving. He says, "NO! I don't want you to stay in Egypt. You're supposed to go and CONQUER The LAND of Canaan." Isn't that interesting?

It's interesting because you would say, "Well, when Jesus came and he prophesied that the Temple would be rent in two, that took FORTY YEARS! Moses, it seems in this chapter he's running up saying, 'Stop the hail,' and it stops. It almost seems like it's immediate. How come when God in the flesh, God of substance comes down, Jesus Christ; how come JESUS is not doing this kind of thing?" Of course, we know from the Principle that the purpose of Jesus is not to do a magic show; the purpose is not to "Whoa!" and "Ah!" The purpose is a love relationship; for people to choose love more than power and comfort and security and all this. Love with God's anointed SON, to come in a total union with Him and NO ONE else, for "God is a jealous God."

So, you see? God is not only squeezing Pharaoh but He's also taking away all the different avenues of excuses, all the different holes that the people can slip out of and sneak out of, and He's forcing the PEOPLE to unite with Moses. That's what He's doing. Isn't that interesting because the real issue was the people. The people don't want to unite!

If Christianity Had United with Father

It's like when Father came to America the body of Christ did not want to unite with him. If they had, there would not be this progressive Christianity, this debauchery that they're teaching now, where they're basically teaching LGBTQ out of the pulpit. If the churches were teaching the Principle in Sunday School, in middle and high school, the kids, the Christian body of Christ would be learning the Principle and learning the ESSENTIAL nature of guarding your sexual organ fruit. They would understand how DEVASTATING it is and CATASTROPHIC it is to play around and to believe that you're STRONG, that you're stronger than that. No! Adam and Eve believed they were stronger too, but they fell catastrophically. STUPID! BRAIN-DEAD! NO IQ!

They fall into the emotions. That's what happens. The IDIOTS believe they're strong enough. So, they test, they play with fire and you get BURNED, you get burned. You end up making a catastrophic mistake, destroying many lives, destroying your OWN life. STUPID!

Now if Christianity learned this in the churches, they would understand the seriousness of this and how critical it is. You can't be playing around with sex and boy-girl relationship; you can't be playing around with that. You can't be playing around. Why? Because it's not only an issue of sex; it's an issue of the heart. It's an issue of falling in the HEART in the internal realm, giving your heart to Satan. Satan always comes in a NICE PACKAGE to try to lure you and try to destroy you. So, don't be STUPID!

You have to INVEST! It's time of investing in the FUTURE; you have to think FUTURE-forward, NOT present-time pleasure. FUTURE-forward thinking as the wise people who build success over time, in marriage, family, and society. Building those key relationships, investing in that key relationship is KEY, key, key, key, key; absolute key. Taking seriously the issues of SEX! And not be like these pansy weak churches that don't even TALK about it, so their kids don't know what the hell they're talking about when they're talking about apples and pears.

Father talked about it very clearly, very clearly. The SEXUAL ORGAN is the place of destruction or the place of marriage and fruition. The sexual organ in MARRIAGE is the place of success and prosperity, the strength of the couple and joy of God. ANYTHING else outside of that brings destruction. It destroys EVERYBODY's lives; mucks up and scars EVERYBODY!

Boys Using Girls' Locker-Rooms

You see the groomers and the LGBTQ TEACHING the kids early to play around, to push the boundary. They're getting young girls used to boys saying that they're girls, and then they can use their restroom. Not only the restroom, but they can use the girls locker-room. Do you understand how INSANE that is?

<https://www.lifezette.com/2019/09/boys-girls-locker-rooms/>

They're letting boys use the girls' locker-room if they're saying that they identify as girls. Well, they can change their identity in two years or after they graduate from high school; that's how ridiculous that is!

But what is it doing to the girls? Since girls are highly agreeable, they just go along with it; girls have an agreeable nature. There are epidemiological studies to show in terms of five personality traits, that girls are much more agreeable and have a much higher degree of neuroticism. And they're young too. Young girls are totally agreeable; they'll do what the teachers and authorities tell them to do; mostly. There are some brave ones that actually will say, "Hey, this is crazy!" Almost 99% of the time they're from Jewish or Christian upbringing and they're kind of Orthodox; they're the only ones that actually go against this crap because they're conservative.

But the point is: what happens to those little girls in middle and high school? They're getting used to undressing in front of a MAN that's naked in front of them. You understand? They're conditioning the girls to make it seem as if it was like nothing. This guy says he's a girl but he's got a penis and he's undressing in the girls' locker room. Now, they have to also strip down and shower and become completely buck naked in front of this guy in the locker room and they're supposed to pretend like it's no big deal.

Do you understand what that is doing to the girl's brain? That's now forging new neural pathways that make her believe that it's okay; that it's no biggie to strip her clothes off in front of a male who's naked. NOW, will that HELP the GIRL? Will that help her keep her SEXUAL PURITY, OR will it make sex and nakedness feel less taboo? You see what I'm saying? It normalizes it, "Oh yeah just be naked in front of everybody." That's NOT supposed to be NORMAL! You're only supposed to be naked in front of God and your spouse.

Now, these boys can identify as a girl, go in the dang girls' locker room, strip their clothes off and the girls have to strip off too. That's CONDITIONING the females to get used to it and think it's no big deal to take your clothes off in front of a boy; that is prepping them for licentiousness and immorality and NUMBNESS, numbness.

Women, Cover Yourself

Why? Because female nakedness is like the most guarded thing of all society. Why? Because from female nakedness comes what? The EGGS! Access to the biological eggs. If females are used to just getting naked in front of everybody in society, those eggs will be CATASTROPHICALLY exposed to the WORST gene sets and the most pathologically insane perverted satanic LINES! Do you understand? The whole PURPOSE about God saying, "Women, COVER yourself," is to PROTECT the line and your eggs and your future progeny from these pathological perverts and pathological rapists and pathological MURDERERS. Because the woman's nakedness is the last thing before the access to the eggs.

Now, they make the woman's nakedness NORMAL in society, and we exposed that when we talked about Ishtar. They put up naked statues of the "goddess," and notice how she's always naked. See how they do it? They're normalizing a stripped-down woman. They're taking AWAY the sacredness of the nakedness that's supposed to exist in MARRIAGE, the covenant of marriage. They're making it seem NORMAL in our society and you see girls running around in bikinis and G-strings and thongs everywhere. You understand? That's how they NORMALIZE the nakedness because now you're already naked in front of everybody.

Social media doesn't make it better because now you've got hearts and likes and you're getting emojis with hearts and eyes, and the girls are thinking, "Oh, look how much attention I'm getting!" NO! You're getting PATHOLOGICAL murderers and PERVERTS wanting to RAPE you! That's what you're doing; that's what you're getting. Of course, they're interpreting that from a female lens, so, when their girlfriends give them like, "Oh girl, you look so hot," they're like, "Oh thank you so much."

No! No! NO! When guys are saying that to you, that means they want to have sex with you. Your girlfriends may not; they may just think, "Oh baby, you're so hot! Oh my gosh, you're so cute." But when a GUY says it, he wants to rape you. So, these dumbed-down girls on the internet stripping down in the bikini getting these likes and heart emojis, they're thinking it's the same thing as getting it from a girlfriend! No, it's NOT! You got serial RAPISTS sending you stuff now. This is crazy!

You see that with the Ishtar cult, you see that with all the "goddess" cults; they always strip down the woman. In the end the woman is "fertility goddess." She's always got the buxom, you know the breasts and the booty and then she's stripped down naked. Always, always, always! In Ishtar's iconographic tradition, she has like fifty breasts; she has multiple breasts to pretend that she's even MORE fertile than anything else and that she could have endless progeny. You can continually mate with her and she'll feed all of them with her eight hundred breasts or whatever it is. Ludicrous! You understand? But it's all about fertility goddess. Fertility is about what? Sexual fertility. That's what these cults always PUSH!

They're always pushing the nakedness of the woman because that's the final line. The females in society are so dumbed down and brainwashed; they don't have FATHERS TELLING them, "dress modestly and be sexy in your heart and love towards GOD, and be beautiful for your husband. Once you're married, wear whatever you want, bikinis etc., with your husband." That's when you can go crazy, but only when you're married. It's not outside of marriage that you're stripping down in freaking bikinis and thongs. NO!

Because a male cannot have a girlfriend. What is the test of that? As soon as that girl wants to have sex, that man will have sex with her; as soon as she wants to have sex and she says it's okay, he'll be in bed with her. As a man you can't have a girlfriend! The only reason why a man wants to be around you is because of his sexual interest; that's the only reason. There's NO OTHER reason. And how do you know that? Well, at the very moment that girl strips her clothes off in front of him, he will have sex with her. That's the reason why he's hanging around girls; that's the reason.

That's why it's CRITICAL that you always keep distance, that you guard yourself before your marriage, and keep absolute purity. That means what? You're guarding your eyes, you're guarding your heart, you're guarding your sexual ORGAN, your INTEREST! After you're married you still got to WATCH out. Why? Because there will still be temptation. Just because you have babies or you have children doesn't mean that all of a sudden, the man's sexual energy disappears. NO! But that sexual energy has to be focused on his wife; that's where it's supposed to be. ANYWHERE ELSE brings destruction; it will destroy LIVES. That's why we have to be careful always.

But the point is: this society always is trying to bring this down, and they do it by what? Creating the icons and the images, and in the modern day it's Hollywood and all that crap and all the stupid Hollywood stars stripping naked and basically at the Emmy Award show they're wearing see-through dresses with a tiny little bikini underneath or something like that. Basically, they're running around naked.

What's the PURPOSE of that? Well, it was the same in the ancient world. It's the same as putting up Ishtar statues of naked women; it's the same effect. It's to normalize the woman's nakedness and to monetize her. In the end that's what it is; they're monetizing her. What do you think PORNO and all that stuff is? Naked GIRLS!

What do you think the ancient temples were where they depicted that? For example, in India they depict the actual scenes of coitus on the "temples." What do you think that is? That's ancient pornography. What is that meant to do? That's meant to NORMALIZE free-sex culture, NORMALIZE licentiousness, NORMALIZE playing around, NORMALIZE seeking just pleasure and fake emotions. NOT thinking future, NOT BUILDING, not creating something STRONG! NO! It's thinking about fake emotions now, fake dramas; feelings over the future.

Gender-Reassignment

In the modern world, you see this even on the school level. Now, if a boy identifies as a girl, the government will be MAKING him undress in the freaking girls' locker room. And all those brainwashed dumbed-down agreeable girls in freaking fifth grade and above, they're just, "Oh, okay, I guess it's normal." And they're stripping their clothes off naked in the shower in the locker room in front of a boy that says he's a girl, but he's got his bottom parts all there. They're getting used to becoming naked in front of a man who's NAKED! You understand?

THAT is of course changing the psychology of the culture. Think of an entire generation funded by TAX-PAYER money; not government money but OUR money! They're STEALING our money by force and by SWAT teams, and if you don't pay, they'll kill you, and then they're PAYING for children to be made into nut bags and the girls to be made into strippers.

You should feel shame of becoming naked in front of a man especially if he's freaking naked; it's a normal response, and that's why a lot of the girls are like, "I don't know if I feel comfortable." They won't SAY anything because they're agreeable. They're scared of being ostracized, being hated by the other girls and being called intolerant; they're scared of that.

Satan is always after that. He will always try to break down the healthy barriers between male and female, play the game, try to blur those boundaries. "No, no, no! It's okay. Hey, let's play, play! I don't know what is to be worried about; he's a trans-woman," confusing them with language and then it makes SENSE. He didn't transform from ANYTHING! He's still a BOY, he's still a MALE!

You don't get to be gender Optimus Prime and pretend one day you're a Mac Truck, and pretend another day you're the leader of the Autobots, etc. You CAN'T play around like that with gender. Of course, they try to confuse you, "Well, it's identity." Well then, it's TOTALLY subjective. Which is the reason why the long-term studies show that ten to fifteen years later people who have done gender reassignment surgery have MASS CATASTROPHIC regret.

But of course, in all the modern studies that all these Lefties try to quote, they say, "Well, they show that gender reassignment is actually affirming." How long was the time frame? One year, ONE year! So, the kid was thirteen and at fourteen he still thinks, "Yeah, I think it's okay." Just like if a kid got a MASSIVE TATTOO on his face or on his back, at thirteen, and he thought that was cool, it's probably likely he's still going to like it when he's fourteen. But the question is: will he like it when he's twenty, thirty, forty-five years OLD, especially if it's up on his face? If you chop off your genitals, you can never get them back. That's worse than a face tattoo, neck tattoo, eye tattoo. Come on! It's worse than all because you can NEVER get that back; it's doing something with IRREVERSIBLE nature.

-"Have you ever done anything that you regretted later?"

"Yeah!"

Well, maybe that's why we shouldn't let young children choose to chop up their genitals when it's a trend and people think doing it seems like it's COOL, and you're liberated, and you're a HERO if you do it. Maybe that's why; because kids do STUPID crap that they regret later. Amen! Is that true? Come on! Let's not be foolish here; we're not bozos. We understand this is what happens when you're young and your brain is not developed and you're dumb.

The Assembly of God's People

Which is the reason why wisdom is so important. Wisdom is key, a network is key, a support group is key, because wise people can come in and say, "Hey!" and wake you up. That's why being surrounded by good people is important because they can save your booty from burning your HOUSE down.

That's why networks and friends and fellowship and church community are so important, with people who are mature or trying to grow in maturity with God. We're not perfect but every week, we're trying to grow, we're trying to get better and that's why that community of wisdom and experience and that network and that fellowship of God's people "Do not forsake the assembly of God's people," (Hebrews 10:25) is so important. That's why God wants His people to get TOGETHER, not just be only family-centric. Even though we're supposed to be kings and priests in our family, we're not supposed to only be family-centric; we're supposed to also Peace Police-Peace Militia, "love God, love your NEIGHBOR" too. So, strong families, powerful husband and wife, powerful relationships with your children, but also working with the other families in the COMMUNITY. This is Peace Police-Peace Militia. Amen! This is so critical.

Motorcycle Clubs

And that's what's good about The Rod of Iron Riders. Sose The Ghost who's in the 1%er MC, <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCOurQYYPwJx83x6WkSu2QwQ> he was a Crip. He was crippling; he was a gangster selling drugs and he got thrown in prison for shooting guys, where he paid his dues. But after he stopped crippling which is the Crips and Bloods <https://www.ojp.gov/ncjrs/virtual-library/abstracts/crips-and-bloods-informational-guide-investigator> he went into the MC's which is the Motorcycle Clubs. There are wild guys in there obviously, there are very definitely wild guys in there. BUT he said the one thing that was different between the Crips and the MCs was that the young gangs they only got young men. You got like one tyrant boss. He may be like thirty or something like that, so he's not even that old but he's the one that collects all the money from selling the drugs and selling the hoes, etc.

The point is: he said it's all young men, all young guys and they're just trying to hustle for the money; they're just trying to get their money selling drugs, whatever the case may be. They're trying to get the money because the money gets the girls, then once you get the girls, you strip down naked and then you get the eggs. You see how it always ends up to that. Because that's what a civilization must guard. Why must they guard female nakedness to be only in the covenant of marriage which is loyalty, responsibility, accountability? Why? Because the EGGS are the next generation; you can't let those eggs be POISONED by pathological murderers and liars and rapists.

But getting back. He was saying that in the Crips and the Bloods' gangs it's all young people, so there's really no wisdom; they're just tussling trying to get money and girls, etc. But with the MCs even though there are wild cats in there, there are a lot of old-timers; they call them OGs, old gangsters, old-timers. But there's a big age gap. So, there are young bloods in there like twenty years old, thirty years old, but there are also guys in their sixties and seventies or even maybe eighties and nineties! In the MC world you can ride trikes when you get older. When my knees go bad, I'm definitely riding a trike, because you can still fly through the air; you can still feel God's beautiful creation all around you 360 degrees. GoPro don't even come close. But you can still ride with your guys.

The point is: the young guys can look up to the older guys. Now, again there are some crazy ones in there, but there are also very wise ones. They've committed the same stupid felonies and mistakes that those young kids have, but then they cleaned up. Many times, they're pastors. A lot of times these guys turn their life around; they give their life to Christ and now they're pastors. Seriously!

Pastor Aguilar

Sose did a beautiful interview with Pastor Aguilar out there in Southern California. I think he was a gang member when he was younger; he went to prison and Jesus saved him. The man turned his life around and he started one of the biggest Christian Motorcycle Clubs. They got raided by a SWAT team because they were getting blessed; they were growing and they were friends with the 1%ers. The cops SWAT-teamed him because they thought, "How the heck does he have all these motorcycles?" He's got Benzes in the driveway and he's got Cadillac Escalades rolling up in here. These guys are doing drugs, they're doing the same as the 1%er Diamond Club. 1%er Diamond Clubs are not all into drugs by the way, but some people may be into it.

But the point is: it was clean. It is just a Christian motorcycle gathering group and they're literally praying and ministering, feeding the poor. I mean they're literally just doing that. They're being blessed because people are getting very inspired by their ministry so it is growing quickly and he had like a hundred riders at some point. He even had to get the permission of the 1%er groups because they'll beat you up. I mean, if there's a hundred guys all of a sudden in your club they're going to come and you're going to have to get what they call a "blessing" in the motorcycle world; you have to get a "blessing" from the big clubs that are called the dominant clubs. This is the real alpha, alpha, alpha, a lot of felons, alpha, alpha, alpha landscape.

That's how it is. For example, even to put our Rod of Iron patch on, we have a network so the big dominant clubs know about us; they "give us the blessing." That means, "Those guys are okay. They're not interfering with us." In the motorcycle world that's the case.

Pastor Aguilar was running a national ministry, but the cops thought he was running a drug operation because these guys are all like ex-felons; they're tattooed up. They're riding bikers and now they got three-piece patches on, which you don't do in the bike world. You don't do three-piece patches unless you want to get beat down or in fights or in gunfights. Pastor Aguilar was SWAT-teamed. They raided his house in the morning, they banged down his door. Flash-bangs came in, blew up, and they took him out with handcuffs and everything. They tried to put him in the pen, but of course they found nothing on him.

<https://www.religionnewsblog.com/24322/phil-aguilar-no-jail-set-free>

They're not running a drug house; it is literally a ministry. They have books on Christ and they have charities. They have a warehouse filled with food for the poor. They're actually running a ministry even though he looks like a gangster; he's all tattooed up and all that, but his life has changed. They threw him in prison for that and of course they didn't win the case because he was innocent.

Importance of Church Fellowship

God can TOTALLY transform somebody through network and relationships. Relationships are the key. Unlike in the gang world, in the MC world there are older men who've been through the ringer; they've gained wisdom, they've gained knowledge. These young bloods they're hot-headed; they want to fight, they want to go to bars and play with strippers. But the older guys say, "Hey, hey, hey baby boy, you watch out! Watch out, watch out; you're going to get burned." They have wisdom and it's these relationships with OLDER folks that help these young bloods start getting wiser. Amen!

That's why it's so important in a church community, "Do not forsake the assembly of God's people" to be around wise people. It doesn't mean they're perfect, but usually they're wiser than you. That's what a church community does; it has all these age groups.

The public school system tries to segregate us into age groups. Only 18-year-olds can hang out with 18-year-olds, 17-year-olds with 17-year-olds. In high school 14 -to-18-year-olds can hang out with each other. Then in middle school it's 10- to-14-year-olds. NO! Homeschoolers don't learn that; homeschoolers learn what? They learn how to deal with adults 60 and 70-year-olds, they learn how to deal with teenagers, they learn how to deal with all variety of ages. It's not this fake segregation of age groups.

Church is not like that either; it's not segregated by age group. In church, you're supposed to interact and learn and fellowship with a variety of ages, races, everything. You're fellowshiping with them, not crossing any boundaries, not doing stupid stuff where you can fall; obviously not. But you're interacting in a public setting with a group of people and you're trying to hear their story. You're trying to do what? Learn wisdom, contextualize the Word of God. So, it's not just things on paper but it's through the narrative of these people's TESTIMONY which then help you learn wisdom, "Oh shoot, I'd better not do that!"

Father's Decision Saved my Life

When I was in high school, all my friends were into drugs and things like that, but God kept me away thanks to martial arts training. I had to physically go to a different dojo; I was in a different dojo. After school I didn't hang out with the kids. Father allowed me to go to a separate dojo, the JKD Thai boxing Kali Eskrima dojo and that's where I first encountered Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu. I was able to separate from the kids my age. In my dojo there were truck drivers, etc.; our main instructors Ron, Kwame and Chris were ALL bouncers, and at night they were doing security for bars. I mean Ron was on his fifth marriage so he didn't hold it together.

But, think about that. I was a young teenager coming from what the world basically sees as a billionaire conglomerate leader's family, since the world sees Father like that. In Korea, they would NEVER send their kids to go hang out with bouncers and freaking truck drivers; they would never, never do that! Korea is like an insane status society, and America is unfortunately becoming like that more and more. Italy and the Catholic world are like that as well.

But think about that. Even if they say Reverend Moon is just a billionaire; he's just a big conglomerate. Why did he let his son go to the dojos where it's all blue-collar people? And it's hardly any kids my age; they're all guys who want to learn how to fight. There are sex felons there that are all tattooed up. You know what I mean? It's a real actual fighting club. So, why is he letting me go there? You know we're learning knife fighting, we're learning stick fighting, we're learning boxing, we're learning Thai boxing, we're learning Jiu-Jitsu and strangling each other. Dojos nowadays are everywhere and they're almost like businesses, but before they were just fighting dojos.

Father allowed me to stay away from the kids my age that just wanted to play, have sex, go to parties, drink and do drugs, sell drugs. A couple of them got busted for that. But God pulled me away; I basically didn't have any fellowship with them. I went to school and then after school went straight to the dojo until nine, ten, eleven at night. That was a HUGE blessing because I could focus and stay away from this wrong fellowship.

And you're in a fighting dojo so of course there are literally no females; I don't remember one female in that dojo unless they're just watching. They're all men and they're way bigger than high schoolers. High schoolers can get big in football but they're kind of fat; they're not developed. Here they're all adults so they're in their twenties and thirties; these guys are all construction workers and bouncers and security guards and police, whatever their background is, but they're all bigger guys, all mature, physically developed. So, now I'm around a totally different breed of people.

And it's not like I'm trying to learn morality from them. I have a specific purpose for learning martial arts from them and skills; that's kind of the nature of the relationship, but I'm still spending six hours of my day. Many times, people who grow up in a white-collar family, their parents don't let them spend time with blue-collar people. There's an internal sort of bias, "Being a blue-collar worker, oh no! That's kind of a lesser job. You guys have to be "educated," you guys got to do the white-collar stuff. The blue-collar work, anybody can do that; you can leave that to the lower IQ people." That's the kind of culture; it's not said but it's implied. The reality is there.

But by me going to the dojos I could hang around with these people and say, "No, these people, in some aspects they're not good; there are aspects I don't want to follow. But there are aspects that are absolutely excellent, like the hard work ethics and the toughness." They're not giving up; they don't complain about stuff. You know what I mean? It's like this mental toughness when you're being physically brutalized. This is a very important thing. Because I was dealing with bullying and we were also getting beaten up by our brother-in-law. So, I said, "No, I'm not going to deal with this anymore! I'm not going to let them physically whoop me like this anymore. I'm going to literally hurt them if they continue to try to do this to me." That's why I wanted to learn how to do REAL martial art, not fake stuff.

But think about it in terms of Korean society. How did Father.... Ah! I mean, it's really unfathomable; all the girls in our family were against it. The Han mother was against it. "These are dirty people. This is the lowest of society," - in their eyes. "Just dirty truck drivers with tattoos and beers, ex-felons and your freaking instructors or bouncers, guarding strippers. What in the hell is this?" Can you believe that folks?

It's incredible. When I reflect back on it, Father's decision saved my life. If I didn't have that outlet to SEPARATE from the kids around me who were into drugs and parties...? I was a prankster so I was very popular in middle school. Once I got into martial arts, I just focused on that; I wanted to keep my purity. But I was very popular so it was getting to the point where if I continued down this route, I was going to have a lot of sex with a lot of girls, and play, just play because I could do that if I wanted. I had the charisma to do that if I wanted.

But God SEPARATED me from that, took me out of that fellowship and put me into a new fellowship. This fellowship was focused; it had a purpose like learning martial art. It didn't have any religious focus, but there was a clear focus to learn skills. The people teaching me those skills came from what would be seen in the Korean society as low lives. Koreans are extremely racist against their own people by the way; I don't know if you know this. Folks don't know this; they're very racist against dirty job workers. Japanese as well.

Blue-Collar vs. White-Collar

But I realized, "No, it's not as easy as saying these blue-collar workers are all low lives. No, I'm learning so much from them; actually, they have a lot of good qualities." For example, some of these blue-collar workers they're WAY more honest than the white-collar workers because the white-collar workers they're networking for money; they're networking to build their asset base, etc., and many times they can bend their rules for stuff. I'm not saying all of them do, but there are many who will just say, "All right, you give me a billion dollars, I'll do it!" Look at how they bought off all the freaking elites in America with hundreds of millions and billions of dollars. They all say, "Okay!" And of course, many of them if they've inherited money, they never hit rock bottom so they're scared of hitting the bottom.

Whereas people on the bottom they're already there; they're not scared of hitting lower since they're already at the bottom. So, they also have a kind of bravery. For example, a lot of the MMA fighters they're not coming from suburban families; they're inner-city urban kids, Italians, Blacks, Latinos. These boys have got nothing so they have nothing to lose and they fight and "If I lose and I get knocked out, it doesn't matter." They have such a bravery when they go out and do something, that I don't see in the white-collar world. They have a different set of bravery.

And many times, they're honest; loyalty is a big thing for them. You don't have money so how do you maintain your relationships? You can't maintain them by leverage of money; you got to maintain them by word of mouth and how loyal you are. Then I can trust you. In the lower society so-to-speak, they're not throwing money around to leverage the relationship.

In the white-collar world if you're coming in with a 100-million-dollars' worth of assets and that guy's coming with the same, well okay we're trying to see how we leverage that against one another playfully in a skillful way to make a contract and work with each other for the time being. But those relationships can quickly be severed.

Working with the white-collar class in Korea, Kook J-Hyung was bringing in guys from Samsung, LG, lawyers, accountants, etc. We were SHOCKED! If they felt, "Oh, this is not so lucrative," they'd quit on the dime. They'd have no qualms about it. They had no loyalty to the organization or to the people; they had no faith obviously. But it was shocking! While we're trying to run this small church, our accountant is saying, "Oh, I'm sorry. I'm going to leave." And you can't just say, "What the hell are you doing? You just started." You're supposed to be "professional" about it. He's done it fifty times and to him it's nothing; he's just moving on to another work, moving on to another opportunity.

But many times, in the lower class, even if you give them a billion dollars, if you tell them to do something that's totally against their values, they won't do it. I'm not saying all of them; some of them will obviously. But there are a lot of people that will say, "F-you! I'm not going to do it. There's no amount of money that will get me to do this." They're also holding each other accountable. Like if you sell out in a bad way, all those other alpha males will be like, "You're a piece of crap," and they will ostracize you. And you don't have anything; you can't leverage money with them. They'll say, "You're a piece of crap! Don't deal with this idiot."

So, at the lower-class level it's all about that respect, and for us that's why it was normal.

Basically everybody around the Han mother was saying:

"Come on! You're staying; the billions are yours." I said:

"What the hell are you talking about? I'm not going to sell out my father! Then you're telling me to wait till my mom dies and then turn all her stuff around. It's so ridiculous! You're telling me to betray both of them. At least I'll be honest and tell her: I'm not going to go down this way. This is betraying Father. I'm not going to help you. I can't help you, Mommy; I love you but I can't help you. I'll pray for you but I can't help you."

That kind of moral principle that allowed me to do that, I did not learn from the private school teachers or tutors. You don't learn that from those people. I literally learned that from freaking bouncers and security guards and freaking ex-felons. You know what I mean? You see how crazy it is? That's literally where I learned that! I wasn't just insulating into the world of white-collar lawyers' families where you do anything for money, "You know the law doesn't allow it, but you can bend it"; this kind of weirdness.

In some sense, in that "lower-class" realm there's a type of honesty because you can't leverage money against each other. You don't have any money so you can't do that. So you have to do it in terms of ostracization and you have to do it in terms of, "that man keeps his word" or "that man is a snake or he's a rat." All this stuff becomes really important. Loyalty, respect, all of those principles become really, really, really important. If you say you're going to work for this guy, you can't just quit and run on to the next lawyer job. In the "professional" world you can do that and all the professional CEOs encounter that on the day-to-day basis.

But in the lower-class realm, it's not that easy because you don't have those avenues of financial leverage. Basically, your reputation is it; that's it. That's all you got, and if you get blackballed by all these people, now you don't have ANY weight to do anything. So, yes there's obviously bad stuff there, but there are also very simple plain principles that exist in the blue-collar world. Since most of the jobs are physical, the men are also very physical in nature. They're big, they're muscular, they lift weights, they want to learn how to fight. So, that's very physical; it's not just cerebral. I'm not trying to demonize cerebral; we need cerebral people too.

Martial Arts Training

But I'm talking about the tendency, especially for Father's Kingship, because that's a position of privilege that Father has anointed us to. That's why for example with Shin-Joon I made sure that he had to do the hard training, physical training too. His natural tendency is intellectual, so he obviously leans towards that; to just do the easier thing in the intellectual realm. It's scarier to get beaten up, scarier to do the hard work of physical things, especially if you don't have to do it. If you don't need to do that for money, or you don't need to do that for anything, and it's literally for the training, it's something that young kids want to avoid if their family has big money. That's why you see psychological illness with over ninety percent of billionaires' children, because they don't make their young kids do HARD STUFF! They just make them go the easy route; just study and get degrees.

They don't make them grind.

They don't make them get beat up.

They don't make them get dominated.

They don't make them get humiliated.

They don't make them get humbled.

The realm of the warrior community will do that to you. As a young man, they will humble you; they will dominate you physically. The first time you will feel like, "Holy crap!" You feel violated; you feel like you've been raped or something: seriously. The first time you get whooped like that, you can't do anything, whatever you try to do. You all know what I'm talking about? You literally feel like, "What the hell just happened? I thought I was somehow tough or something." You just literally feel like you've been raped over and over.

Anyway, people don't understand it, but you understand if you're in the combat arts. It's the most demoralizing, humiliating thing you will EVER encounter. The guy literally can do whatever he wants to you and you cannot do a thing; he literally can snuff you, he can end your life at ANY moment of his choosing- I'm really not exaggerating; I'm really not - and you just feel utterly crushed, utterly crushed, humiliated, demoralized. But it's the best thing that can happen, the best thing to happen in a young person's life. All our young martial artists, they all experience this too. But it DEFINITELY makes you tougher; it definitely raises your ability to encounter, withhold and endure hardship and frustration.

Even Joe Rogan comes out and says, "After Jiu-Jitsu or MMA, anything you do is easier." Joe Rogan's on Spotify talking like that and he's absolutely right. Anything else you do is less intense, ANYTHING! Running a jumping out of parachutes, planes, anything; ANYTHING is less stressful than being utterly brutalized and humiliated and completely dominated by another human being, and knowing you can't do ANYTHING about it. No matter how hard you fight, you literally can't do anything. It's the most devastating emotional thing that can happen. Fortune 500 company,

But young people who go through that, boys and girls, you get tougher; you get a lot tougher and you get grit. If you stick with it, you learn how to grind and you learn how to really overcome. You actually start appreciating it and you actually start getting a taste for that level of training; you start liking it. And you get better, so you don't get brutalized as much.

That's why Father said that from five years old there has to be martial arts training in the Kingdom of God. So, when Shin-Joon comes into ministry and into priesthood, then we will help him and he can be the main instructor for ages 5 to 12, before they enter into the harder training. They'll just do more simple stuff, simple coordination and light sparring stuff as in Taekwondo. You kick from the neck to the waistline, so you learn about distance management, you learn about kicks and you learn about punches. But you don't hit the face, you don't have any head trauma, you don't attack the legs and you don't have lower body injuries, like knee injuries, ACL tears. It's a lot safer but you're learning the basics and you're also developing a mindset of "I have to defend people; I have to defend goodness. I have to defend my life and I have to defend Mommy's life and Daddy's life or my friend's life if I have to."

You start learning the principle of becoming somebody who is bigger than yourself; that it's not only about your pleasure, "Me, me, me! No, I got to help other people. If I have to, I have to use this skill to defend somebody." So, you start learning about a police or military person's mindset. That's what Peace Police and Peace Militia does. You start developing a mindset of being a shepherd, protecting people; being strong but protecting people. Amen!

Don't Burn Bridges

That's why relationships are so important and that's why the fellowship in the church is so critical. As I always tell the young people, you young moms, you young dads, you have to be careful. Young MOMS, listen carefully; young mommies listen carefully. Young queens, you got to listen carefully. DON'T let your children's childish squabbles get you to FIGHT another girl! You understand what I'm saying?

Your CHILDREN are going to fight with each other. That's normal, that's what kids DO; they cry and they fight and they say, "This is mine", and "no, it's mine! It's mine, mine, mine!" Kids do that. You moms have to watch out. Not now your babies are just tiny, but when they become four, five, six, seven, eight years old, now they'll start taking stuff from other kids, "This is mine; I want that," and then they're fighting and they run to Mommy, "Mommy!" And now mommy's not only angry at the other kid, she's now angry at the other kid's mom for not raising her well. DON'T do this! This is very foolish. Don't be that person! Are you with me, young queens? You got to watch out for this. This is coming in the near future. You don't have it now but it's coming in the near future. You got to watch out! Don't let your emotions get tied up when your kids fight. They're going to fight; it's normal. They're going to do STUPID childish things like take stuff from each other and fight about it; that's NORMAL!

But what happens is that the moms take it personally and then they hate the other mom for not raising their kid right, and all they want to do is gossip against her. They NEVER will go up to the mom and say, "Hey, Mommy can I talk to you?" They WON'T DO that! Why won't you do that, girls? You got to do that; that's better. It's better to confront them in a nice loving way and say, "Hey sister I love you, and you know I'm really thankful our kids are of the same age and I understand that it's normal that kids fight. But let's not allow it to get personal between us. I want to pray for you and you pray for me." Hey, that's so much better! Wouldn't that be better?

Wouldn't it be better if they did that? And they can. They can. You girls are not dealing with that yet; your baby's too small, but in three, four, five years you will be dealing with it; that's very soon. So, don't let that hurt your relationship with your other sisters in the community especially other moms. These MOMS are like your critical assets. You may not like that other mom with the kid of the same age as yours, but she's a huge asset to your family. Who knows? Your CHILDREN may even get BLESSED! You don't have control over THAT! Are you with me folks? You never KNOW! That CHILD that you hate and the mom that you hate, that may be the child that one of your children will get blessed to. You don't even know; you never know! Is that true?

So, be wise, be wise, be wise! Don't be stupid! Don't get caught up in emotion. Don't BLAME the mom for the baby being childish. Children do childish things, they do stupid stuff, but that's okay, they're kids. You can easily raise them out of that if you're mature. If YOU are foolish TOO and you're acting as childish as the child now you're going to burn bridges WHICH you don't need to BURN! You have to be very CAREFUL BURNING BRIDGES, folks! Is that true, adult folks? You're successful, you have good relationships; you all noticed. Is this true? Be very careful about the bridges you burn because you may need them at some point.

I remember one guy, some media broadcaster guy, he worked at a pizza shop in high school, and his dad told him, "Hey son, don't burn the bridge with the pizza guy. You never know when you may have to go back and work there." That's a WISE FATHER! You may think, "I don't need a pizza guy; who cares! I can work at Burger King. F-! them! Blah, blah, blah!" No, that's when you're childish. You never know. That pizza guy may end up becoming a franchise owner, may own three, four, five, six businesses. He may have fifty million dollars twenty years down the road, and you may need a little help or investment money in your new business idea, or whatever, and now the pizza guy is back in your life. But hey, you remember what you did to him. Oh, you see how that happens? Now God is going to smack you!

Don't do that! Be wise, be wise; don't be emotional, don't burn bridges quickly. Young kings and queens, give me an amen! (Amen!) Okay, can I get an amen? (Amen!) Okay, here we go. Don't burn bridges quickly; you never know how God will transform them, use them in a different way. You just never know. If you see people that have a bad character and that like burning bridges, don't learn that habit from them. Are you with me folks? Don't learn it; it's not good. It's always better to keep as many bridges operating as possible, because you never know; you never know how God will use that bridge in the future. You just don't know.

Managing Sibling Relationships

So, younger mummies you got to watch out; don't let the devil play with your emotions and make your kids fight, which they will do. It's normal. Look, if you've got siblings, you've got multiple kids, they're going to fight. Does that make you a bad mom? Come on! So why are you giving the same conclusion to that other mom? Your children are going to fight, I guarantee you. Any dad or mom who thinks they're not, you're Mr. Ostrich with the head in the sand. You might as well try out for roadrunner or something like that while the coyote is chasing you, because you don't know what planet you're on. They're going to fight; it's normal.

It's about how you manage them, how you work with them, so that they realize that petty differences are not enough to burn the sibling relationship down. You can use those as opportunities to teach them:

- "Oh no it's okay baby; you had this disagreement with your brother, etc. All right you handle it. Write down what you want to do."

That's what we used to do with the kids especially the boys. They would be:

\" I want to kill him; I want to kill him! I want to rip his head off!"*

-"All right, tell Mommy." Always Mommy would work with them first. If she couldn't deal with it, then the big boss would come in. Then, now you're at the big boss level; now I'm coming in.

For example, we would have them do an exercise. The boys want to fight somebody.

\" Yeah, I hate him; I want to kill him!"* We would make them write.

-"Okay, what do you want to do? Go ahead! You want to cut his head off with an ax? Go ahead! You write it down: I want to cut his hand off with an ax." Or whatever.

-"What do you want to do?"

\"I want to pull his nuts out!"* Or whatever it is.

-"All right, write it down, write it down; okay write it down."

That's what we'd make them do. Why? We're making them objectify their internal feelings. You understand? So, what happens after they write this stupid stuff down? Daddy and Mommy are not freaking out.

-"Okay fine, now let's look at this. Let's see what you wrote. Let's see."

And then you give it to the sibling. They both got to write it and now they got to switch it; now they switch it, and they have to read out what they wrote.

\"I want to pull his nuts out! I want to chop his head off!"* or whatever it is. Now they REALIZE:

\"Man, that sounds kind of stupid; that sounds a little too intense."* They realize they don't want to do that.

So, what is this exercise doing? Young children are stupid and all kids are dumb at that age.

They're not wise; let's put it that way, they're foolish. The Bible calls them foolish which means dumb. So, you're helping them externalize this feeling of anger, "I'm so angry I could chop ..."

Okay, but there's a little more that goes into chopping somebody's head off, because they're not just going to stand there for you to do it. They may fight back, you may trip on a log, you may trip over a dumbbell trying to get them; all sorts of bad stuff can happen in between that makes your goal a little harder. So, it'll make you think through this a little bit AND now your brother does martial arts training so that makes it harder. It's not as easy as you saying, "I want to CUT his head off!" Well, he may cut your head off now; he may defend himself.

So, what is happening? You're helping the young kids externalize their feeling, objectifying it by looking at it and then asking them, "Do you actually really want to do this?" You're not just letting them vent or something like that.

Some parents say, "Okay DO get out then!" and just make the kids fight. That doesn't help understand what's going on. That just helps them feel like, "Ah! My older brother beat me up this time; I'm going to get him next time." It just builds up more anger. You did not help them UNDERSTAND how to work through this pissed off feelings and then how to say, "All right, it's not worth it. I want to keep this bridge open." You did not help them do that; you did not coach them through that. So, now when they hit that in life, and it's not a sibling it's somebody else, they're not going to know how to deal with that and they're probably going to catch a case and go to prison.

You had the opportunity to train the siblings. God gives us opportunities to train the siblings because you can teach them critical principles on how to manage their emotional content so they don't do stupid things, and they think about it. And if you do this, when they get older, they get in the habit of what? THINKING! Even though they feel a certain crappy way or angry way they THINK first. That's what you want to do, right; that's what a mature adult does. We think about stuff first. Is that true? So, when you're training your kids, same thing; we want them to get that kind of habit. Don't worry, as you all get older and your kids get older, then you will be in classes and training, learning about this stuff.

But the point is: don't let your emotions suck you into it. The devil plays in the emotional realm. That's how he tried to get Eve. He tried, "Oh baby, no you're not going to die if you eat that fruit. Baby, listen to me. I'm going to take you on a ride in my Lamborghini and play this music." And he has those beautiful wings and he's shining; he's all diamonded out, he's iced out. He's iced out Lucifer. He plays with your emotions. Don't get sucked in there.

So, moms, it's very important; as your kids grow up don't let the kids' squabbles harm your relationship with your other church sisters. They're also queens in Christ, they're also part of the same Peace Police and Peace Militia. No matter how fast you want to burn these bridges if you're immature, don't be stupid, don't burn them. You can always make it up; if you talk, if you communicate, if you have a Christ-like heart and FORGIVE, things can move forward.

Now, there are crazy people, so sometimes you do have to obviously keep those people at bay; there are some people like that. But WAY too often if you're immature, it's not only with those people that you will cut off bridges, but also with people that are not like that at ALL! So, you need to be able to discern between real toxic people and people who just kind of annoy you a little bit about this or that issue, because that's a totally different thing. Are you with me folks? Are you with me folks? Moms, are you with me?

So, be careful as your kids get older. In the assembly, in the place where God's people gather, everybody's working on different things. You may be higher stats than that family or that man or that lady over there. You may be higher in one element but that person may be higher than you on another element. You don't know when you may need that person's help. You NEVER KNOW, so don't be quick to burn bridges. Amen!

"Let My People Go So They May SERVE Me"

Now, that's the same thing happening in Israel. They don't want to burn the bridge that should be burnt with Pharaoh; he's keeping them in captivity, so that's a bridge they have to burn. But the Israelites are getting comfortable and you can see through all this that they don't want to leave. So, God is starting to choke and snuff out all the options, and excuses. He's saying:

- "No Pharaoh, you too are going to let them go; but Israelites you're going to go with Moses."

*"WHY do we have to GO with MOSES? We're slaves here but at least we can eat meat sometimes and we got fava beans and we got pita bread and we got at least some fires to hang around. We got some hovels and houses and the mud huts. At least we got something. WHY we got to go with this Moses? He KILLED an Egyptian, he's ugly, he stutters, he has no charisma AND he's going to lead us into the wilderness which he knows nothing about. There are all sorts of armies and evil people out there trying to kill us. HOW is this man going to defend us?"

You understand folks, they don't want to go. Is that true? They don't want to go.

Then, God is starting to cut down and close all the doors so they can't make any excuse either. "Pharaoh, you're going to let them go AND Israelites, you're going to go with Moses!" He's cutting them all down; He's taking away everything from them. He's destroying the crop, He's sending the plagues, and of course He's sending miracles, showing them, "Look, I will take care of you; trust me." As God said about Moses through the prophet Isaiah, "Trust him and you will prosper; I'll bring you to the land of Canaan." Now, it takes him FORTY years; that's still a long time.

They went through the whole episode of the Red Sea, they defeated Pharaoh, they were able to get across and now they have forty years of fighting; they have to defeat all these kings and different tribes. The Amalekites are after them very soon after they arrived in the wilderness, so they got all these different armies coming against them, trying to kill them, wipe them out. They're supposed to stay in a cross formation with the Tabernacle in the middle, and they're supposed to keep their center on and worship God. Why?

Because He said, "Let my people go," and what did He say? "So that they may SERVE Me." Not "let my people go so they can become debauched, hedonistic licentious hoers and druggies". No, He didn't say that. He said, "Let my people go so that they may SERVE Me." That means what? That now,

They have to serve a higher purpose.

They have to be accountable to God.

They have to have morality.

They have to have self-discipline.

They have to be able to push away temporary pleasure for long-term future gain.

They have to learn wisdom and discernment between good and evil.

They've got to discern what God likes and what He does not like.

They have to now grow in wisdom.

And that WILDERNESS course gives that, because wilderness is what? It's an environment which is naturally harsh. Especially in their case, you got enemies that are coming against you big time trying to KILL you. The wilderness is the midbar; the midbar is where you encounter the Word of God. The word is dabar; so, the midbar is the place of God's Word because it's a place where you come into real contact.

You lost it all, you went to rock bottom, you don't have anything, you are IN the wilderness; you can't rely on anything now other than God. All you have is faith; that's it. EVERYBODY else hates you, EVERYBODY else condemns you, EVERYBODY else is damning you to fail and die. That's what they did to the Three Kingship; same thing, right. The only thing you have is God's Word and through that His hope.

God gives us all that adversity so that you may develop what? Character! Because as Paul talked about, character develops what? Character develops hope; when you have character you start learning how to have hope. Hope in what? Not just the thing in front of you; hope in what? The future.

Notice, your time frame of focus goes from temporary pleasure NOW, what pleases me NOW, to what will please God in the FUTURE. Now you're living in a totally different universe. You're no longer a beast seeking for the next pleasurable meal or thing to devour, you're now ENDURING temporary starvation or whatever it is metaphorically, so that you may have the land of Canaan down the road.

And of course, that will not be for your own glory, it will be for what purpose? "Let my people go so that they may SERVE Me!" It will not even be for your pleasure. ALL that adversity will not even be for your pleasure in the future; it will be for God's pleasure. You WILLINGLY take on the suffering of that course in the wilderness for His pleasure, and that's love, that's love, that's love. That's the relationship that gives you power and character and WISDOM. So, we must not be afraid of the wilderness. The wilderness is the place of encountering God's Word; it's a training ground.

That's why I think even among all our King Bullethead's songs and raps, a lot of folks connect with "Thank You Father," https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q\_nPZZTf5rY because that's what it's all about. "Thank you for the pain and all the waves and even the betrayals." That's not hard to say by somebody who's been betrayed so heavy, but in the end them betraying me is nothing as big as the Han mother betraying Father. That's ginormous and that's why we predicted there would be a world-level JUDGMENT, AND a microcosmic-level judgment which of course happened.

King Bullethead

Thanks for all the prayers and everybody sharing the videos, etc. We're being massively shadow-banned and we get warnings on every single video; red tags, white tags, yellow tags on each video and every single thing. <https://www.youtube.com/@kingbullethead/videos> Because we just want to talk about True Father and we want to talk about love and we want to talk about sacrifice, and we want to talk about not being hedonistic and licentious, and about having morals and loving your marriage life. You know, dangerous stuff like that!

We were doing analysis of the videos last time. We have normally about a thousand to a thousand three hundred views on Sunday services, but even our lowest rap video "Suddenly Dead" which is heavily banned and has all sorts of warnings from YouTube, even that one has more views than our normal Sunday service. Some of the ones that have pushed a little further on, they have like four times the amount. So actually, out of the King's Report or any other things that we've done for outreach, this seems to be the most useful for now, and hopefully God will use it in a way that is for His purpose. We don't care about the big views. It would be nice if it went viral or something like that, but of course we're talking about capital punishment for pedos, etc., you know things that YouTube giants don't like. You know holding elected officials accountable, stuff like that. You know BAD stuff like that; dangerous, subversive stuff like that! Those kinds of things cannot be pushed out further, and of course they're banned and demonetizing, etc. But just a quick analysis: it's already having about four times more impact, even with all the shadow banning.

We had a nice lunch with Joe of GOA who's no longer the state leader but we were surprised she had watched a whole bunch of the videos already. So, "how did you hear about them?" from people that we didn't even assume. One of our brothers in Florida who works closely with Tom Ryan, I sent him a video saying, "Hey brother you may not have seen these but we're doing some raps; we're doing some different songs. Check them out, see if you like them," and he said, "Bro, I've been watching every single one." I'm like, "WHAT?" All these folks are watching.

A Harvest for God

We just pray that we can have a harvest for God; that's all we want. That's all we want.

We want people to know True Father, know the Returning Christ.

We want people to know Jesus.

We want people to know Providence.

We want people to know the fall.

We want people to become blessed and become coronated as kings and priests.

We want them to leave the slave-of-sin life.

We want them to come into kingship.

We want them to be connected with True Father and the King of Kings and the True Parents, Cheon Il Guk, the Heavenly Kingdom, all this beautiful Constitution, the Peace Police-Peace Militia, all the wonderful incredible things that we encounter and we experience on a day-to-day basis.

We want people to experience the kingdom life. Amen! (Applause) Our prayer is for that.

Thank you for your prayers and of course your shares and retweets and all that kind of stuff, and just your love. In the end we're just trying to bring glory to God. Be on the watch; be on a watch. We got some heavy-hitting stuff coming out. Even the Queen was like, "Man, I don't know if we should release that one. I don't know if you have to release something like that." And I was like, "No, no, it's honest; it's good." Stuff like that is coming down the pipeline; it will make people cry. But it is true, it is real; it's real. In the end we just hope that somebody can get connected, touched by that.

Kook J-Hyung has great ideas. We're going to be making a QR code, kind of like a business card, that we can just hand out to folks, friends. All they do is take a picture of that QR code on the business card and it leads them right to the Rod of Iron Ministries/ music page, and right there you can download. We're going to have it up so you can download the albums. We will probably have twelve to fifteen songs on one album; you can download that. Each song you can download for free and there's a suggested donation of 99 cents per song, to throw a little tip in the bucket. You know what I'm saying? But it's really up to you. If you want to give zero, you can give zero; if you want to give 100 million dollars, that's fine too.

The point is: we're just hoping that this gets out and that people can understand our content quickly, understand the Kingdom culture quickly and get EXCITED about the Principle, dang on it! Because in the end you got to get excited about God's Word; you got to get excited about the Principle, about all these incredible relationships God has given us. How do you operate these relationships; these are key.

You got to learn about the Three Kingship.

You got to learn about the Four Great Realms of heart.

You got to learn about the Four Position Foundation.

You got to learn about the nature of the fall and how important sex is in your marriage.

You got to learn about this stuff and romance in your marriage.

You got to understand this stuff that Father taught, and he gave us such a great Blessing.

You got to understand about the Peace Police-Peace Militia and "love God, love your neighbor."

You got to understand these principles and how to APPLY them in real life.

And become a strong and wonderful shepherd and a king and priest for your family, but also with your neighborhood and your community members. You understand folks? We're all tied in together in the Kingdom of God.

That's why it's important to have wisdom and discernment, have forbearance and have peace that comes within the relationship we have with Christ. Because in the end that is the thing that glues and binds us and holds together the Kingdom which is centered on love and benevolence and virtue and morality and accountability. That's why it's freedom but also responsibility; not freedom to just play. No! Freedom to what? Serve Him!

"Let my people go so that they may what? SERVE Me!"

Let's all pray!

Pastor Sean's Prayer

Father God, we thank You for this beautiful day.

We thank You for the word that You've given us today.

We thank You for ALL the exciting things that are going on in the Kingdom.

We thank You for all the things that are happening around the world.

It seems as if everything is escalating in the war with Russia. The tanks and now the airplanes and more escalation, and now attacks and hypersonic missiles being thrown, and it's more and more disaster.

But we know that this is setting the stage for Your Kingdom to come; for the hearts and minds to be opened up so that they will be RECEPTIVE to Your Word, RECEPTIVE to Your lineage, RECEPTIVE to Your Kingdom and Constitution. So that people may wake up and realize that in the end there's no way out of the crisis, no ways other than the Lord of the Second Advent and his culture and his Kingdom and his love, and it binds and holds us together. It IS the key to the future of the world.

We thank You so much because You're moving SO mightily and so rapidly across this landscape, across the world. But let us always remember that it is through the hardship that we develop character, that we develop hope and hope in the future. And that the future will also be blessed with the Kingdom of God that will cover this world and that will bring FREEDOM to the slaves of sin; FREEDOM to those who are enslaved to Egypt.

FREEDOM! "Let my people go!" So that we can serve Him, we can be responsible with that freedom and protect it and leave it better to our progeny than it was every generation.

We pray and give You all the praise, glory and honor. We thank You for all the kingship lines that have gathered here together with Your Three Kingship. We pray in Your precious name. Amen! Aju! Praise the Lord!

All right folks, let's all rise and give Him the glory! Amen! Praise Him!
