Value and Meaning of the Great Works

When we see that central evil spirits are not properly liberated, it also means that sickness, pain and difficulty are not easily healed as well. That is why True Parents said, "Do a Great Works". All the absolute good spirits will come for the Great Works. All the spirits, including True Father and the members of the True Children will come. That is why their strength is powerful. Because they are powerful all the central evil spirits can be liberated.

Being part of the Changyang team for this weekend's event was life changing for me. I only practiced for 3 days in advance, but still I was able to learn how to do timekeeping and drumming. I had an incredible experience when, on the 1st day of Changyang Yeoksa session my left arm started hurting while I was hitting the big drum. I asked my ancestors for help, and then I saw many spirits, some were hitting the drum with me, some were holding my left arm giving it strength, and others were in the hall moving to the rhythm of my drumming. Seeing this made me happy and gave me the strength to continue. I'm grateful to Heavenly Parent for making this happen.

What an amazing weekend! What a difference it made to have a live CheonBo event and Changyang team here in the United Kingdom. I felt so happy to have come here. My main focus was to liberate my father's younger sister, I felt that she was very happy to be liberated, but I also really felt that this event was for me. I really feel that a new time has come for me and that I want to share about True Parents to the people of this country and I feel that the spirit world wants so much to help us do this and that we have to do it now. I hope that my ancestors and other relatives will help me.

Yesterday during the chanyang, I felt moved whilst thinking that True Father had written this song (Grace of the Holy Garden) in a very low place. I also felt that although there were some blocks/resistances in me towards the chanyang yeoksa, I still wanted to push through with my belief, push beyond my own understanding. I felt I want to be someone who can still show up for God even at my lowest. I also felt moved by the investment of my brother who was in the chanyang team on the drums. With every beat of the drum, I could feel his heart and effort and I began to reflect and feel sorry that I have not been supporting him as well as I should be. I could recognise that he is investing a lot in his life, repent for my failure as his sister and determine to treat him with less judgement and more love. The prayer vigil was very touching for me and I really appreciated the sincere prayers of those who led, and the offering of the band. The music really helped me to break through in my prayer and feel more deeply the heart of God and more sympathetic. I felt more deeply the dream of God which is simply for all people to be together, close in harmony and love. Today during chanyang, I felt a feeling of distance from my physical body and more able to see it as a vessel which originally should be pure and used by God. I felt sorry that also I am God's creation, I must deny my body in order to become more united with God. I felt sorry, but also felt less attached to my physical body and more able to see it as God's instrument. I am very grateful for all the people who invested so much into creating the spiritual atmosphere. I hope I can continue to surpass my own understanding and trust God.

I was not enthusiastic to attend this event. But I am now very glad that I attended. The intensity of the workshop did inspire me. It made me feel I need to do more each day to connect to Heavenly Parent. On Sunday I felt I needed to do more to connect with my liberated and Blessed ancestors, and the need to work with them to inspire our two sons to do more for Heavenly Parent. I am very grateful for this workshop and I wish the team great success in their work.

I would like to share the power of the Hyojeong Offering paper. In early 2022 my eldest daughter had a dispute with her younger brother. Both of them refused to make up and broke off ties with one another. Since then we could not have a family gathering with all the members of the family. I had to meet with either my daughter or my son, which saddened me, as we always had family gatherings in the past. Then I started offering Hyojeong offering papers, one after another, whenever it was possible. Nothing happened. I did not give up. I told myself that I had to be patient and that my husband who is in the spirit world is also helping the children reconcile. Spirit World is working. Then a miracle happened, they decided to make up all of a sudden. Since then, I have been so happy to see them together again and my grandchildren playing together like they used to do before their parents broke communication. We have been having family gatherings all together quite often. Thank you Heavenly Parents so much that there is now harmony and love in the family instead of discord and resentment. It brings so much joy to my heart. Even my relationships with my children have improved by leaps and bounds. As I was away from home working in a foreign country, I could not establish a good parent-child relationship with my three children since their teenage years. Heavenly Parents is giving me a second chance through the grace of the Hyojeong Offering papers. Kamsahamnida, Saranghamnida Chambomonim.

During the resonance prayer when we shouted “Aboji, Omoni”, I felt connected to Heavenly Parent as he is both a Mother and a Father.

I felt God showed me the image of a rich, posh man who works in a bank and God said: “He is my son, I created him, I love him, when you see him, you see me.” Then God showed me a street person sitting on the floor, scruffy and smelly with a bottle of wine, and God said: “I created him, I love him. When you see him, you see me.” I realized when we see another person it does not matter if they are rich, poor, educated or tough. God created each one as his image and God loves each one. It doesn't matter how humble or sad or miserable or arrogant and wealthy. God loves everyone, we shouldn't judge anyone. Everyone is an extension of ourselves. If I judge other people I offend God, because God created them and loves them. Jesus said “If you have no sin, throw the first stone.” The message was “Love the person you are with.” Tolstoy said:” The most important person is the person you are with, next to you. The most important thing is to do that person good and the most important time is now.” We are all one. If we love another person it's like loving God because God created that person and God loves that person deeply. I then saw the landscape of the CheonBo Training Center, and I felt the beauty of the flowers and the trees and how appreciating, caring for Nature is like loving God who created ourselves. My husband is in the Spirit World for the last 2 ½ years. I feel his presence in our family, when good things happen, I feel he is guiding us. He loves me and my children and loves us.

As I had experienced previously, Cheonshim Won Prayer hall makes me understand people's hearts. I wanted to understand one particular person and I was praying in Cheonshim Won. I actually felt that person's pain in my heart and I could feel her heart and tears flowing from my eyes. It was a moving moment. Cheonshim Won is always my favorite place and always answers my questions and requests. This time I could attend with my husband and have Special Prayer time together. I really felt I was in the Korea CheonBo Training Center and that I didn't want to leave.

Thank you very much Heavenly Parents and True Parents! I love you!

One sister who is opened spiritually saw that during the Chanyang Yeoksa session Jesus came to me and put his hand over my head. I want to express my deep appreciation to the Cheonbo Branch team and the young people who led the Chanyang Yeoksa session. They all worked very hard and with a lot of love. I felt so much love spiritually during the programme, my body felt hot with energy pulsing all over. I felt very high spiritual beings were present- True Father, True Children, and Jesus. I felt spiritually uplifted, cleaner and charged with new energy and determination to work to help True Mother fulfil the Blessing goal for Humankind, and I am finding it easier to pray and to centre on Heavenly Parents. Thank you very much.

Thank you beloved True Parents!
