

Inspiration from my Walking Meditation - 9/22/2021

Jackson Bowman
September 22, 2021

If a hummingbird, with its tiny little brain can remember where to go get nectar, which flowers it has already been to, which flowers will have renewed their nectar and go once again to them the next day--- if a hummingbird with this minuscule brain can do that, how about us? How about the human beings brain? We are not as omniscient or as omniscient as a hummingbird is in many respects. How sad that is!

However the positive point about this is that, as human restoration advances and the dark vibrations of the earth are removed, we can expect to be way more omniscient and omniscient than a hummingbird. We can also ask Heaven and the Spirit World to activate our clairsentience and our omniscience. When we feel God's suffering we are feeling through our omniscience. We are feeling the pain of the world through our omniscience as the God of Darkness (the Messiah). Fortunately, in a positive way, it's possible to focus our omniscience, through appreciation and gratitude, such that we can experience the Kingdom of Heaven. By having gratitude for every thing, every single living thing and every single human being we can experience bliss. The bliss of Heaven!

Don't forget, every single human being is participating in Returning Resurrection, consciously or unconsciously. So each person is doing their very best to resolve the sins and mistakes of the past, the sins of ancestry, ethnic group or nation--- no matter what, without escape, those problems in the form of temptations are coming to them so that they can be resurrected and the sinners in the spirit world can be resurrected. If and when they are successful it benefits them, but it also benefits you and your family and those who you hold dear, as well as every other person on the earth. What this means is that every person you see or think about is working to make your life better so you should be grateful for them. Every Person!

Also remember, "There but for the grace of God, go I." Be so thankful that the person you see chose the karma that they are struggling to resolve, prior to their incarnation, so that you wouldn't have to do it. Be assured, there are many people dealing with way more difficult karma than you. Thank them! It's

When you look at people you may be aware that they are having difficulty to resist temptation and be victorious in returning resurrection. Don't judge them. Pray for them and forgive them and then forget that you forgave them and why. Once you forgive them, try to see them from the God of Daylight point of view. Focus and have give-and-take action with the perfection of their Original Mind and Heart.