

The Origin of God & the Universe

Henry Christopher
June 29, 2012

Scientists say that the universe is made of energy, and that it originated from energy. But this is not so. An electric current does not flow just because there is potential energy. Electricity is generated through action. And before action, there must be a plus and a minus — that is, a subject partner and an object partner.

— Sun Myung Moon 1/3/1971

The more love moves, the more it expands, rather than diminishes. According to the laws of dynamics in nature, the more things move and operate, the less you have, right? In nature, things diminish the more they move, but in the world of true love, things expand the more they move.

— Sun Myung Moon 11/13/1992

At the 1st Annual UTS Graduates Alaska Workshop, Father asked a small group of graduates gathered at his house in Anchorage after the workshop if they had any questions. Linda Howell '80 said her two daughters were always asking her where God came from, so she asked this question to Father. His reply: "Before God, there was Love."

— 9/9/1996

The Origin of God

*Something cannot come from nothing, therefore, "in the beginning" there was one.

One unit of plus and minus in relationship with each other.

*This one unit of plus and minus also contained the elements of consciousness, in that the plus and minus were aware of each other and the motion and energy they created—which we will call Love. This energy we will call Universal Prime Energy, can be understood as the internal character of the unit, while the plus and minus or subject and object partners as the external form of the unit. Thus, Spirit did not come from matter, nor did matter come from spirit. They both are eternal in the first unit of plus and minus. The relationship was one of unity, harmony and love.

Characteristics of first unit of plus, minus

- *Action of +, - create energy of Love
- *Love; + gives to -, - gives to plus
- *Love is internal character
- *+ and - are external form
- *+, - have consciousness of each other

*The relationship of this first subject and object partnership was held together by this energy of Love, where the plus gave some of its energy to the minus, and the minus gave some of its energy to the plus. As the energy created by this relationship grew and reached a critical level, a new plus and minus were created, and united by the same action of Love. Then there were two, then four, then eight and so on, and as they multiplied and expanded, so to did the Energy of Love.

*As the units of subject and object partners grew, so did the collective consciousness of these units grow, until the number of units reached a critical mass, and God was born from Love and is Love. God's consciousness could feel—"I am."

*"This original first energy of the universe being Love energy is the source of energy in the creation of the universe. As such, when God created the physical universe through the Big Bang Theory as scientists explain, God ensured that the universe would be eternal, since the energy of love continues to grow as it expands and can never diminish. Therefore, the fear that the universe will eventually run out of energy and implode on itself by the force of gravity is unfounded.

God's Concept and Development of the Five Senses

*After God was born, He became aware of His make up, meaning He came into existence through the multiplication of subject and object relationships, which contained all the essential elements of the character and nature of God. God experienced the explosive power of Love, multiplying through this interaction of units of + and -, which began to rotate and revolve around themselves. He experienced this and it was good.

*"God began to experiment with changing the speed of rotation and revolution of these units, as well as the angles and direction of their movement. That created different "sensations" which God could experience, which made Him "feel" good.

*God began to classify various spectrums of sensations He was experiencing, until He had five different classes of sensations, each with its own spectrum or variations according to the different groupings of +, - units, and the speed, angle and direction of the forces which He manipulated.

*God then was able to conceive of a fundamental form that would be able to incorporate these 5 classes of sensations as both transmitters and receptors of those sensations.

*That essential form is the bodies of man and woman, who God needed to create in order to have a partner of love. God planned to divide Himself into man and woman, just as the prototype first unit of subject and object divided and multiplied. The result would be the relationship of love between Man and Woman, which when they united, would become the ideal partner for God.

*The transmitters and receptors of the five classes of sensations became the ears, eyes, nose, skin (for touch) and mouth, which houses the voice transmitter and the taste receptors.

*God could now create infinite variations of the human body, in plants, fish, animals, insects, etc. to populate the world of his partner, man and woman.