

Hyung Jin Nim inherited the course of Hyun Jin Nim and faces challenges even more extreme than his elder brother

Tom Cutts
March 3, 2015

Restoration is so complex and each one of us faces challenges to overcome. Central figures of the providence face even more extreme difficulties of the heart. And when one central figure fails his course, the course inherited by the next central figure is even more difficult. Clearly, Hyung Jin Nim (H2) has inherited the course of Hyun Jin Nim (H1), his elder brother, and Hyung Jin Nim faces challenges even more extreme than those of his brother.

With the rise of the Global Peace Festivals, many members assumed Hyun Jin Nim, would inherit the leadership after True Father's passing. Then True Father asked Hyun Jin Nim to stay by True

Father's side for one year, but Hyun Jin Nim couldn't do that. The team around Hyun Jin Nim said True Father was senile and being manipulated by others. Later Rev. (Takeru) Kamiyama, a respected Japanese elder, abandoned True Father to support Hyun Jin Nim.

Hyung Jin Nim, or Hyun Jin Nim, and his wife were anointed by True Parents three times to succeed True Father and True Mother, and Hyung Jin Nim affirmed that when True Father passed, True Mother would be in charge with a council of True Children and a council of Elders advising her.

After True Father's passing, however, it seems Hyung Jin Nim inherited the course of his elder brother, Hyun Jin Nim. And with that course all the heartistic challenges faced by Hyun Jin Nim. True Mother asked Hyung Jin Nim to stay with her in Korea. However, the team around Hyung Jin Nim says that True Mother is being manipulated by others. And now, Mrs. (Yasue) Erikawa, a respected Japanese elder, has sided with Hyung Jin Nim.

If it weren't so tragic, it would be intriguing how history repeats itself.

Honestly, I don't know of any mortal man or woman, except True Father, who could succeed at the courses set before Hyun Jin Nim and now, Hyung Jin Nim. I know I couldn't. I am certainly in no position to judge anyone and how they manage their course of restoration, and certainly not any of the True Children.

The True Children are extremely gifted, and genuine gifts to humanity. If they could stand together with True Mother, and apply their spiritual, artistic, diplomatic, organizational and entrepreneurial talents, the world and all humankind could be quickly restored. And we would see a living example of a True Family.