Nestled in the tranquil, sunlit landscapes of Neumühle in Camberg, the annual German Children Workshop, KIVI, brought together nearly 50 young participants aged 4 to 11 from August 1 to 4 for an unforgettable summer retreat. Centered around the inspiring theme "Connected in Heart," the four-day event transformed the nature-filled sanctuary into a bustling hub of laughter, discovery, and community.

Each morning began with lively, spirit-lifting sessions that set a cheerful tone for the day ahead. The children then dove into a rich variety of activities, balancing high-energy sports with hands-on creative workshops that let their imaginations soar. A central highlight of the event was the highly anticipated Challenge Day, where collaborative games and problem-solving quests tested their teamwork, sparking new friendships and deepening mutual trust among the campers.

The serene environment of Neumühle, paired with the tireless dedication and warmth of the staff, created an inviting, joy-filled atmosphere where every child felt valued. By the close of the workshop, the young participants departed with more than just fond memories - they left with enriched hearts, deeply inspired to strengthen their bonds with nature, with one another, and with God.
