

Colorado Family Church: Tomorrow's Service and COVID Note from Headquarters

Michael and Adonia Hentrich
November 14, 2020

Dear family,

We look forward to seeing you tomorrow for Sunday Service. Pastor Mike has prepared a message related to True Children's Day, since we will be celebrating that Holy Day tomorrow. As Denver continues to mandate more restrictions due to COVID, we expect that we will not be able to have service for too much longer. We will let you know if and when that happens.

On a related note, our national church headquarters also sent us a memo on guidelines for gatherings. The new information is as follows: "As some of our local churches have begun to hold in-person gatherings, we send this reminder of guidelines issued for our local communities, along with a new addition of requesting that masks be worn by all attendees throughout the gathering. The mask wearing is our mandated HSA/ Family Federation policy, regardless of whether such action is called for by local health guidelines."

Last week, Pastor Adonia shared a message on why true love seeks to love our enemies. To be a person of God means to embrace those that are different than us, to seek to heal hurts and right wrongs, to love our family members that we avoid and those we don't like to be around. It was a very deep and timely message. If you missed it, you can watch the recording below.

Loving Your Enemy